

U.S. Foreign Policy Called 'Ineffective'

By STEVE CIMBALA

Recent American foreign policy, under both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations, frequently has been ineffective at promoting the nation's best interests, Dr. Milnor Alexander, professor of political science, told members of the International Relations Club last night.

Specifically, she said, problems in Latin America, Southeast Asia and even Europe have been alleviated little by present foreign policies.

One reason for this, she continued, is that it is virtually impossible for the United States to formulate and implement a concrete, yet flexible, foreign policy that will be equally effective in all areas of the world.

DR. ALEXANDER said she felt that most ideas about American foreign policy could be grouped into three principal viewpoints.

The first of these, she said, is the "realistic" outlook, whose proponents believe that Communism is the major threat both to our society and to the world community as a whole.

Advocates of this line of reasoning feel that most of the world's serious political problems could be solved by preserving and expanding the free world along lines dictated by and patterned after the United States, she said.

The second viewpoint, she continued, is the so-termed "socialist" concept, which defines most international problems as results of the "monopoly capitalism" which "afflicts" the world.

Their nostrum for world ills, she said, is that any nation must predicate foreign policies upon welfare for all socio-economic classes within the nation.

SHE SAID the third principal outlook concerning foreign policy is popularly classified as the "idealistic" viewpoint.

Spokesmen for this theory contend, she said, that the world's major difficulties lie in the preponderance of poverty, disease, and illiteracy among the world's underdeveloped nations.

These "idealists" believe that countries must work cooperatively to eliminate such ills, even if they must forego their national interests to do so, she added.

In sum, she said none of these classifications is itself an absolute panacea for world problems. Rather, she said, experts should study such problems with the merits of all three viewpoints in mind.

Deadline Set For Submitting UN Proposals

Delegates to the University's Model United Nations General Assembly may submit resolutions for discussion by the assembly's committees any time before next Thursday at the Hetzel Union desk, Carol Hoffman, chairman of the project's steering committee, said yesterday.

The Model U.N. which will include over sixty-six student groups representing the world's nations, will begin Friday, Feb. 1. It is being sponsored by the Liberal Arts Student Council.

Miss Hoffman added that delegates can also obtain copies of previously submitted resolutions at the HUB desk.

THESE resolutions, she said, will be the raw materials used by the Model U. N.'s five principal committees to mold their final proposals. The final proposals will be voted upon by the entire assembly Sunday, Feb. 3, concluding the weekend's activities.

In addition, she said that she and Robert Lefcourt, secretary-general for the model assembly, will appear on television at 4 p.m. Tuesday over Channel 10, WFBG, Altoona, to discuss prospects for the upcoming assembly.

Wyland To Attend Board Meeting, Will Discuss Voluntary ROTC Plan

By ROCHELLE MICHAELS and WINNIE BOYLE

Come rain, sleet or more snow, Miss Mary Jane Wyland, the only female member of the Board of Trustees, will leave today for the Board's three-day meeting in Harrisburg.

Miss Wyland is a member of the Board's Committee on Student Affairs, which will discuss the proposed voluntary Reserve Officer Training Corps program today and tomorrow, before it is presented to the Board as a whole on Saturday.

Miss Wyland, an appointee of the Governor, described the atmosphere of a Trustees' meetings as very "normal and friendly."

SHE SAID practically all proposals which come before the Board are approved, some with slight modifications. Many questions are asked, she said, and one could expect disagreement but not "violent opposition."

Reflecting on her past two years as a trustee, Miss Wyland described it as "all kinds of fun." She spoke of her male colleagues as successful, educated men, interested in education, who make an interesting meeting.

Although Miss Wyland has sat on many committees in her career, she said she has never been on one where the attendance has been better, nor where the members have been more interested than the Student Affairs Committee.

MISS WYLAND had broad experience in University affairs in the years preceding her appointment to the Board of Trustees. She taught secondary education courses for 30 years and spent several years on the University Senate.

After the last session of the Board on Saturday afternoon, Miss Wyland will return to her State College home and pick up where she left off in one of the many books she reads weekly.

Best thing for a cold shoulder is mink.

HERB'S BARBER SHOP
At the Top of the Hill
On South Allen Street

BREAKFAST SPECIAL
2 Eggs—Any Style
3 Strips Bacon
Toast & Jelly 39c
Coffee Free
Rea and Derick
121 S. Allen St.

AUTO PARTS and ACCESSORIES
Western Auto
112 S. FRAZIER ST.
AD 7-7992

Save! Save! Save!
PRE-INVENTORY SALES

SAVE $5.00 on MEN'S ORLON PILE LINED ALL WEATHER COATS
Regularly $24.98
SALE 19.98

Wash 'n Wear Poplin — 65% Dacron Polyester, 35% Cotton. Warm Zip-in or out Orlon Pile Lining. Slash Pockets. Buy Now & Save.

Danks & Co
STATE COLLEGE

Come tonight!
Learn how your organization can publicize its activities.
Everyone welcome at the
PUBLICITY WOKSHOP
Information about:
The Daily Collegian, WMAJ, WDFM, Bulletin Board Displays, Mall Banners
Thursday, Jan. 24 7 p.m.
124 Sackett

HILLEL FOUNDATION
Presents
by Popular Request — Encore Performance

Geula Gill
and the
ORANIM ZABAR
Israeli Folksingers
SATURDAY, JANUARY 26
8:15 p.m.
Tickets on sale at Hillel and at the HUB Desk
Hillel Members—$1.50 Non-Members—$2.00
HILLEL FOUNDATION
224 LOCUST LANE AD 7-2408

The Fall 1962 Pledge Class of
DELTA CHI FRATERNITY
Invites All
RUSHEES and THEIR DATES
to a JAMMY
with Lou Chic and The Chics
FRIDAY — JAN. 25h
9 'til 12 o'clock