

Powell To Attempt To Quiet Clay In Heavyweight Battle Tonight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—While conceding Cassius Marcellus Clay "has great boxing potential," Charley Powell sees characteristics of his wife and an actor in the unbeaten, incessantly chattering young heavyweight.

Powell, a former defensive football end for the San Francisco 49ers, tries in a 10-rounder tonight to burst the noisy bubble in which the irrepressible Cassius is floating toward a crack at Sonny Liston's crown.

Clay is a 4-1 favorite to win his 17th consecutive bout and strengthen his image as the best thing that's happened to boxing since gloves.

The Louisville filibuster, just turned 21, arrived in Pittsburgh a week ago and hasn't stopped talking, but that doesn't faze Powell, once ranked the sixth best heavyweight.

"I'm a married man, and I get that all the time, so that doesn't bother me," the San Diego fighter said as he finished preparations for the match.

"It's just like acting," he continued. "An actor becomes famous in a certain type role, and he tends to play this role even when he isn't acting. He (Clay) is beginning to live this."

Actually, the effervescent Clay has appeared in one movie, "Requiem for a Heavyweight," but his speaking role was limited to about three words.

Of Clay's 16 fights, 13 have ended in knockouts. Powell has knocked out 17 of his 32 opponents while winning 23, losing six and drawing three. He has been knocked out five times.

Continuing his unbelievably successful practice of predicting in which round the fight will end, boxing's Ogden Nash has given Powell three rounds.

Little To Defend Frisco Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gene (The Machine) Littler opens defense of his title in the $50,000 San Francisco International Golf Open today hoping the putting cog is well oiled again.

The machine sputtered the past two tournaments as Little failed to shoot low enough to qualify for the final rounds at San Diego and in the Bing Crosby event.

He'll have to shoot better, in facing a field of 149 pros including such big names as Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Bill Casper, who already have posted 1963 victories.

Palmer won the $9,000 first prize at Los Angeles, missed the San Diego Open and then was disqualified at the Crosby when he broke a rule. That infraction also broke Palmer's consecutive in-the-money string at 47 tournaments.

PLAYER, the South African who won here in 1961, tops the 1963 money list with $9,440 after winning at San Diego and winding up in a five-way tie for second at the Crosby.

Casper captured the Crosby by one stroke with a 285 for 72 holes and has collected $8,308 already this month.
