

Castro Calls for Revolts In 'Imperialistic' Countries

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro yesterday called for the Communist world to heal its rifts and for revolutionaries of the Western Hemisphere to rise up in violent upheaval against what he termed imperialism.

In a fiery speech that began Tuesday night he sounded his most aggressive demand yet for revolution in Latin America.

He told hundreds of women, mostly from Latin America, who have been meeting here for the past five days:

"It is the masses who make history and to make history it is necessary to bring the masses to battle. We don't deny the possibility of a peaceful transition although we are still awaiting the first case."

IT IS the duty, he declared, of revolutionary leaders and organizations to "set the masses going, to combat."

That was what was done in Algeria that is what is going on in South Viet Nam, and, he went on, if Cuba had waited for a peaceful revolution it still would be ruled by Fulgencio Batista, the ousted president.

"It is necessary to throw the masses into the struggle with correct methods and tactics," Castro added as his audience applauded wildly.

Castro did not mention Red China or the Soviet Union by name, but he said it was lamentable that differences have arisen in the Communist camp.

"THE LIBERATING movement is fighting in Latin America," he said, "and this fight needs all the united forces of the Socialist revolution."

Divisions, he went on, made Cuba's position all the more difficult because "in the first place, it is the fundamental target of imperialism."

"I mean that for us the crisis of the Caribbean is not resolved," he said. "War is averted but the peace is not won. Our problem today is how to create all we require to satisfy our necessities."

"THIS IS NOT easy to do with the claws of imperialism over us, with the incessant hostility of the most powerful and aggressive imperialistic nation in the world."

He said Cuba had no intention of "throwing wood on the fire" of the Communist split, but felt its duty was to fight for the camp's unity.

Castro renewed demands that the United States give up its Guantanamo naval base and again declared he will never accept arms inspection.

Congress To Consider JFK's Proposed Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sends to Congress today his new budget that is expected to call for an unprecedented $99 billion in spending.

Tied to his plan for tax cuts aimed at spurring the nation's economy, the budget is expected to recommend outlays exceeding federal income by more than $10 billion during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

This is likely to mean that both the budget and the administration's three-year tax cutting program will run into trouble from members of Congress who insist that the budget ought to be balanced or nearly so.

THE TAX program, which Kennedy unveiled in his State of the Union message Monday without giving details, is expected to slice about $6 billion off tax receipts in the next fiscal year.

Kennedy made a brief reference to the budget in his State of the Union message. He said the new budget will allow for "needed rises in defense, space and fixed interest charges." But he said it will hold "total expenditures for all other purposes below this year's level."

To do this, the President said, he will call for the reduction or postponement "of many desirable programs," plus payroll and other economies.

AS IN MOST years of recent history, the biggest slice of the spending proposals will be for military defense programs. Some of the increase can be expected to be accounted for by the rapidly expanding space exploration program as America steps up its efforts to reach the planets.

A $10-billion deficit would compare with the estimated deficit of nearly $8 billion of the current year with its estimated $93.7 billion outlay.

A $10-billion deficit, however, would still be below the peacetime record of $12.4 billion incurred under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958-59.

Khrushchev Warns Red China To Accept Plan for Expansion

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev warned the balky Communist Chinese to get into line with the rest of the Red World and accept Moscow's blueprint for expansion if they want to remain in the Soviet camp.

In a highly emotional speech yesterday before a gathering of Communist leaders from 70 countries, the Soviet leader delivered a sizzling rebuttal of Peking charges that he knuckled under in fear of the nuclear might of the United States.

Declaring that his policies averted war and saved communism in Cuba, Khrushchev outlined the horrors of a nuclear conflict between the United States and the Soviet Union.

In turn, he said the Soviet 100-megaton bomb was so powerful it could be used only on overseas targets, because if dropped in Western Europe it would hit back at Communist-bloc nations. By overseas targets presumably he meant the United States.

RANGING FREELY over the international scene, Khrushchev again called for West Berlin to be turned into a free city under U.N. guarantees. Western garrisons could remain for a time. He asserted the Communists did not need West Berlin now that it was sealed off by the Red wall.

The premier called for a German peace treaty that "will not bring gains to one side and losses to the other." But at the same time he predicted communism some day will triumph throughout divided Germany.

At times Khrushchev was pleading, at times threatening, in his address to 2,500 delegates and guests at the East German party congress in East Berlin.

His 2½-hour speech was, on the whole, an elaborate defense of his policies and his claim to leadership of the Communist world, which now appears challenged by Red China's Mao Tze-tung.

NOT ONCE did Khrushchev mention the Red Chinese by name, but there was no mistaking whom he meant by "some people" when he tore into those supporting the views of the Albanian Communist leaders.

Khrushchev tartly rejected Red China's demand for a top-level meeting of world Red leaders to thrash out the Peking-Moscow differences on how world Communist domination should be achieved.

That will come, said Khrushchev, only when the Chinese decide to stop calling names and get down to brass tacks. He put it this way: "Some say one should call a meeting of all fraternal parties to settle our differences."

Talks on Katanga To Begin Today

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Brass talks on Katanga's surrender is due to start today in Elisabethville, with peaceful entry of U.N. troops into Kolwezi as the most immediate issue.

The United Nations announced yesterday it has received word through diplomatic channels that President Moise Tshombe will return to his capital from Kolwezi, his last stronghold in secessionist Katanga, 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

A U.S. official will meet him. A U.N. spokesman in New York said it probably will be George Sherry, No. 2 man of the Elisabethville staff.

The first order of business, the spokesman said, will be the movement of U.N. troops into Kolwezi. Then, he said, sessions can begin with Tshombe on steps to carry out Secretary-General U Thant's Congo reunification plan.
