Congress Scores Collegian Policy

By NANCY EGAN and DENNIS KNECHT

The resignation of four members of the Board of Editors from The Daily Collegian became a major topic of debate at last night's Undergraduate Student Government meeting.

A resolution that "George Jackson (USG president) recommend to the Board of Directors of Collegian Inc., that The Daily Collegian report the occurrence of the resignation of four former editors, and maintain an unbiased, fair and complete reporting policy in these and similar matters in the future" was overwhelmingly approved by a 21-8 vote.

Morabito Report
The resolution, sponsored by Carl Thormeyer (East), Jeffrey Roberts (Pollock) and Michael Stoll (fraternity), grew out of an officer's report by Donald Morabito, USG vice president.

Morabito said that announcement of the resignations, which had not been made public by The Collegian, was important to the student body.

Charles Reilly, USG treasurer and chairman of the Interclass Budget committee, reported that the newspaper receives approximately half its yearly income from an allocation of student fees.

The paper received $36,200 from Associated Student Activities funds this year.

He added that, for this reason, Collegian affairs are "the business of the student body" and the fact (of the resignations) "should have been made known to them."

'Internal Affair'
David Bolbach, Daily Collegian editor, told Congress that the resignations of four of the 11-man editorial board were an "internal affair of the Collegian" and should be handled by the newspaper itself.

In his report, Morabito told Congress only that four editors, because of a "philosophical conflict" with the editor, had resigned and that Collegian had not reported it.

When asked by Thormeyer to elaborate on the resignations, Bolbach told Congress that "this is not USG's business."

'Philosophical Disagreement'
After the meeting, Bolbach said the four former members of his staff—Winnie Boyle and Rochelle Michaels, editorial editors, Melvin Axilburd, city editor, and Joan Hartman, news and features editor—resigned Jan. 28 over a "disagreement in philosophy."

During discussion at the meeting, one congressman commented that if the members of USG's executive board had resigned, the story would

Editorial Opinion USG Foolishness

The Undergraduate Student Government last night made an utter fool of itself when it attempted to intrude into something that was absolutely none of its business.

Congress passed a resolution recommending to Collegian, Inc., publisher of The Daily Collegian, that The Daily Collegian report the occurrence of the resignation of four former members of the Board of Editors and that it maintain "unbiased, fair and complete reporting policy in these and similar matters in the future"

The matter which prompted Congress to pass the resolution—the resignation of four members of the Board of Editors—is not, contrary to the opinion of some Congressmen, one of concern to USG.

The resignations were not reported in this newspaper because they are entirely an internal matter of concern only to the Board of Editors. They have not affected, nor will they affect, the operation of this newspaper in any way.

The comparison between resignations of members of the Board of Editors and USG Congressmen or executives is asinine.

Members of USG are elected by the student body. They represent the students and are re-have been prominently featured in the newspaper.

Tony Foglio, Collegian city editor, affirmed this, but added that the "executive is elected and we (the editors) are appointed by the editor. We are responsible solely to him."

Bolbach, confirming Foglio's statement, said that the delegates responsible to his editors, who are responsible to him, he, in turn, is responsible only to Collegian, Inc., governing board of the newspaper.

Board's Composition
Collegian, Inc. consists of six faculty and administrators and

NO RESPONSE TO BOCME CONTEST; DEADLINE SAT.

The Board of Collegian Male Editors' (BOCME) invitation to campus beauties to come forth has met with an unprecedented response.

No entries had been received by late yesterday evening. With the deadline only four days away, no coeds have yet submitted the necessary photograph needed to help BOCME members choose the loveliest coed on campus.

Saturday is the final day for entries. Male students may also enter the coed they feel is most qualified for the award.

Photographs (5x7 or 8x10 glossy prints or mat finishes) of coeds should be brought to The Daily Collegian office, basement of Sackett. Five finalists will be announced Tuesday, and the winner will be announced next Wednesday.

Delegates Name Theta Miss Panhel

Dorothea Gerber, Kappa Alpha Theta delegate, was elected Miss Panhel last night at the regular meeting of the Panhellenic Council.

Each year a representative is elected on the basis of outstanding contribution to the council.

Miss Gerber will be honored at a workshop on Sunday. Lynn Crawford, Alpha Chi Omega, was previously appointed to look into the controversy over the present election system, under which a sorority has a delegate for president of the Panhellenic Council only every 27 years.

A proposal for reorganization of the present system will be brought to a vote at the next meeting.

Careful Revision
Great emphasis is being placed on careful revision, so as to prevent any one group from monopolizing the control of the executive board, Miss Crawford's report said.

In order to avoid complications with the individual sororities holding elections at different times during the year, a motion was passed to seat Panhellenic delegates at the beginning of each term.

Under this system, a parliamentary instruction session will be held at each interval for the new representatives.

Open Bids
In other Panhel business, open bidding closed Monday with only three of the 24 sororities which participated in open rush having filled their quotas.

The women who accepted bids during the second phase of open bidding are:

ALPHA DELTA PI: Nadine Nichols, Carol Jean Morgan and Milla Lucy Vanderheid.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA: Gloria Jay Harden.

ALPHA OMEGA: Judy Palic, Nancy Pullen and Janet Walker.

DELTA ZETA: Carol Fritze and Carolyn Leis.

KAPPA DELTA: Sally Snyder and Mary Stone.

DELTA PHI EPSILON: Barbara Jacobs to GAMMA DELTA: Betty Jean Bissell, Judy Drennen and Vicky Kleintob.

DELTA ZETA: Carol Fritze and Carolyn Leis.

KAPPA DELTA: Sally Snyder and Mary Stone.

DELTA PHI EPSILON: Barbara Jacobs to GAMMA DELTA: Betty Jean Bissell, Judy Drennen and Vicky Kleintob.

Cambodia Charges U.S. Aids Disloyalty

SIEM REAP, Cambodia (P) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk, 41-year-old Cambodian chief of state, yesterday told newsmen the United States is aiding subversive elements in Cambodia.

He charged that Americans backing a war against Communist rebels in neighboring South Viet Nam planned and "are responsible for South Vietnamese air attacks on Cambodians" in the frontier area.

He declared the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency tried to instigate a coup against him in 1959.

Similar accusations—denied by the United States—accompanied Sihanouk's decision to reject continued American aid of $30 million yearly, a mutual withdrawal of diplomatic personnel and a near break in relations last fall.

"We want an early Geneva conference for neutralization of Cambodia," Sihanouk said. "Errand, which is trying to arrange such a conference says 'You must be patient.' How can we be patient when my people are being killed?"

"For you Westerners, five Cambodians killed are like killing five monkeys or five tigers. We value human lives."

"Communist Respect"
"We want to remain Cambodians, but Americans won't let us live in peace. Our difficulties were not created by Asians but by foreigners and their satellites. The Communists respect us," Sihanouk said.

Sihanouk lashed out during an informal meeting with foreign correspondents after accompanying President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines and Prime Minister Abdul Rahman of Malaysia to Siem Reap for a continuance of their two-nation summit conference on the Malaysian crisis.

Official sources said three weeks ago the United States had accepted a Philippine proposal to settle the dispute between it and Cambodia. Macapagal acted as mediator. It had been expected that Cambodia would announce it was ready to implement the proposal, but Sihanouk's remarks made that seem unlikely.

Island Harmony
Sihanouk said meetings of the two leaders produced "a much better understanding between Malaysia and the Philippines," which have been divided by an old Philippine claim to the Malaysian state of Sabah-North Borneo.

"The door is now open to a satisfactory settlement," Sihanouk said. "A good step forward has been made on the way to a tripartite summit."

A tripartite summit would mean the attendance of President Sukarno of Indonesia. Sukarno agreed to a cease-fire in Borneo but still vows to crush Malaysia on the ground that young federation of former British colonies preserves the British presence in Southeast Asia and threatens encirclement of Indonesia.

Corps Will Give Placement Test Saturday, Feb. 22
A special on-campus Peace Corps placement test will be given at 9 a.m. Feb. 22 in 215 Willard.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old and U.S. citizens. Married couples with no dependents may apply if they wish to serve together. A College degree is not necessary for some fields.

Thus far, the Peace Corps has more than 7,000 volunteers serving in 46 countries in Latin America, Africa and Asia. About 5,000 new volunteers are expected to train this summer.

Occupations represented in the corps include teaching, medicine and nursing, engineering and sociology.

Acquittal 'Certain'
The New York Times, in an Oct. 12 editorial, praised Indiana's president, Elvis J. Stahr, for his "courage and understanding of the university role," in defending the three men.

Barry Clemson, SENSE president, says the organization will bring Levitt here because it disagrees with abuse of freedom of speech.

"The YSA has been the victim of a forcible attempt at suppression of thought and speech," he said.

JFK Half-Dollar Pieces Struck at Two U.S. Mints
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The first John F. Kennedy half dollars were struck yesterday.

About 90 million will be made this year, with first distribution late next month or early April on a national scale.

Powers will examine the organization structures, administration and operations of continuing education units at the universities. He said he hopes the study will be helpful to all institutions engaged in continuing education services and that it will encourage cooperation among institutions.

"A cooperative plan developed on a national scale," Powers said, "should help to increase efficiency and broaden the base of continuing education offerings in science."

"It should also help to effect better working relationships between resident faculty and administration and those working in the field of continuing education for adults who are not full-time students."

Jobless Compensation Law Reforms Needed—Scranton
HARRISBURG (P) — Gov. William W. Scranton proposed yesterday broad reform of Pennsylvania unemployment compensation laws that would allow the state "to seriously compete in the national market for jobs and prosperity."

The governor addressed a joint House-Senate session convened to open five concurrent special sessions of the legislature. In addition to unemployment compensation, Scranton proposed legislation of Project 70; eminent domain; blind veterans pensions; and changes in state care for the senile elderly.

The governor devoted more than half of his 35-minute address to the unemployment compensation issue.

He proposed: "First, we must pass into law the unemployment compensation reforms that have been designed to strengthen our fund, raise the base of employer contributions, redesign the employer contribution rates, eliminate the benefit loopholes, and attract new industry and new jobs to Pennsylvania."

"Second, we must increase the meager weekly benefits paid to the legitimately unemployed. I have recommended to you an increase in the maximum of unemployment benefits from 12 1/2 per cent, which advances us toward our goal of providing unemployment benefits equal to 50 per cent of work pay."

Job Retaining
"Third, the time has come for Pennsylvania to commit itself to a massive program of job retraining. I have submitted for your approval a resolution which proclaims Pennsylvania's intention to take up on the state level the manpower retraining programs already begun under federal law, but which by 1965 will need at least $10 million annually from state funds to continue."

Scranton said an independent survey shows industries shut Pennsylvania for the location or expansion of industrial plants because of the unemployment fund.

"The Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund today totters near bankruptcy. We owe the federal government—for repayment of loans borrowed in 1958 and 1961—$31 million more than we have in the fund."

Lost Industries
"Almost every day an industry tells us: 'Sorry, but somebody is going to have to pay through the nose to get Pennsylvania out of this mess. It's not going to be us. We're going to another state.'"

"And, so, we lose another plant."

"The facts are on our (the administration) side, and I happen to believe that the people of Pennsylvania are smart enough to understand them. I believe that in the long run the campaign already launched by our opposition in going to sink in its own falsehoods."

Decent Campaign
"Let my fellow politicians on both sides of the aisle consider what their position on this issue should be, not in terms of today's malicious campaign of deceit, but when the vast majority of Pennsylvanians become familiar with this question and demand to know which public officials took the road against Pennsylvania's best interest."

Sense Sponsors Socialist Speaker; Literature at HUB
Literature about a student indicted for conspiring to overthrow the Indiana state government will be available at the SENSE literature booth, outside the Hetzel Union Lion's Den Monday and Tuesday.

Ralph Levitt, who is chairman of the Bloomington, Ind., chapter of the Young Socialist Alliance, will speak in 121 Sparks next Wednesday.

Levitt was indicted July 18, 1963 for violation of the 1951 Indiana Communism Act, whose purpose is "to exterminate communism and communists and any or all teachings of the same."

The indictment came after a meeting of the YSA at which Leroy McRea, national YSA secretary, spoke about the Negroes of the Mississippi delta area.

In his speech, McRea doubted whether the Negroes there could secure equal rights by non-violent methods. After this meeting, Levitt and two other officers were charged with participating "by their presence, aid or instigation."

Thomas A. Hoadley, prosecutor of Monroe county, Ind., told the press "we want only to stamp out communism and what it stands for before it gets a foothold here."

He also called for a grand jury investigation "to determine to what extent if any, marijuana is used to recruit new members in the YSA."

Barghoorn Will Speak Here Monday
Frederick C. Barghoorn, Yale University professor of political science who was arrested as a spy by the Soviet Union in November, will speak at 8 p.m. Monday in 121 Sparks.

Barghoorn's talk will be on "Soviet Strategies of Cultural Exchange," according to Vernon V. Aspaturian, political science professor here and a friend of Barghoorn.

The Yale professor is also expected to discuss his arrest. His speech is sponsored by the Penn State political science department.

Barghoorn was not able to accept a previous invitation from Aspaturian to lecture here. Barghoorn is a graduate of Amhurst College with master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from Harvard University.

Prior to his appointment to the Yale faculty in 1947, he was on the staff of the American embassy in Moscow for five years.

He is a member of the American Political Science Association, American Historical Association, Council on Foreign Relations, and Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society.

Barghoorn's books include "The Soviet Image of the United States," 1950; "Soviet Russian Nationalism," 1956; and "The Soviet Cultural Offensive," 1960.

Snow Blankets Areas of State In Second Storm
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The second snowstorm in two days dumped as much as seven inches of new snow over parts of Pennsylvania yesterday before blowing out to sea in mid-afternoon.

Philadelphia itself had a four-inch fall, which slowed vehicular traffic to a bumper-to-bumper crawl.

In the suburban counties of Chester, Delaware, Montgomery and Bucks it was worse. Phoenixville reported seven inches; Quakertown six; Coatsville and Pottstown five.

Harrisburg recorded about an inch of new snow, but roads were generally clear there. Ten miles to the north there was no new snow. But to the south of the state capital, for example, Chambersburg had two inches.

In the western mountains, Uniontown, and Bedford had seven inches.

USG Committee Suggests Elections Code Revisions

Numerous changes and additions to the Undergraduate Student Government elections code have been recommended by the USG Elections Code Revision committee.

Recommendations will supplement those of a similar meeting held last week and of the final meeting planned for this Sunday.

After the final meeting, the revisions will be compiled and presented to Congress for approval at its meeting Tuesday on Feb. 25, according to Michael Stoll, committee chairman.

Jon Dranov, present elections commission chairman, and George Jackson, USG president and former chairman, are participating in the revision meetings.

Code Additions
Under additions to the elections code, the committee recommended:

• A student may change party affiliation at any time, but he will be allowed to vote in the party's nominations only if the change is made prior to the final registration meeting.

• If a candidate for USG office withdraws after a party's regularly scheduled nominations meeting, another candidate may not be substituted.

• No printed form of party platform or policy statement may be used after the date set by the elections commission for submission of this material.

• Students living in special residences on campus, such as the home economics living centers will vote with their natural residence areas.

• Students affiliated with a fraternity but living in another area will vote with the fraternity area.

Changes Recommended
Changes recommended in the code are that:

• A student may sign as many petitions for independent candidates as the number of available seats in the area. The code presently allows signing of only one petition.

• Each party must have an official representative who will meet with elections commissioners. This recommendation will allow a party to choose officers any way it wishes, instead of requiring election of a chairman.

• The party representative will be responsible for submitting pictures, transcripts and list of activities from all candidates at a time designated by the elections commission.

4 Teams Score in Bowl Meet

Four campus teams emerged with victories in the first half of round two of the University College Bowl last night.

West Halls Council and McKee Hall Association of Women Students defeated Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honor society by a score of 200 to 100.

In the second match, McElwain Hall AWS tied East Halls Council, 160-130.

Atherton Hall AWS was trounced by Joseph Von Baston's independent team, 285 to 105, in the third match of the contest.

Another trouncing took place in the fourth match as the Student Union on Racial Equality easily defeated Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, 310 to 65.

Pockrass Moderator
Robert M. Pockrass, associate professor of journalism, served as moderator for the contest.

Susan Schenkel, College Bowl chairman, announced that no contest will be held next week. Instead, the second half of round number two will take place Tuesday evening, Feb. 25.

Winners of the second round will be pitted against each other in the semi-finals which are set for March 3.

Trophies will be awarded to the teams placing first and second after the completion of the final round on March 10.

Miss Schenkel also announced that the trophies will be on display in the Hetzel Union Building later this week.

Model U.N. Fees, Resolutions Due

Model United Nations delegations which wish to submit resolutions for consideration by any of the four main committees must do so by 9 p.m., Feb. 24.

Those delegations which have not turned in their $5 registration fees are requested to do so as soon as possible.

Resolutions and registration fees are to be turned in to the Hetzel Union desk.

Commonwealth Campuses Leave Granted to Powers
William H. Powers, associate dean for the Commonwealth campuses, has been granted a six-month leave of absence to visit at least 12 universities that offer large programs away from the parent campus.

Powers, who is also director of continuing education in the College of Science and professor of chemistry, will visit the institutions to study the operation of their campuses in detail.

"It is my purpose," he said, "to try to discover at large institutions the best patterns for effective recruitment of students, selection of faculty, and quality of courses."

The associate dean's itinerary includes the Universities of Alabama, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Texas and Wisconsin, Michigan State University and Purdue University.

He may also visit Georgia Tech, the University of North Carolina, Texas A. & M. and the University of West Virginia.

Journalism Seminar Slated
The conference is sponsored by the International Radio and Television Foundation under the management of the International Radio and Television Society.

Among the professionals representing the media and agencies will be Robert R. Pauley, president, ABC Radio network; Julius Barnathan, vice president, general manager, ABC-TV network; and Lincoln Diamond, senior TV commercial producer of Ogilvy, Benson & Mather, advertising agency.
