

Moratorium May Be Declared Today In NCAA-AAU Rivalry

NEW YORK (AP)—A moratorium on boycotts, suspensions or other disciplinary measures against athletes probably will be declared today when representatives of the warring AAU and NCAA begin arbitration talks with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"The athletes themselves should not be penalized during this period that we are trying to clear up this mess," one high-placed spokesman said yesterday. "I imagine one of the first moves of the general will be to get the boys back on the tracks."

At the direction of a concerned President Kennedy, MacArthur will meet with hand-picked representatives of the rival factions in an effort to end the long and bitter conflict for control of amateur sports which is jeopardizing the U.S. performance in the Olympic Games.

"We don't anticipate a quick settlement," said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU. "These talks could drag on for days."

If so, it seems certain that the nation's athletes, collegiate and unattached, will be free to operate without fear of retaliation either from the Amateur Athletic Union or its new rival, the U.S. Track and Field Federation, backed by the NCAA.

How Fast Can You Read?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of rapid reading which should enable you to double your reading speed and yet retain much more. Most people do not realize how much they could increase their pleasure, success and income by reading faster and more accurately.

According to this publisher, anyone, regardless of his present reading skill, can use this simple technique to improve his reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, textbooks, technical matter, it becomes possible to read sentences at a glance and entire pages in seconds by following this method.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the easy rules for developing rapid reading, the company has printed full details of its interesting self-training method in a new book, "Adventures In Reading Improvement," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply send your request to: Reading Program, 835 Diversey Pkwy., Dept. 3757, Chicago 14, Ill. A postcard will do.
