

Laborites Halt Opposition As Economic Plan OK'd

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government turned back an opposition assault last night and won parliamentary approval of the emergency economic program he drew up because France blocked Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

AT THE END of a two-day debate in the House of Commons, Macmillan's Conservatives defeated a Laborite motion of no confidence, 333-227, and went on to win support of his program, 330-227.

The Conservatives have a margin of some 100 votes over their Laborite and Liberal opponents in the House, and had been expected to win the parliamentary tests.

But the size of the government's majorities was a surprise because of the opposition's strong attacks and the dissension of Conservatives over Macmillan's foreign and domestic policies.

THE LABORITES charged that the Macmillan government's handling of the Common Market negotiations and subsequent developments is threatening the basis of the British economy and the Atlantic Alliance.

George Brown, a leading contender for the Labor party leadership vacated by the death of Hugh Gaitskell, charged that Macmillan is risking a split in the Atlantic Alliance by "a reckless policy of an insult a day to France."

Brown assailed the government for advising Princess Margaret to cancel a visit to Paris in view of strained British-French relations over the Brussels breakdown.

Laborites cheered wildly as Brown declared Britain needs new men at the helm—"untainted with the duplicity, deception and double-dealing universally regarded as the hallmark of this administration."

JAMES CALLAGHAN, the Labor party's expert on economic affairs, charged that the Brussels breakdown is prompting a flight of British capital to Europe. He demanded that the Macmillan government halt such an exodus of investment funds, imposing exchange controls if necessary.

Republicans Deny Charge Of Politics Over Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans disputed yesterday Democratic contentions that they are playing politics with Cuba. But one of them launched fresh attacks on President Kennedy's foreign policy actions.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., suggested that perhaps Cuba had become a "bone in the throat" of Kennedy—an expression Soviet Premier Khrushchev once used to describe his own view of Berlin.

Plane Crashes In Everglades; 43 On Board

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Airplane wreckage with "no sign of life" was sighted last night by a Coast Guard helicopter searching for a Northwest Orient Airlines jetliner which disappeared with 43 persons aboard.

The location of the find was in the Everglades 6½ miles west of a 40-mile bend on the Tamiami Trail (U.S. 41) which connects Miami and Naples. The bend is 40 miles west of downtown Miami.

THE HELICOPTER pilot radioed he was dropping down as close as possible for further study of the wreckage.

The plane, bound nonstop from Miami to Chicago, took off at 1:35 p.m. (EST) into a squall line.

Radio contact was lost with the Boeing 720b seven minutes later and a sweeping air search was launched.

The helicopter pilot's wreckage report was made at 7:05 p.m.

There was no sign of trouble up to the point radio contact was lost, William Leverett, chief of the Air Route Traffic Control Center, said.

Leverett said the plane, captained by Roy W. Almquist, Rosemount, Minn., had just given a position report. The control tower asked for another report and got no reply.

Scranton Proposes 3 New Ed Councils

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Scranton revealed a plan to reform the administration of education by creating a new state Board of Education in a special message to the General Assembly yesterday.

He proposed separate councils of basic elementary, secondary and higher education to replace the present state Council of Education.

SIGNIFICANTLY, the new board and councils would be independent of the Department of Public Instruction and its superintendent, who is the presiding officer of the existing council.

The new setup would leave administration to the department and policy making to the board and its councils.

Scranton also touched briefly on the need for community colleges, asking the legislature to enact enabling legislation now. Meanwhile the new Council of Higher Education would work out a master plan for all colleges and universities in the state, including the community colleges.

The proposed legislation would provide the foundation for the community college plan.

Cooper's Flight Delayed

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The orbital flight of Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. has been postponed until mid-May, the Manned Spacecraft Center announced yesterday.

Cooper's flight, originally scheduled for early April, is planned as the longest yet by an American astronaut, a ride of some 18 to 22 orbits.
