

Physics Still Seeks Permanent Head

A permanent head for the Department of Physics is still being sought, John J. Gibbons, acting head of the department, said Monday.

There is currently a list of 10 to 15 persons under consideration, Gibbons said, but additional names are still being added.

He said that no deadline has been set for the selection of a new department head to replace John A. Sauer. Sauer resigned the post last spring but retained his position as professor of physics.

Sauer's resignation was followed by protest letters to The Daily Collegian. President Eric A. Walker appointed a three-man committee to look into conditions in the department before accepting Sauer's resignation.

Precipitation, possibly beginning as sleet or snow early today, will change quickly to rain and continue into the late afternoon. The local forecast calls for windy and milder weather this afternoon with rain. A high of 43 is expected. Strong winds, considerably colder weather and snow flurries are indicated for tonight and tomorrow.

Through the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

Here we go again . . . We're slushing through the snow again. Sleepy eyed again . . . Taking a chance on ice! (ouch, it's slippery!) On my aimless wanderings around campus today, I saw several people slip and almost fall on their derriers, (excuse my French!) You know it's funnier to watch if they don't actually fall down. There's the first fatal slip followed quickly by an astonished, "it can't happen to me," look. Thus the confused arms and that one ungrounded leg are flung ridiculously into the air in a wild attempt to retain balance. Funniest of all is that sheepish smile on the face of The Embarrassed One as he shyly looks around to see if anyone saw him. Click! Was that a Collegian photographer lurking behind that bush?

TAKE A BIG STEP CLOSER TO YOUR FUTURE

MONDAY, FEB. 4
TUESDAY, FEB. 5

If you are a qualified engineering student who feels your future lies in research or applied engineering, be sure to see the Linde Company representative when he is interviewing on campus.

The LINDE Laboratories provide an ideal growth environment for the scientific-minded. Significant is the fact that, in only 15 years, LINDE research and applied engineering people have created products and facilities which now account for more than half of the company's total sales volume.

You can grow as LINDE grows. Contact your engineering placement office now for an appointment.

Adopt Me!

That's what the sign says at Ethel Meserve's. And when you see them you won't be able to resist, even if you aren't the adopting type. There is an especially beautifully siamese cat. (cross-eyed even!) Actually, it's a beautiful 9½ x 12 colored picture of a cat, and it's even better than a real cat because it's so useful! You can frame it for your own room or write on it and send to one of your cat loving friends. (if you're one of those people who have dog loving friends, Ethel has "adoptable" dog pictures too). As for writing on them, the picture opens up into a folder and becomes original type stationery. (There are even authentic cat paw prints running lightly across the inside!) As for mailing them, they come in a large, economy size envelope just for that purpose. Price? $1.00.

Purr-sonality

Now you can write your letters on stationery with a purr-sonality all its own. Ethel Meserve has "Poodlecrat" stationery for dog loving democrats. Not to mention the darling "Sophisticat" stationery for sophisticated cat lovers. You get 16 sheets and envelopes for $1.50.

Only 11 more days until Valentine's day. Did you get your cards yet? Whether you want the old-fashioned sentimental type, or the modern contemporary kind, Ethel has the card for you. (but you'd better buy it now before somebody else does!) See Ethel today, and don't forget to tell her who sent you, (me!)

Gotta run,
Gabbi
