

Mrs. Shriver Address

Mentally Retarded Recreation

Eunice Kennedy Shriver discussed the "new frontier" in an informal speech at the Nittany Lion Inn Thursday afternoon. But the new frontier she referred to is not the one associated with the administration of her brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Shriver, wife of ex-Kennedy, Jr. Foundation of director of the Peace Corps R. Sargent Shriver, used the phrase to describe the use of recreation for the mentally retarded.

"There is proof that with training, the retarded child can catch up with the normal child in physical activities," she told participants in the four-day Recreation Leadership Workshop which was held at the Inn March 2-5.

The workshop was sponsored by a grant from the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation of which Mrs. Shriver is executive vice president. The Kennedy family has taken a special interest in the problem of mental retardation because Mrs. Shriver's oldest sister is mentally retarded. Shriver, director of President Lyndon B. Johnson's poverty program, is executive director of the Kennedy Foundation.

Recreation Vital

Mrs. Shriver said that the goal of the Foundation is to "convince everyone that recreation for the handicapped is just as important as it is for normal children, just as important as education and maybe more so."

The Foundation is sponsoring a series of 13 of these workshops at various colleges and universities throughout the country this year. Mrs. Shriver is attempting to attend as many as possible.

Arrived at

She flew to the Mid-State Airport at Moshannon in the "Caroline," the late President's plane. Because of a fog at the airport in Washington, Mrs. Shriver arrived later than planned.

After stressing the importance of recreation and physical fitness for the mentally retarded child, Mrs. Shriver expressed the hope that public awareness would result in more funds for the program.

She said that there are almost no funds available locally in most parts of the country, and only a few scholarships can be obtained from the federal government to train students entering the field.

The workshop was conducted at the University by the College of Education, the College of Health and Physical Education and Continuing Education. Costs were paid by the Kennedy Foundation.

ROTC Registrar Answers Requirement Questions

A number of students during the past few weeks have questioned the need for the Reserve Officer Training Corps program as a requirement for graduation, according to Warren R. Hafner, associate registrar.

Two rules of the Senate Policies and Rules for Undergraduate Students clarify any questions that students may have. Rule S-1 states:

A male student with freshman standing who entered the University Park Campus or a Commonwealth Campus where Basic ROTC is offered and who entered prior to the summer term of 1963 must complete six terms of Basic ROTC as one condition to be met for graduation.

Rules S-2 states that students admitted between the summer term of 1963 and the spring term of 1964 must complete three terms of Basic ROTC as a condition to be met for graduation.

The first term that the voluntary ROTC was in effect was in the spring term of 1964. The motion was approved by the Senate in October 1962.

Viet Operation 'Fizzles Out'

from the associated press

Fresh units of Vietnamese rangers reinforced government fighters yesterday in a battle against the Viet Cong 40 miles southwest of the big coastal air base of Da Nang. The new engagement in the north began as another massive Vietnamese operation against the Communists fizzled out in the jungle east of Saigon. On the diplomatic front, Red China made a new attack against the United States, in effect calling U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk a liar who uses "gangsters' logic." The official New China News Agency charged Rusk with "open war threats" against North Viet Nam. Rusk said in a New York speech Thursday night that U.S. forces are in Southeast Asia "to help independent peoples resist aggressions. Our troops could come home tomorrow if the aggressors would go back North and stay at home," Rusk added.

Health Care Vote Soon

A comprehensive health care plan for the aged, with optional doctor bill coverage as well as hospitalization, may be sent to the House in about a week. This was indicated yesterday by actions of the House Ways and Means Committee. The committee was reported informally to have reached a consensus. It suspended until next Wednesday its daily closed meetings, directing its staff to draft the language of a bill. No final votes have been taken, it was understood, and the plans is still subject to change at all points. Informants representing a wide range of views in the committee agreed that a majority appears to favor what some called a "three-layer cake." The bottom layer is essentially President Johnson's administration plan for hospitalization, convalescent home and limited home nursing benefits, all to be financed by an added payroll tax and administered by Social Security. Everyone over 65 would be covered.

Britain Faces Internal Crisis

Prime Minister Harold Wilson is facing the worst internal crisis of his four months in office. The Labor party's left wing apparently was in open rebellion against his support for U.S. action in Viet Nam. Only Thursday night left-wing members of Parliament called on him to declare "publicly and unequivocally" that he is unable to support the United States in its air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam. Then yesterday a junior minister in his government quit over the same issue. Frank Ailau, parliamentary private secretary to Colonial Secretary Anthony Greenwood, resigned his post, saying he must have more freedom of political action. A prominent left winger, he was one of 45 members of Parliament signing Thursday night's motion. Earlier this week, he had openly backed a ban-the-bomb march against a U.S. Air Force base in Britain at Easter.

Marches Continue in Alabama

More than 150 Negroes made two right-to-vote marches on the courthouse in Camden yesterday. Both times they were halted by armed police on the outskirts of the Alabama town. The second wave of marchers knelt and prayed and sat alongside the road for approximately an hour and a half after they were stopped by Mayor F. R. Albritton and eight helmeted policemen. Three officers were armed with shotguns and all carried nightsticks. When they left in late afternoon, many of the teen-agers in the Negro group waved and shouted, "Goodbye, goodbye" to the officers. The police did not answer. Albritton, a service station operator in this west-central Alabama town of about 2,500, told Negro leaders of both the morning and afternoon marches that they had no parade permit and he would not let them march.

Pavilion Tryouts Set for Monday

Tryouts for University Theatre's production of "Riverwind," a musical by John Jennings, will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at the Pavilion Theatre, director Harry Miller (graduate-theatre-beaver Falls) announced yesterday.

Miller said those auditioning should bring their own sheet music. Available roles include parts for four males and three females. Male parts call for a baritone range, tenor range, and a comedy singer. Female roles include soprano, mezzo-soprano range, and a comedy singer.

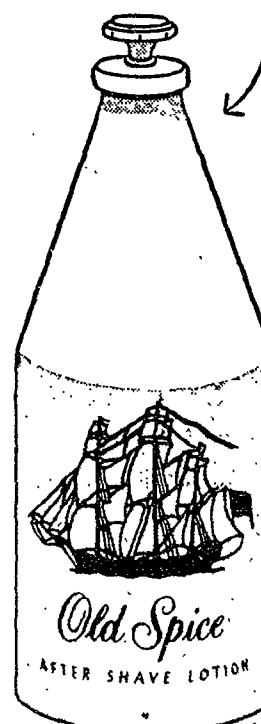

"Riverwind" is set in a more than rustic motel-resort somewhere in Indiana, and was successfully produced off-Broadway two seasons ago. The Pavilion production will be presented April 20-24.

OPEN TO RUSHEES AND INVITED GUESTS

The Faith United Church of Christ will celebrate the Lord's Supper on Sunday, March 7 8 A.M. and 10:30 A.M. Student Seminar 9:30 A.M.

1. I've been weighing the possibility of becoming a perpetual student.

Last week you said you were considering the merits of mink farming.

2. With graduation drawing near I realized how much more there was for me to learn.

You didn't also realize, did you, that when you graduate your dad will cut off your allowance?

3. I must admit the thought did enter my mind.

Has the thought ever entered your mind that you might get a job and make a career for yourself?

4. What about my thirst for knowledge?

Just because you work doesn't mean you have to stop learning.

5. You mean earn while learning?

Right. And you can do it at Equitable. They'll pay 100% of your tuition toward a qualified graduate degree. At the same time, the work is challenging, the pay is good, and I hear you move up fast.

6. But what do I know about insurance?

With your thirst for knowledge, I'm sure you'll be the star of their development program.

Make an appointment through your Placement Office to see Equitable's employment representative on MARCH 8 or write to Edward D.
