Abolition." They will also conduct a membership drive and raise funds to support Vietnamese war orphans.

As YAFers streamed into the hall after their meeting, they were met by Ad Hoc members, whose meeting had also just ended. The SENSE meeting, which started later than the other two, was still in progress, so most of the YAF membership and some Ad Hocers joined in to hear the latest in local liberalism.

G.E. College Bowl Team Chosen

IT'S A TOSS UP and David Keiter (7th-mathematics-York), has it entitling his team to the bonus question in last night's College Bowl practice question in the Hetzel Union Building. Keiter was one of eight students selected last night for the University's preliminary General Electric College Bowl team. Others selected were: David Gill (7th-speech-Pittsburgh), Ralph McGrew (10th-physics-State College),

Judith Reimer (7th-history-Mahaffey), Wynn Schiabe (2nd-liberal arts-Broomball), Arthur Tischler (8th-biochemistry-New York), Ivan Weiss (12th-journalism-history-Philadelphia) and Michael White (10th-political science-Philadelphia).

THE FINAL TEAM of four regular members and two alternates will be chosen sometime next week, according to College Bowl Committee Chairman Richard C. Maloney.

The team will then be intensively trained during the first two weeks of the Winter term. Maloney said. They are scheduled to appear on the G.E. College Bowl program on Jan. 16. Their opposing team will be determined according to whoever wins the previous week's contest. The team will journey to New York for the match where it will be the guests of the G.E. Bowl program.

Freshman Board Picks New Officers

The newly formed Freshman Advisory Board held elections for Executive Board positions last night in its second meeting of the term.

Elected were: Richard Martin, treasurer; Judy Yourick, recording secretary; Martha Stark, corresponding secretary; Kenneth Sawyer, first vice-president in charge of committees; and Baldo Carneccchia, second vice-president with duties ranging from Undergraduate Student Government affairs to giving "legal advice."

These officers will appoint chairmen of the six committees—publicity, newspaper, dance, freshmen weekend, spirit, and customs—some time next week. Fresh President John Fox also announced his office hours at the meeting. They will go into effect immediately from 8 to 10 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays in Room 209 HUB.

A Statement From UCA On The Right To Dissent

The Board of Directors of the University Christian Association meeting in regular session on Thursday, Oct. 28, voted to endorse the following statement on The Right to Dissent:

"We believe that Christians have the duty to dissent when their basic convictions are contradicted by the governmental policy and are willing to bear the consequences of their dissent.

In the United States, the right of dissent is an integral part of both our legal and cultural heritage. The First Amendment preserves the right of even one man against a majority in his basic freedom. For the functioning of the democratic process, then, dissent is both legitimate and essential.

Our government, thus, has an obligation to protect the right of dissent, especially in times of war or national emergency, when civil liberties are most threatened.

The right to dissent should be expressed with responsibility both to the integrity of the individual conscience and to the common good.

Therefore, we reaffirm that the individual not only be allowed to express his convictions, but must be protected in his right to do so, even though his views conflict with popular opinion or are critical of government policy or action."

The above statement was first presented as a section report to the Sixth World Order Study Conference of the National Council of Churches of Christ held in St. Louis, Missouri, October 20-23, 1965. The executive committee of the University Christian Association meeting on Nov. 18, instructed the Social Education and Action Committee and the Executive Director to share this statement, first, with the entire Board of Directors and, secondly, with the larger community.
