

Gettysburg Next for Tourney-Hungry Cagers

By DEAN BILLICK
Sports Editor

Gettysburg coach Bob Hul-ton had better be prepared to-night for a vastly different Penn State basketball team than he has been accustomed to playing the last few years.

Navy coach Ben Carnevale wasn't and his Middies became State's 12th shell-shocked victim, 79-67, Saturday at Annapolis, Md.

"I think we really shocked them," a happy Lion coach John Egli said after the win. "We've taken enough shocks down here, though, so I don't have any pity for them. We beat them good and on their own floor."

PROBABLY WHAT shocked the Middies most, was not that State beat them so badly, but the way the Lions did it. Fast breaking time after time and ball-hawking like a Nittany team hasn't done for quite a few years, State literally ran Navy into the floor. And all this against a military school that is known for its conditioning program.

True, the Lions hit on 54.5 per cent of their shots, but that percentage was built skyward on fast breaks and easy lay-ups coming after stolen passes.

Up until this year, State has been known as a slow-down, ball control team. But if Gettysburg has any ideas of a victory for the home folks tonight, they had better rewrite their scouting reports from past years.

The Bullets are 11-5 this year and have good size. But it will take a major upset to stop the State express. The Lions, who have slowly nursed along post-season tournament hopes, find themselves needing two victories this week. State travels to Army Saturday.

DOUBLE WINS this week would give the Nittanies a 14-3 record and put them right in the thick of the "stew" for the tourney pairings.

The NCAA is permitted to begin giving out tourney bids at 10 p.m. next Monday and a 14-3 chart would be hard to overlook. The committee, however, may wait until the Lions play West Virginia next Wednesday at Rec Hall.

A victory then would all but insure a bid.

BUT ONE game at a time and Saturday it was Navy's turn to find out why co-captain Earl Hoffman is one of the leading scorers in the country. The senior forward blasted for 17 points in the first half and then watched as teammate Bob Weiss took up the slack in the second half with 17 markers.

Hoffman finished with 25 points and shot a phenomenal 64.7 per cent from the field. The outpoint jumped this season average to 21.1 and his shooting percentage to 49.1. He ranks among the leaders in the country in both departments. Weiss finished with 18 points, but it was his stealing of passes and near-perfect shooting in the second half that was the difference in the game.

Navy lead at one time, 18-10, but the Nittanies closed the gap and the score was knotted at 31 by the half. Then Weiss went to work and three consecutive times he batted down Navy shots and sped the length of the floor for easy lay-ups.

In fact the sophomore flash hit 8-9 in the half and the team shot 73 per cent. State's biggest lead was at 73-53, but the Middies cut that margin when Egli cleared his bench. It was the first win over Navy since 1956.

In the frosh game, State suffered its first loss, 91-61.

Lion Fencers Cop Third Straight; Come From Behind To Nip Orange

By JOHN LOTT

Before the Penn State fencing squad opened its 1963 campaign, the epee team was supposed to be the weak link of the outfit.

But that's all changed now. State's epeeists stole the show Saturday at Syracuse, taking six of nine bouts to pace the Lions to a 14-13 victory, their third without a loss this season.

"If the epee team hadn't come through, we would have been down the drain," State coach Dick Klima said after the meet.

THE LIONS held leads of 6-3 and 10-8 after the first and second rounds, respectively, but with two bouts to go, Syracuse gained a 13-12 advantage.

Then epeeists John Hansell and Dave Lewis came through to take the final pair of bouts, giving State the triumph.

The victory assured the Nittanies of a winning season, with only one meet remaining on the schedule. The Lions travel to Cornell March 9 for their final contest.

LEWIS AND HANSELL each swept all three of their bouts for the Lions, while sabremen Chuck Dooley and Jerry Evans each copped a pair.

Close Match, Rout Provide Action In Independent Swimming Contests

By DENNIS KNECHT

A close 23-17 match between Nittany 23-24 and Larch, and a not-so-close 34-6 contest between Cedar and Nittany 27-28, provided the only action in the Independent swim meets at Glennland Pool last night.

Nittany 23-24 and Cedar emerged the victors. The other scheduled meet was won by Nittany 31-32 over Linden by forfeit.

IN THE CLOSE MATCH, Nittany 23-24's 120-yard relay team of Dave Bartram, Dick Rigg, Warren Marshall and Charlie Lomax won the final event to top the meet. Marshall also won the freestyle, followed by teammate Bob Eishenbraun. Rigg took the breaststroke for the winners only other first place.

Larch's two first places were scored by Gerhard Friedrich in the backstroke and Greg Young in the diving competition. Young was followed closely in diving by Nittany's Lomax. Bob Beggs scored a second place in the backstroke for Larch.

Cedar's rout of Nittany 27-28 was marked by five first and three second place finishes.

DICK GREENE won the freestyle, Skip Westhaffer captured the backstroke, Bill Bowes placed first in the breaststroke and Tony Watson scored 16.4 points to take first place in the diving competition.

The winners in the swimming events were followed to the finish line by teammates Pete Craig, Gary Himes and Watson, respectively. Greene, Craig, Bowes and Westhaffer raced to victory in the relay in 1:03.8.

Bob Gray scored the only second place for the Nittany 27-28 squad with an 8.6 in diving.
