

Orioles Confirm Bauer Manager

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles announced yesterday that Hank Bauer will continue as manager next season, ending a guessing game over whether he would be fired for the downfall of the 1966 baseball champions.

Bauer was signed after last season for a contract through 1968 at $50,000 a year.

The Orioles presently are in seventh place, 16 1/2 games out of first place.

The Orioles started the baseball world last year by winning the American League pennant by nine games and sweeping four straight from the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series.

Although retaining Bauer, the Orioles management discharged three of the four-man coaching staff. Let go were Gene Woodling, Harry Brecheen and Sherril Lollar. Billy Hunter will return.

"We have discussed the 1967 season thoroughly for the past month," said Harry Dalton, director of player personnel.

AL Struggles To Find Champ

The Minnesota Twins now are even money favorites to take the American League pennant in the tense, choke-provoking race which ends Sunday. Detroit is 3-1 while Boston and Chicago have fallen to 5-1 in the revised odds of bookmakers.

"We're not running scared—we're just trying too hard," said Manager Dick Williams, whose Boston Red Sox have dropped two in a row and now are faced with the necessity of beating the Twins in both of the final games Saturday and Sunday at Boston.

"All we can do is win three straight—and pray," commented Manager Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox.

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Minnesota	91	69	.569	—
Detroit	89	69	.563	1
Boston	90	70	.563	1
Chicago	89	70	.560	1 1/2

Games remaining: Minnesota 2 at Boston Sept. 30-Oct. 1; Detroit 4, at home, California Sept. 28, 29, 30, Oct. 1; Boston 2, at home, Minnesota, Sept. 30; Oct. 1; Chicago 3, at home, Washington, Sept. 29, 30, Oct. 1.

A four-way tie is now impossible since Minnesota and Boston, one game apart, have two games remaining with each other. A three-way deadlock still is possible.

If a playoff is necessary to pick the opponent for the National League St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series, it will start Monday Oct. 2. The World Series is scheduled to open Oct. 4.

Twins Have Edge

The Twins can be assured of at least a tie—with only Detroit having a chance to catch them—if they gain a two-game sweep against the Red Sox. A split eliminates Boston.

In case the Twins take two, the Tigers would need to win all their remaining games to force a playoff. If the Twins and Red Sox split, Detroit could clinch the flag outright by taking all of its games and could gain a tie by losing only one.

Stanky and his White Sox need all sorts of breaks. One more loss eliminates them definitely. A combination of events would enable them to gain a tie—but they must win three.

The favored Twins and still hopeful Red Sox are idle today when action resumes with Detroit host to California and Chicago host to Washington.

Mayo Smith, manager of the Tigers, named Earl Wilson, his 22-game winner, to go against California's Jack Hamilton, 9-6, in tonight's game and said he planned to come back with Mickey Lolich, 13-13, tomorrow.

Sox Go With Aces

The White Sox are going with Tommy John, 10-11, tonight, following with Gary Peters, 16-10, tomorrow and Joel Horlen, 19-7, Sunday. They hope to have the ailing Pete Ward, who has a strained rib-cage muscle, and Duane Josephson, with a banged knee, ready for action.

The Twins have their two big pitching guns—Jim Kaat and Dean Chance—ready for the Boston finale. Kaat, the giant left-hander, is the hottest pitching article in baseball at the moment with seven straight victories in September for an overall 18-13 mark. Chance, a 20-game winner, was chased by California Wednesday when he tried to pitch with only two days' rest.

Williams Undecided

The Red Sox are expected to come back tomorrow with righthander Jim Lonborg, 21-9, shelled by the Cleveland Indians Wednesday, but Manager Williams indicated he might use rightie Jose Santiago, 11-4.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," Williams said. "I also haven't made up my mind about lineup changes, but there will be some."

Williams admitted the Red Sox probably have been playing in recent games but added: "We've been playing under pressure since the All-Star break. They're a good club. I'm proud of them."

Coed Picks 'em As They Appear

(Ed. note: For the first time in the history of The Daily Collegian, a Penn State coed has been added to the newspaper's full-time sports staff. Known to her friends as General Lyons, she will use her women's intuition each week and pick the winners of several major college football games. Her first attempt at preserving a perfect prediction record follows, with these 13 games).

Illinois over Pitt — Had Pitt been playing at home this week, they may have been able to pull this one out. The Illini have the home field advantage and should have little difficulty stopping the weak Panthers.

Noire Dame over Purdue — The Fighting Irish are on their way to another national championship. Hanratty gets better game after game and he'll do his duty in carrying the Irish to their second win of the season. The Boilermakers have end Jim Beirne and fullback Perry Williams, but two men can't wreck a powerhouse.

Navy over Rice — After upsetting Penn State last week, the Middies will find this Saturday's opponent a little easier. The Owls are under a new coach and he is expected to open up the offense as compared to last season's squad, but look for the Middies to reign this weekend.

Houston over Wake Forest — The Cougars are still high over their big upset last weekend. Having jumped into the number four slot in the ratings after being unranked previously, I find the Cougars having little worry this weekend.

Army over Boston College — Last season Tom Cahill took the reins from Paul Dietzel and steered the Cadets to an 8-2 log. Army is powerful again with the return of O'Toole and Lindell, and the Cadets are the team to beat in the East, leaving the slow improving Eagles up in flight.

Tennessee over Auburn — This could be one of the better games of the weekend. Look for Dewey "Swamp Rat" Warren to lead the Volunteers in a victory march. Auburn, however, cannot be forgotten, although the Tigers are still having trouble. (Sound familiar?)

UCLA over Washington State — Beban strikes again, leaving the Cougars wounded in battle. This is one of the Bruins easier Saturdays in 1967.

Michigan State over Southern Cal — The Spartans can't make the upset column two weeks in a row, or can they? I'll, (for some odd reason), give them a break this week. Look forward to a rough game with the Trojans a few points shy at the gun.

Princeton over Rutgers — Last season the tigers were 7-2. This year coach Dick Colman has rebuilding problems, but Rutgers has PROBLEMS. The Ivy-men all the way.

Texas over Texas Tech — All the Southerners are yelling Bill Bradley, so I guess I'll yell with them. Look for him to lead the Longhorns to another big victory.

Harvard over Lafayette — Crimson Tide has had their share of troubles this season but are still rated second in the Ivy League. Lafayette can't seem to get moving and is doomed to another loss.

Michigan over California — This may be the game that ruins me. Dick Vidmer is an old Pennsylvanian and that sort of prejudices my decision. The Golden Bears have the advantage of playing at home, but I'm impressed with the Wolverine's back field.

Upset of the Week

West Virginia over Syracuse — The Mountaineers, paced by Garrett Ford, encounter their toughest foe to date. West Virginia has shown agility and speed thus far, and I pick them as the sleeper of the year. Czonka provides the biggest threat for the Orangemen, but the General will give the flag to the Mountaineers.

Four Tie for Golf Lead

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Late starting Miller Barber and Randy Glover split a 1.0 round of the $115,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

The four veteran pros had a single stroke lead over five other golfers as rain and chilling winds swept the 7,049-yard Atlanta Country Club course in what was described as the roughest day on the PGA tour this year.

A stroke back at 70 were Tennessee Mason Rudolph, former amateur champ Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., Raymond Floyd, and a pair of second-year men on the PGA tour, Wayne Yates and Walt Zembriski of Montvale, N.J., a 21-year-old former steel worker.

Middleweight Title Fight Postponed

Rain postponed last night's scheduled middleweight title fight between Nino Benvenuti and Emile Griffith.

Both fighters said they did not think they would be hurt by the postponement. It was likely they would loosen up briefly to maintain a fighting edge. Griffith planned to shadow box, and Benvenuti expected to walk in the park. "It really makes no difference to me," said Griffith. "I am ready to fight now, and I'll be ready whenever the fight is held."

"It makes no difference," said Benvenuti through an interpreter. "No, I will have no trouble holding the weight at 160."

Benvenuti, the winner on a unanimous decision as a 13-5 underdog in their first scrap, was a slight 6-5 favorite in man-to-man odds according to Nevada circles. The handsome Italian gets 40 per cent of the gate and extra money and Griffith 13-3 in title fights as welter and middleweight champion or challenger, gets 20 per cent.

The bout was to be seen in several arenas on closed circuit television and was due to be shown Saturday by the American Broadcasting Company on its Wide World of Sports program.

After the weigh-in Griffith ducked out to a motel on Long Island. Benvenuti walked to an Italian restaurant on 48th street, greeting friends on the way.

Because of television and closed circuit television, few recent fights have been held outdoors. The garden staged the Carlos Ortiz-Ismael Laguna lightweight match at Shea during the summer.

The last New York post-ponement of an outdoor title fight was back in 1959 when Ingemar Johansson had to wait an extra day because of rain before knocking out Floyd Patterson at Yankee Stadium.

Now take the newest multi-sensory trip: Walk to any soft-drink machine and have some Sprite.

THE EYE
It happens as soon as you pay your money and take your bottle. Suddenly, Sprite takes you, the hedonist, on your way to a sensually satisfying tactile-aural-palatable-optical-oral experience.

THE MOUTH
First, you observe the refreshing green bottle. A tempting sight. Then you reach forth and touch it. Very cool. Finally, you uncup the cap. Now you're ready to drink in that delicious tartness --but wait! Before regressing to the delightful infantile pleasure of taking your bottle, stop. And listen.

THE EAR
Because Sprite is so utterly noisy. Cascading in crescendos of effervescent flavor. Billowing with billions of ebullient bubbles. And then sip. Gulp. Guzzle. Aaaaaaanaaaaaal Sprite. So tart and tingling o'er the taste buds. And voila! You have your multi-sensory experience.

But what about the olfactory factor, you ask? Well, what do you want for a dime--a five-sense soft drink?

SPRITE. SO TART AND TINGLING. WE JUST COULDN'T KEEP IT QUIET
