Lions, Terps May Be Looking Beyond Tomorrow's Game

By JOHN LOTT
Collegian Sports Editor
Both teams are gunning to finish with a respectable record. Both are 2-4 now. And both will have to guard against looking past the other when they lock horns in Beaver Stadium tomorrow.

Harriers To Face Syracuse

By STAN RATNER
Penn State's cross country team leaves this afternoon for Syracuse, where it will take on the undefeated Orange tomorrow afternoon in its most difficult contest to date.

"They're a powerhouse," Nittany coach John Lucas said yesterday. "They are definitely one of the strongest contenders for the eastern championship, along with Georgetown."

The Orange are 3-0 this season, with victories over Army, Cornell, Buffalo, Alfred and Colgate. All, except for Army, were by big margins.

The Lion harriers own a 2-2 record with two meets left to go in the 1964 campaign. They opened their season by beating Cornell, then dropped a meet to Pitt, beat West Virginia and lost last Saturday's contest to Navy.

Syracuse's captain, Bill Stino, will be the man the Lions are gunning for. "If we want to win this meet," Lucas said, "we'll have to beat Stino. He's their big man."

With the exception of Fred Swanson, who is out for the season with a severely sprained ankle, Lucas intends to start his regular lineup.

As usual, Lion captain Dick Lampman will be the team's big threat, despite a fourth place showing against Navy. Also counted on heavily will be Chuck Leuthold, who took third against Navy, but finished with the Lions' best time of the year.

Rounding out the eleven man Lion squad are Phil Hunsberger, Ernie Johnson, George McCormick, Steve Hayden, Art Morris, Bill Peiffer, Roland Rose, Jim Young and Bill Humbert.

Last season the Lions met Syracuse in a triangular meet that also included Georgetown. Although the Nittany harriers finished with a better score than Syracuse, both lost to Georgetown.

Following tomorrow's meet, the Lions finish the season Nov. 7 at Georgetown, another strong team. They then go to New York to compete in the ICA's Nov. 16, mistakes.

Maryland's biggest game of the season comes a week from tomorrow when it battles Navy at College Park. Although a heated series has developed between the Terrapins and Penn State, the Maryland-Navy rivalry has become even more spirited.

Because of its ragged start this season, every game has been a big one for the Terps. Next week's encounter at Ohio State will take on extra significance, especially if State should come out on top tomorrow. The Buckeyes are currently ranked No. 1 in the nation and boast a defense that hasn't surrendered a touchdown in its last three games.

But Lion assistant Joe McMullen, who has scouted Maryland and the past three Saturdays, says he doesn't think anyone will be looking beyond anyone else tomorrow.

McMullen attributed the Terrapins' upset loss to Wake Forest to "one of those letdowns that come between two big games."

"Maryland was coming off a big win over North Carolina the week before and most certainly was looking ahead to Penn State," he said. "You can bet they'll be ready for us. They always have been in recent years."

The big factor in recent years was Dick Shiner, one of the finest quarterbacks in Maryland history. As a sophomore in 1961, he had three touchdowns and overran the Terrapins 23-7 in the Beaver Stadium snow. Last year the Lions survived a last-period uprising at College Park and escaped with a 17-15 triumph.

Shiner is gone now and with him went Maryland's dependence on the pass as its main mode of movement. This year the all-sophomore backfield of QB Phil Peiffer, HB Bo Hickory, WB Chuck Myrtle and FB Walt Marciniak has given Maryland its most potent ground attack in years.

The Lions have exhibited great improvement in their last three outings (win over Army, loss to Syracuse and win over West Virginia). Owing mostly to an overall improvement in line play, the offense has felled at last and the defense has held firm with rugged regularity.

Maryland, on the other hand, has been off-and-on all season. Fumbles and pilfered passes have hurt the Terps, too, but 7 at Georgetown, another strong team. They then go to New York to compete in the ICA's Nov. 16, mistakes.

HEMLOCK COMPLETION: Tom McNully (right) grabs off a Cy Phillips pass for a touchdown in last night's game with Watts II on the golf course fields. Hemlock riddled Watts II, 26-6, and took over the lead in its dorm division.

Come-from-Behind Win Hemlock Crushes Watts II To Capture League Lead

By PHIL TABAS
Playing in a steady downpour, Hemlock House soundly whipped previously-unbeaten Watts II, 26-6, last night to move into the leadership of League C of the intramural dorm division.

Hemlock's record now stands at 5-1 as opposed to second-place Watts II's 4-1. If Watts can overcome Larch in next week's finale, a championship playoff will be necessary.

Watts II opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 10-yard touchdown pass from Dave Creason to Jack Lowery. But Hemlock bounced back with a tally by Gary Kanahnskie, who scored on Cy Phillips' TD pass. Joe Bowker booted the point.

The Phillips-to-Kanahnskie combination proved too much for the Watts defense as it accounted for three of the four Hemlock scores. Tom McNully also scored on a two-yard Phillips pass.

Jordan I Wins
In other action, Jordan I defeated Cottonwood in overtime after the regulation game ended in a 14-14 deadlock.

In the opening minutes, Cottonwood's Ed Johnson threw a 40-yard scoring bomb to Harry Snyder for the first TD and Bob Kistler's PAT was good for another point. Jordan I retaliated as Don Herkton snared a Tom Graham pass and romped in for the tally. Graham tied the score with his extra point kick.

In the second half, Johnson hit Snyder in the end zone and Kistler's PAT made it 14-7. Capping a long drive, Nelson Johnson connected with Herkton for six points, Graham's kick again tied the score.

In overtime Jordan I kept the ball in Cottonwood territory to clinch the win.

Butternut Triumph
Butternut turned back Tamarack on first downs 5-0, while Junior's PAT made overtime, five first downs to four. Hickory topped Walnut, 5-2, on first downs.

Nittany Soccermen Seek Fourth Win In Temple Clash

Looking for its fourth win in six games, Penn State's soccer team travels to Philadelphia tomorrow where it takes on once-beaten Temple.

A win against the Owls would give the Lions a 3-0 record against sectional opponents. The soccermen defeated West Chester, 3-2, in their first game and bombed Bucknell, 8-0, a week and a half ago. Gettysburg and Pittsburgh, State's last two foes of the season are also in the same section.

Last year when the Lions took on Temple, they were facing one of the top teams in the country. But State was in top form that day and the Owls never could get in the game. When it was all over, the Lions had managed one of the biggest upsets of the year, winning, 6-0.

This season things are different. Although Temple has lost only one game in seven they are not as highly touted as the squad of a year ago. On the other hand, Penn State is enjoying one of its best seasons in recent years. Just beyond the midway point of their schedule, the Lions have won three of five games with losses coming against Maryland and Navy.

Another big difference between this season and last is injuries. At this point last year, coach Ken Hosterman was barely able to find enough healthy bodies to field a team. So far this season there have been no serious ailments at all and Hosterman has been able to go with the same starting lineup for every game. This has naturally made a big difference in the team's play. The players have had a chance to become accustomed to each other's moves and the play, especially that of the defense, has improved with every game.

The Lions will also be trying to get back on the winning track after dropping a cliff-hanger to Navy, 1-0, last Saturday. The soccermen have not been as successful on the road as they have been here at home. Away, they have lost two of three games while their record at home is 2-0.

State's freshman soccer team (2-1) entertains Bucknell tomorrow afternoon at Beaver Field. Game time will be 2:00 p.m.

Berra May Join Mets In 1965

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra may be the next baseball celebrity to change clubs. Instead of jumping to the New York Yankees, he may reverse the trend and hop the other way—to Casey Stengel and the New York Mets.

George Weiss, president of the Mets and Berra's long-time friend, said yesterday he had been in touch with Berra and would be interested in having the former Yankee catcher and manager join the Mets.

When Berra was fired as manager of the Yanks on Oct. 16 after winning the pennant and losing the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games, the Yanks offered him a two-year contract as a special field consultant to General Manager Ralph Houk. However, no contract was signed.

If the Mets are able to sign Berra to work with Stengel in uniform, they will have scored a major public relations coup in their turnstile battle with the rival Yankees.

The Lions will also be trying to get back on the winning track after dropping a cliff-hanger to Navy, 1-0, last Saturday. The soccermen have not been as successful on the road as they have been here at home. Away, they have lost two of three games while their record at home is 2-0.

State's freshman soccer team (2-1) entertains Bucknell tomorrow afternoon at Beaver Field. Game time will be 2:00 p.m.
