HUB Fine Arts Committee Plans International Nights

The Hetzel Union Fine Arts Committee has outlined plans to hold several international nights during the winter term. As tentatively planned, an international night will emphasize one particular country and honor students from that country. The evening would begin with dinner in the Terrace Room featuring food from the chosen country. After dinner, there will be a short speech pertaining to that country. Various committee members are investigating aspects of this project which will bring the international students in more contact with the other students on campus.

NASA Exhibit
In other business, the committee decided to sponsor an exhibit of prints entitled "The Last Five Years in Space." These 100 prints will be provided by the National Aeronautic and Space Administration.

The committee also heard reports from the various subcommittees, and discussed the Negro culture project scheduled for the week of Feb. 17 to 23. During this week, Negro leaders in all fields will be invited to speak on campus to help establish better understanding of the racial problem.

Initiated were: George Gordon (10th-arts and letters-Merion Station), Lynn Kelley (7th-arts and letters-Sharpville), Andrew Lipchak (7th - journalism - Pittsburgh), Blaine Shover (10th-music education-Bangor) and Richard Swank (10th-bio-chemistry-Drums).

5 Men Initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa
Three seniors and two juniors were initiated Monday night into Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honor society.

Museum Acquires 15 Altman Prints

The Museum of Modern Art, New York, N.Y., has acquired for its permanent collection fifteen etchings and lithographs by Harold Altman, associate professor of art.

Some of the prints in this group were created during Altman's last year of Guggenheim Fellowship, prior to his joining the faculty here. Others were done at Tamarind Lithography Workshop in Los Angeles, where Altman worked as a Tamarind Fellow in 1961. The most recent prints in the group were completed this summer.

Other acquisitions of Altman's work by the Museum of Modern Art were made in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1961.

Democrats Caucus on Appropriations--

The two Democratic leaders met Scranton's offer with charges of "political cowardice" and claimed the governor was unable to lead the legislature as he should.

Scranton, they said, should take the initiative in the matter and not wait for assurances or guarantees. The governor did not budge from his stand. He said he did not want the bill used as a political tool for a third time.

Again on Nov. 13 Scranton presented his offer to the minority leaders, this time in person after asking them to his office.

Scranton was told that the matter would be considered in a caucus meeting and that he would receive the results "in a few days."

Yesterday the governor announced that Weiner and Petrosky had not returned to notify him whether the offer was acceptable.

Some University officials have speculated that the bill may not be passed this year. However, they are confident that the bill will be approved early next year.
