Capretto, Ebersole, Reid Injuries Hit Defense

By PAUL LEVINE Collegian Sports Editor

The already depleted Nittany Lion defense received another jolt yesterday when it was learned that senior defensive halfback Bob Capretto would be lost for an indefinite period of time.

Dr. William C. Grasley, Penn State team physician, said that x-rays disclosed Capretto is suffering from a broken rib resulting from an injury in last week's Navy game. Capretto is the third member of the Lions' first string defensive unit to be sidelined by injury.

Reid Lost for Year

The worst blow, the loss of All-American prospect Mike Reid, will keep the 6-3, 235-pound linebacker out of action for the remainder of the year. Reid severely sprained his knee in the first quarter against Navy, after entering the game only a few plays before. It now looks as if Massive Mike will undergo exploratory surgery.

There is a chance that Reid, only a junior, may be awarded an extra year of eligibility, thus enabling him to play both the 1968 and 1969 football seasons. The decision is in the hands of the athletic directors of Syracuse,

West Virginia and Pittsburgh. At the drills as a quarterback. conclusion of this football season, the "AD's" will meet and vote on Penn State's request. Two years ago, when Roger Grimes was in a similar situation (he was injured in the second game of 1965), the request for an extra year was denied.

The third injury in the defensive ranks will keep sophomore tackle John Ebersole out of the starting lineup in Friday night's game at Miami. The 6-3, 220-pound tackle was another victim of a knee sprain.

Two Sophs Fill In

Filling in on a defense that was none too steady when all were well. will be sophoomre Wally Cirafesi at defensive half, sophomore Steve Smear at tackle and senior Jim McCormick will again start in Reid's linebacking slot.

The defensive backfield now has three starters who were originally offensive players, two of whom are brand new at their positions.

The only veteran pass defender is safety Tim Montgomery, who made the switch from offensive halfback last season. Leon Angevine, the right halfback, was moved to defense from wingback shortly before this season began, and Cirafesi went through spring

۰.

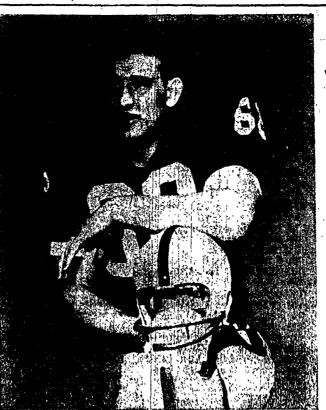

But the inexperience in the backfield may not be the biggest problem of the shaky defensive unit which allowed a total of 496 yards to the Navy offense. The loss of Reid changes the entire structure of the Sate defense. Rarely has one position been so important.

"With Reid out of the lineup, we give up roughly an extra four to six touchdowns a year," coach Paterno said. "Besides his great physical ability, the team got a psychological lift just by having him on the field. Now, we've got to learn to get along without him."

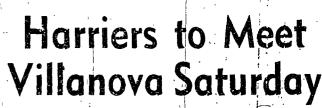

Offense Fairly Sound

While the defense is reeling from the casualties, the offense is fairly sound except for a pre-season injury to senior tackle Jack Sain which has sidelined the 6-5, 245-pounder, for an indefinite period.

The high-powered Lion offense, which came to life in the second half of last Saturday's 23-22 loss to Navy, will have its hands full Friday night in Miami. Although the Hurricanes were upset, 12-7, by Northwestern, their defense, led by All-American end Ted Hendricks, is one of the best in the country.

A KNEE injury which was aggravated in Saturday's Penn State-Navy game ended the 1967 football season for linebacker Mike Reid, the Lions' top All-American hopeful.

Five lettermen carry the hopes for Penn State's cross country team which opens its season Saturday at Villa-nova. It'll take a Herculean effort for the Nittany Lions to open with a victory, because Villanova is regarded by most observers as the top team in the East, and one of the best in the nation. In addition, the Wildcats will be out to avenge an 18-43 setback administered by Penn State in the opener last year when State finished 4-2 and placed fifth in the IC4A championships.

John Lucas, who begins his sixth year as coach, is optimistic about his team's prospects. With those five lettermen and several promising spohomores, he looks for State to finish among the top teams in the East. Coach Confident "I feel strongly that we'll have one of the three or four.

strongest teams in the IC4A conference," he said. nova, of course, is the defending champion, and should be the best again this year. But we'll be right in the thick of things along with Georgetown, Army, 'St. John's and Maryland for the top positions, "We'll have to improve from week to week, but with

"We'll have to improve from week to week, but with the individual talent and depth we have. I think to place among the top four in the East is a realistic goal," Captain Al Sheaffer of Lewistown, whom Lucas be-lieves is one of the top ten runners in the East, will lead the Lions against Villanova, Other lettermen include senior Terry Engelder of Wellsville, N.Y.; junior Phil Peterson of Wachtung, N.J.; senior Barry Rounds of New Milford, Pa.; and junior Ray Smith of Binghamton N.Y. and junior Ray Smith of Binghamton, N.Y.

Jeff Deardorff of Johnstown and Jim Dixon of State College are the most promising sophomores.

25 Coeds Accepted For Naiads Swim Club

chosen last night as new members of Nalads, the synchronized swim club of the Women's Recreation Association. The first meeting of the year for old and new members will be at 7 tonight in White Hall, according to Marilyn Eastridge, club adviser.

According to Miss Eastridge, Naiads will spend fall term learning and practicing fundamentals of synchronized swim-ming. Next termy the water sprites will begin choreographing and practicing for the spring term aquacade, to be given in the new natatorium.

New Naiads

New Naiads include Eileen Anspach (5th-human develop-ment-Lancaster), Sara Barr (4th - liberal arts - Shamokin), Patricia Belknap (6th-agricul-ture - Honesdale), Jacqueline Bernier (1st-Alexandria, Va.), Jean Bradley (1st-Millersville), and Cynthia Braun (1st-Waynnewood). Janet Brown (7th-general arts and sciences - Williamsport), Mary Buechler (2nd-Currier (1st-Ithaca, N.Y.), and Gail Greenberg (5th-physical education-Johnstown).

Judith Hartenstine (adjunct-Tower Gity), Joette Hoenstine

÷È

Twenty-five coeds were Kathy Keller (1st-Lancaster), Manheim), Lorraine Saraga Deborah Kling (4th-York), (1st-Wallingford), Wendy Shedd Susan McLaughlin (10th-fine (2nd-Glen Head, N.Y.), Susan arts-Lancaster), Rose m'ary Smeltz (2nd-Sunbury), and Morgan (2nd-Bethlehem), and Judith Van Tosh (4th-physical Carolyn Mueller (1st - Levit - education-Reading).

The new Naiads were chosen town). Karen Nicklas (4th-York), from 45 girls who tried out for Nan Reber (7th-counseling-the club last night and Monday.

Lions Heard on Radio

A total of 34 radio stations have affiliated with the Pens State football network to date for 1967, again making it one of the larger independent football networks in the country.

Broadcasts of the "Nittany Lions games are heard in nearly every section of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and are beamed into several neighboring states.

Tom Bender, sports director of KDKA Radio, Pittsburgh, is handling the play-by-play for the sixth straight year.

In his second year as color commentator is Fran Fisher, sports director of radio station WKVA in Lewistown.

The executive producer is Castleman deT. Chesley of Whitford, the director is Ed Young of KDKA, Pittsburgh, and the production supervisor is Mickey Bergstein, general manager of station WMAJ in State College.

Langhorne), Lynda Clements Four Games Televised Color Telecast Planned (1st-Easton), Carmella Con-stance (1st-Allentown), Rachel Company will regionally teletional Broadcasting Company vise four games this Saturday. said Tuesday that any and all playoff games needed to deter-The games are Michigan State at California, Kent State at Ohio University, Maryland at mine a champion in the Ameri can Baseball League would be Oklahoma and Dartmouth at telecast in color. Maccachucotte on and

To All-East Penn State tailback Bob Campbell and defensive safety Tim Montgomery were honored yesterday by the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference as they were named two of the East's top performers in football games last weekend.

Lion Backs

Are Chosen

Campbell, who did a little bit of everything in State's 23-22 loss to Navy Saturday, was picked on the All-East offensive first team. The 6-0, 190-mound inpice convident 190-pound junior carried the ball 12 times for 88 yards rushing, caught five passes for 49 yards, punted twice for a 40-yard average, returned four kickoffs for 152 yards, ran back a punt six yards and scored two touchdowns.

For his efforts, Campbell was chosen the game's out-standing back. He scored once on a seven-yard sprint and again, late in the game, on a 20-yard scoring pass from quarterback Tom Sherman. That strike was almost enough for a PSU win with dies connected with a last-minute bomb to win.

Montgomery is a 5-10, 185he Nittany Lion secondary. At Navy Saturday, he intercepted two John Cartwright passes and returned them 42 yards. His efforts earned him the distinction of being the East's defensive player of the veek.

Depends on the giant. Actually, some giants are just regular kinds of guys. Except bigger.

And that can be an advantage

How? Well, for one thing, you've got more going for you. Take Ford Motor Company. A giant in an exciting and vital business. Thinking giant thoughts. About developing Mustang. Cougar. A city car for the future.

Come to work for this giant and you'll begin to think like one.

Because you're dealing with bigger problems, the consequences, of course, will be greater. Your responsibilities heavier. That means your experience must be better-more complete. And so, you'll get the kind of opportunities only a giant can give.

Giants just naturally seem to attract top professionals. Men that you'll be working with and for. And some of that talent is bound to rub off.

Because there's more to do, you'll learn more. In more areas.

You'll develop a talent for making hard-nosed, imaginative decisions. And you'll know how these decisions affect the guts of the operation. At the grass roots. Because you'll have been there.

If you'd like to be a giant yourself, and your better ideas are in finance, product engineering, manufacturing, marketing and sales, personnel administration or systems research, see the man from Ford when he visits your campus. Or send your resume to Ford Motor Company, College Recruiting Department.

You and Ford can grow bigger together.

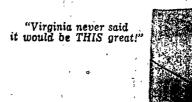

What's it like to work for a giant?

I'd like a big job please.

Virginia, who has just spent an exciting summer attending our five and 1 week stewardess training course in Chicago and flying as a United stewardess for two months will be a junior this year majoring in Political Science. Prior to enrolling at Penn State in March 1967, Virginia attended York Junior College. She works on the school newspaper in advertising, and is a member of the Society for the Advancement of Management. She hails from Philadelphia, Pa., where her parents currently reside. Several times during the school year, you will have an opportunity to meet with Virginia, and members of United's Flight Employment Staff to discuss a challenging, exciting and rewarding career as an airline stewardess. However, if you can not wait, then contact her now at 308 Stephens Hall, University Park, Pa.

1 1

An Equal Opportunity Employer (M&F