

Peace Corps Exam Set for Next Week

A six-hour examination for persons interested in service with the Peace Corps will be given for the first time this year at 8:30 a.m., Jan. 26 in the State College Post Office.

Persons who wish to take the test and already have applications on file with the Peace Corps will be given preference since only a limited supply of the examinations will be available, officials said recently.

PEACE CORPS applications are available on request by writing to Peace Corps, Washington 25, D.C.

Those taking the test now will most likely be considered to train for projects which will get under way this summer, officials said.

There are presently 4,500 volunteers in training or overseas now, a four-fold increase over the number of Peace Corpsmen in January 1962.

The number of overseas Peace Corps volunteers is expected to double by August bringing the total to 9,000.

Legislation to establish a domestic Peace Corps for this country will be introduced in Congress within a few weeks.

The recommendation to establish this new program came after a cabinet level committee investigating the feasibility of the proposal reported favorably to President Kennedy.

THE VOLUNTEERS in this domestic program would serve as social workers and aides in substandard living areas. They would also work in mental hospitals, migrant labor camps, Indian reservations and urban recreation centers.

Between 2,000 and 5,000 domestic Peace Corps volunteers each serving two years, are foreseen for the initial phase of the program once it is established.

In the proposed plan, communities would outline a specific need and program on which volunteers would work in that area. The areas would also be expected to pay about one-third of the cost of the project.

Court Sentences Two Sophomores

One student was jailed and another fined upon conviction of burglary and transporting stolen goods worth more than $1,000 from McAllister on Oct. 27.

Jon F. Jacobs (5th-arts and letters-Carlisle) and Sidney S. Hirshberg III (5th-engineering-Carlisle) pleaded guilty to the charges before Judge R. Paul Campbell in Centre County Court at Bellefonte on Dec. 28.

Jacobs admitted taking two tape recorders and a record player valued at $434.50 and $600 worth of clothing, microscopes, slide rules and stop watches from McAllister. Campbell sentenced him to three to six months in jail plus court costs and restitution.

Hirshberg, who was convicted of being an accessory after the fact by transporting the stolen goods, was fined $250 plus costs and restitution.

The court turned over to the University restitution checks totaling $629.50.

INFERIORITY CAN BE FUN

The second gravest problem confronting college students today is inferiority feelings. (The first gravest problem is of course, the recent outbreak of moult among sorority house canaries.) Let us today look into the causes of inferiority feelings and their possible cures.

Psychologists divide inferiority feelings into three principal categories:

1. Physical inferiority.
2. Mental inferiority.
3. Financial inferiority.

(A few say there is also a fourth category: ichthyological inferiority—a feeling that other people have prettier fish—but I believe this is common only along the coasts and in the Great Lakes area.)

Let us start with the feeling of physical inferiority, perhaps the easiest to understand. Naturally we are inclined to feel inferior to the brawny football captain or the beautiful homecoming queen. But we should not. Look at all the people, neither brawny nor beautiful, who have made their marks in the world. Look at Napoleon. Look at Socrates. Look at Caesar. Look at Lassie.

We are inclined to feel inferior

What I mean is that you can't always tell what's inside a package by looking at the outside. (Sometimes, of course, you can. Take Marlboro Cigarettes, for example. Just one glance at that jolly red-and-white package—so bright and pert—so neat but not gaudy—so perfectly in place whether you are at a formal dinner or a beach picnic—so invariably correct for any time, clime, or condition—one look, I say, at this paragon of packs and you know it has to contain cigarettes of absolute perfection. And you are right! That pure white Marlboro filter, that fine, flavorful blend of Marlboro tobaccos, will give you a smoke to make the welkin ring, whatever that is. So those of you who have just been sitting and admiring your Marlboro packs since the beginning of the semester, why don't you open a pack and light one? Light a cigarette, I mean—not the package. Then you can settle back and smoke your Marlboro and, at the same time, continue to gaze rapturously at the pack. Thus you will be twice as happy as you are if that is possible.)

But I digress. Let us turn now to the second category—mental inferiority. A lot of people think they are dumber than other people. This is not so. It must be remembered that there are different kinds of intelligence. Take, for instance, the classic case of the Sigafos brothers, Claude and Sturbridge, students at Wake Forest. It was always assumed that Claude was the more intelligent just because he knew more than Sturbridge about the arts, the sciences, the social sciences, the humanities, and like that. Sturbridge, on the other hand, was ten times smarter than Claude when it came to tying granny knots. But no matter; everybody looked down on "Stupid Sturbridge," as they called him and looked up at "Clever Claude," as they called him. But who do you think turned out to be the smart one when their granny almost got loose and ran away? You guessed it—good old Stupid Sturbridge.

We arrive now at the final category, financial inferiority. One way to deal with this condition is to increase your income. You can, for example, become a fence. Or you can pose for a life class, if your college is well heated.

But a better way to handle financial inferiority is to accept it philosophically. Look on the bright side of poverty. True, others may have more money than you have, but look at all the things you have that they don't—debts, for instance, and hunger cramps.

And what about friendship? You don't need money to have friends, and let me tell you something, good people: the older you get the more you will realize that nothing is so precious as friendship, and the richest man in the world is the one with the most money.
