Attractions of the Week

WPSX-TV To Feature Interview with Svetlana

insight into the hopes and fears of derelict mankind, stars Jason Robards Jr. and has a supporting cast that includes Myron McCormick, Roland Winters and Robert Redford. The action of "The Iceman Cometh" takes place in 1912 in Harry Hope's New York waterfront dive. The "Last Chance Saloon" is refuge for a group of oppressed men and women who can't seem to make anything of their lives and have found escape and relief in drink and dreams. As the play opens, this group of unfortunate beings eagerly awaits the arrival of Hickey, who sets up drinks for everyone when he makes his annual appearance on Harry Hope's birthday.

This year, however, Hickey arrives in a sober state and proceeds to convince each and everyone at the bar to give up their fanciful dreams and face life with its realities.

The play, because of its four-hour length, is presented in two parts. The second part score by Gunther Schuller, is an abstract will be presented one week from Sunday at suggestion of meetings, partings, and recon-8:30 p.m.

WPSX-TV will present a rare event in television journalism when Svetlana Alliluyeva, the daughter of Josef Stalin, appears in a live interview on NET Journal Monday at 9 p.m.

The one-hour program, A Conversation With Svetlana Alliluyeva, will be carried live and exclusively by more than 100 Na-tional Educational Television affiliated sta-tions. Her conversation with NET correspondent Paul Niven will be conducted in English, a language in which Mrs. Alliluyeva is fluent.

The first part of Eugene O'Ncill's classic which she smuggled out of Russia before de-American drama "The Iceman Cometh" will fecting to this country in April. The book be presented on The Play of the Week tomor-row at 8:30 p.m. on WPSX-TV. O'Neill's play, with all its compassionate ized edition appearing in many countries.

Excerpts from the book, printed in The New York Times and Life magazine, have also stoked literary curiosity toward Mrs. Alliluyeva's early life among the Kremlin's most powerful figures.

These excerpts have ranged from the poignant recollection of her mother's suicide and her feelings toward her father to somber views of Stalin's Russia-including the purges which imprisoned many of her mother's family,

The taste of sorrow, the touch of loss, the sound of fear-all are examined in a one-hour ballet special, "Five Ballets of the Five Senses." on Lincoln Center/Stage 5 sented Wednesday at 10 p.m. on WPSX-TV. John Butler, one of America's leading choreographers, and four composers-Robert Starer, Benjamin Lees, Gunther Schuller and Eric Siday—examine in music and dance each the five senses.

"Taste of Sorrow," with its original jazz score by Gunther Schuller, is an abstract ciliations. The resolution dramatizes the most bitter taste of all-that of a human tear.

In "Scent of Flight" Eric Siday's original electronic score and John Butler's dancers take a wry view of a drug-induced "trip."

lake a Wry view of a drug-induced "trip." The three remaining senses are represent-ed by "Touch of Loss" based on a poem by Francois Villon; "Sound of Fear" a ballet of a prisoner's escape; and "Sight of Beginning" inspired by the story of David and Bathsheba. Performing the ballets are Carmen de Lavallade guest soloist with many distin-guished-ballet companies; Brunilda Ruiz and Lawrence Rhodes soloists with the Harkness Lawrence Rhodes soloists with the Harkness Mrs. Alliluyeva will talk with corres- Opera Ballet; Fern MacLarnon of the Metropolitan pondent Niven about her just published book rently in the Broadway musical, "Hello of memoirs, "Twenty Letters To A Friend," Dolly."

MARIO CORBETT

Architecture Lecture Set

Mario Corbett, Los Angeles architect, will open the Archiarchitect, will open the Archi-tect Lecture Series at the Uni-versity when he speaks at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 105, Forum Bldg., on "Katsura Villa." The lecture is open to the nublic the public.

Urge Shafer To Support School Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) - Petitions containing the signatures of 150,000 persons were presented to Gov. Shafer Friday urging him to support House legislation which would provide state aid for nonpublic schools

The petitions, loaded into four cardboard cartons, were sub-mitted to the governor by the Direction of the governor by the Pennsylv a n i a Federation, of Citizens for Educational Free-4 dom, an organization with national headquarters in Washington. DC.

The substantial financial burden carried by the parents of students attending nonpublic schools is double that of pa-rents of children attending public schools," the Federation said in a statement distributed prior to a meeting with Shafer. , Needs Adjustment

"This imbalance in the cost of elementary and high school education sorely needs adjustment.

Officials of the federation met for one-half hour with Shafer after the petitions were presented to him by three youngsters: Marianne Geng-Roman Catholic School of Chel-tenham; Danny Piersma, 10, of Bromall, who attends the Delaware County Christian School, and Hillel Stein, 8, of Harris-burg's Yeshiva .cademy. Noncommital The organization 1 e a d e r s urged Shafer to publicly sup-port House Bill 1136, which would have the state pay for secular instruction at the private and parochial schools, but failed to budge him from his

The first seminar of the term American culture will be

ZBT

Lives

Recession No Threat Analyst Sees Boom in Economy

The minirecession appears to be over.

R. Hadly Waters, business analyst at the University, noted today that theindex of physical production is climbing and is back to the level of August of last year, employment is increasing and personal income continues to rise monthly.

Housing starts are well above their low point of last October and the stockmarket is moving upward rather strongly. Although new manufacturing orders are down slightly, this is due mostly to fewer orders for planes and backlogs are still quite large.

"So," said Waters in his report on the national outlook in the current issue of Pennsylvania Business Survey, "boom and inflation still appear to be a greater threat than recession."

If the auto strike lasts through much of the fourth quarter, plants early next year will operate at full capacity to catch up. Inventories were reduced drastically in the first half of the year, but they are now being rebuilt, and the possibility of a steel strike next summer may be expected to cause stockpiling of steel supplies to begin soon.

Improvement Spending

Surveys indicate that business on capital improvements next year is expected to run from  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to 6 per cent above 1967.

The current direction of business, therefore, tends to support the argument that a tax increase in indicated. It is needed not only to curb a feverish business boom with its danger of serious price inflation but also to cover some of next year's anticipated budgetary deficit, which could create a financial crisis, Waters said.

Despite the unusually widespread support for a tax surcharge, there are some who fear that it could cause a recession and who advise waiting until a boom is in progress. Then it may be too late, for fiscal policy is likely to be much more effective in preventing an excessive business boom than in stopping one.

Some also urge meeting the budgetary problem by cutting Government spending rather than by raising taxes. Eliminating unnecessary expenditures always sounds very attractive, but it must be remembered that the great majority of budget items cannot be cut. With more than half of the budget going into defense and much of the rest obligated items like interest, little is left which is discretionary:

Of course, a cessation of hostilities in Vietnam would permit a cut in military spending, which would solve the budget deficit, end the danger of an excessive boom, and make funds available for highly desirable domestic programs.

The would-be budget cutters obviously have in mind some of the newer welfare programs; but the seriousness of the current problems of poverty, crime and racial injustice would appear to make these expenditures necessaryin fact, they are so long overdue that they should really be increased in order to be effective. It is interesting to note that there is little talk of reducing expenditures of certain kinds that might be considered postponable: farm subsidies that benefit the big farmers primarily; the four billion, dollars going into new highways; the five-billion-dollar space program; the supersonic transport which promises to create a new kind of "boom" problem that is yet to be solved.

Plug Tax Holes

Some cuts in these expenditures could be quite helpful, especially if accompanied by a really serious effort to plug up holes in the tax structure. The Government's income could be considerably increased by revisions in the law which would make it impossible for many large income receivers to pay less tax than small ones, and by removal of the depletion allowance which permits certain favored industries to retain most of their profits.

Raising taxes in an election year will be very unpopplar, but a runaway price inflation in 1968 could be even more disastrous to political ambitions.

Penn State Nite

The Bug Out

Presents

Tonite Saturday

Sept. 30 The British

Leathers

8:30 - 11:30 p.m.

CENTRE TIRE CO.

Benner Pike 1 Way Between

State College &

jammy

Bellefonte

the water in the main channel Brownsville has 52,800 residents and Matamores 100,000. President Johnson Thurs d a y declared 24 counties major dis aster areas during a tour of parts of the Rio Grande. Three

25,865 square miles—greater than the combined areas of Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. area which stretches from northeast of San Antonio 270 miles to Brownsville and 110 miles to Brownsville and 140

Anti-Mosquitoes Three Air Force planes began spraying the valley against m squitoes that swarm over and th

hnel

HARLINGEN. Tex. (AP) - cast the river would remain in The Rio Grande unexpectedly its banks. Earlier, the crest speeded its crest toward was predicted for the middle Brownsville and Matamoros yesterday. It left countless up-river U.S. and Mexican resiof next week. Warn Residents But the International Bounda-

Rio Grande Speeds Crest,

Valley Residents Go Home

dents fighting disease and high water and trying to dry their soggy homes and furnishings. warned residents between the banks and the levees to flee if The state police director said Rio Grande Valley residents who fled inland from Hurrispills over.

cane Beulah and her winds and floods could return home. It was the first time Col. Homer Garrison Jr. had given such permission since Beulah hit the Rio Grande's mouth Sept. 20.

Still Flooded But those returning might find their homes still flooded. Garrison said these could turn to relief agencies temporarily. Many persons had remained in the valley on high ground or in shelters. Those who could reach their homes yesterday miles inland. tried to shovel out the silt and dry their possessions. Still At Flood Stage

The Rio Grande remained at the Arroyo Colorado, where a break in the flood system sent Rio Grande water roaring down the normally dry ravine; flooding massive portions of Harlin. ry and Water Commission gen, population 41,000. The water gushed on down the arroyo to reach Arroyo ravine's bank eroded. The valley damage was so great no one would dare even guess at the loss.

more counties are expected to be added, bringing the area to 25,865 square miles are

Corporate

HARRISBURG (AP) - Gov. Shafer signed into law yesterday two bills raising the corporate net income tax, retroactive to last Jan. 1.

City, where house after house fell into the stream as the dren.

NEW YORK<sup>e</sup> John M, is a rolled. All are unskilled or Baltimore Negro who has held semiskilled and were recruited six jobs in the last year and needs another. His reading and knowledge of math are about fourth grade level He's 25, separated from his wife, and obligated to support his two childern on an annual income of less tha $3,500.

John M, is a fictitious name. The facts aren't. Typical Trainee They represent the vital statistics of a typical trainee enrolled in a job training program for the hard-core unemployed in Baltimore. A total of 109 trainees, 78 men and 31 women, are en-

Semeinar

American Culture

officials. "This is an ambitious pro-gram," said Donald H. Mc-

Gov't, Industry Join Forces

Get Help in Baltimore

Gannon, chairman of Westing-house Learning Corp. "We're quite happy to have it. There's a tremendous need for this type of thing."

Crown Zellerbach, Manufactur Electric Corp., is one of six priers Hanover Trust in New York, Chemical Bank New vate firms which Oerate simi-lar training programs. The At-York Trust, Chrysler an Proctor & Gamble, They profi: said Adams, by getting in creased productivity from be lanta public school system also has one. All of them are fi-nanced under a total of $14.5 million in U.S. Labor, Depart-ter-trained employes. Equitable Life Assurance So The programs are, an exciety and Sears, Roebuck ar ample of how private industry is using its managerial knowamong other firms engaged in educational programs to up grade workers or provide jobs when workers co.nplete their how to train the hard-core un-employed. The aim is three-fold: to make profits, show training. corporate good citizenship and "Job placement is the pay provide the company with trained and trainable workers. off," said Westinghouse's Ma

Gannon. "If they don't get McGannon estimated that Westinghouse has government iob. then

The "invisible" tag was ap plied by Charles F. Adams president o. MIND Inc., an af for the program by state labor filiate of Corn Products Co. These people had rules themselves out of the labo market," said Adams, whose Greenwich, Conn., firm markets a training program for industry and government. Firms Support them for industrial jobs.

Adams' clients include Xerox.

Labor Dept. Contracts Westinghouse Learning, a subsidiary of Westinghouse ment contracts.

om Rio Grande City eastward for near- aircraft came from Langley ly 200 miles, almost to its mouth, although the water receded most places. Brownsville, Tex., and Mata-mores, Mexico, across the Rio Mata-here as long as they have mosquitoes." He estimated Grande from each other, ex- this would be two weeks to a pected the crest during the month.

The trouble was not over on night but river authorities fore-

Seminar Series Program Announced

the Department of Agricul-tural Economics and Rural Sociology at the University.

The first seminar, to be held at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, October 3 in room 8 of the Life Sciences Building, will feature James Steve Coune-lie arregiste reference of all cation at the University. He will speak on "Instruction: A Theory of Practice."

October 24, Donald H. Ford, Dean of the College of Human Development at the University, will speak on "The Role of the University Teacher in Student Development.'

"College Teaching in the Social Sciences" is the theme of a series of public seminars to be sponsored this Fall by Purdue University, will speak October 30 on "Use of Business Games in Teaching Economics.'

> On the program November 13 will be Laurence E. Lea-mer, chairman of the Division mer, chairman of the Division of Social Sciences at Harpur College, Binghamton, N.Y. Leamer's topic | will be "Teaching of Economics at the College Level."

The norease from li cent and then to 71/2 per cent Air Force Base, Va. Second Lt. in 1968, would yield an estimated $60 million in the cur-rent fiscal year to help balance William Lenz, 'spokesman for the administration's $1.8 bilrevenue.

lion budget. Final approval of the meas-ures marked the first time since 1963 that a tax increase had been enacted. Shafer has a tax program in the legislature totaling $285 million, but so far the corporate net income levy, affecting only big business, has won approval from both House and Senate.

The House passed a 5-cent increase in the cigarette tax, but Senate Democrats have managed to block passage of the proposal. In the meantime, several appropriations, which Shafer contends are essential to the well-being of the com-monwealth and its citizens, have been stalled for lack of What most people fail to re-The governor postponed sign. "What most people fail to re-ing a $34.7 million appropria- alize is that the nonpublic tion to finance college scholar-schools present a bargain to ships until next week. Demo-crats had agreed to provide CEF president, said. "If these votes for the corporate net schools aren't helped and they income tax so that the scholar-ship bill could clear the legis-are going to go up for everyship bill could clear the legisbody.

noncommittal position. held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in "He neither encouraged us nor discouraged us," comment-109 Sackett, Paul D. Holtzman, professor of speech, will present the topic "American ed Joseph J. Gerngross of Philadelphia afterward. "He told us he was interested in Humor" to all interested international students. quality education for all chil-The seminar is held weekly at the same time and place. Other topics this term include "Freedom of Speech" with The response was similar to what Shafer had told two other delegations who had visited Theodores Grove, "Football in America," "Origins of Ameri-can Universities," "American N e w s p a p e r s," "Dating," "Adult Education in America," "Negroes, North and South" him this past week on HB 1136 --two Roman Catholic bishops a week ago, who support the measure, and representatives of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches, who oppose it, last and "Impacts of Foreign Stu dents on American Education.

Monday. Keep Taxes Low

The Pennsylvania Federation ler, graduate studen:, Citizone for Educational ordinate the noncredit seminar. Freedom is a nonprofit, nonsectarian, nonpartisan organi zation advocating the principle that parents should be per-mitted to select the schools People Read Small Ads You're Reading One Now! which their children will at-contracts in this field, including Peace Corps and Vista training programs, totaling $15 million to $18 million a year. 'Invisible Population' At Laurens, S.C., 90 members of "the invisible population" are enrolled in a 140-hour educational program to train

Church Services every Sunday Student Classes at 9:30 a.m.

111 Chambers Building

Pastor: Victor Stoltzfus

Worship Services at 10:15 a.m.

the University Mennonite

> Saturday 8:30 - 12:30 p.m. WARING LOUNGE

the h comes harder.

GIRLS FREE FIRST HOUR

WEST HALLS

COUNCIL PRESENTS

"SOUL FINGER"

∽∽∽pot --- PHI SIGMA KAPPA --- hash∽∽∽∽ DISPENSES

"A HIPPENING"

Terpsichorean Tremulations 9 P.M. by "The Neurotic Symptoms" Sat. Sept. 30

-"'A free grows in Brooklyn, but a flower."

Episcopal Church Welcomes YOU

Eisenhower Chapel

8:00 a.m. Sung Eucharist

8:30 a.m. "Colonial Pastry"

Breakfast. Large

Lounge - Chapel

5:15 p.m. The Holy Communion

12:35 p.m. The Holy Communion

. I.

(Faculty-Staff-

Students Welcome)

SUNDAY

WEDNESDAY

St. Andrew's Parish Fraser at Foster

SUNDAY

8:00 a.m. The Holy Communion 9:00 a.m. Morning Worship Sermon, Church School 10:45 a.m. Morning Worship, Sermon, Church School

HOLY DAYS 10:00 a.m. The Holy Communion

COAT and TIE

14.2

hearth-baked pētsa-in-the-round daily special 5 to 8 Where? Hi-Way Pizza of course!

HEICHELS BARBER SHOP

