All Stadium
Seats Sold
For UCLA

Every seat available in Beaver Stadium for the Penn State-UCLA football clash this Saturday afternoon has been sold out, according to Richie Lucas, assistant business manager of athletics.

Lucas said that students stood in line yesterday from the early morning, buying the over 4,000 single-game student tickets that remained. Since the regular non-student tickets had been gone for several weeks, only standing room areas remain for hopeful spectators.

Standing room tickets are still available at the ticket office in Recreation Building at $2 apiece, Lucas said.

The attendance Saturday will total at least 46,284, but with favorable weather and a good sale of standing-room tickets, the crowd could approach 50,000. Top crowd in Penn State history is 50,144, for the Pitt game Nov. 21, 1964.

The Penn State cross country team ran into a strong team and some bad luck as it was defeated by the defending IC4A and NCAA champions, Villanova, 17-41, in Philadelphia last Saturday. The Wildcats seemed to be in midseason form as their strength overwhelmed the young Nittany Lion squad.

Smith Got Lost

Penn State ran into trouble on the unfamiliar course at Villanova as Ray Smith ran an extra 100 yards and lost a place. State's luck stayed sour as Steve Gentry was unable to finish the five miles. Despite Smith's wrong turn, he finished a very creditable fourth overall and in first position on the Lions, 47 seconds behind first place finishers, Charlie Messenger and Tom Donnelly of Villanova.

Al Shaeffer, Phil Peterson and Barry Rounds were the next finishers for the Lions in seventh, eighth and tenth place respectively.

The Wildcats, picking up where they left off last season, simply overwhelmed State with an amazing season show of strength and balance. Villanova was so well balanced that two men tied for first and their first five placers finished within a minute of each other. Unless the team is slowed by injuries, the Wildcats seem almost assured of another IC4A win in November.

Found Secret

Despite the crushing defeat dealt the squad by Villanova, the never say die spirit of the Lions was exemplified by Smith. In talking with the Villanova runners after the race, Smith discovered that both first place finishers, Messenger and Donnelly, are averaging between 120 and 140 miles of running per week.

When the cross country bus returned to Rec Hall, just six hours after the grueling five-mile race, Smith got into his practice sweats with running partner Joe Witkowski and they headed out on a long ten mile run. Smith explained simply, "I'm not in good enough shape."

An Infrequent Lion Error

MIAMI DEFENSIVE back Bob Abbott reaches out to intercept a Tom Sherman aerial intended for tight end Ted Kwalick (behind Abbott) while Rich Robinson (28) also defends. The errant pass was one of the few mistakes Sherman made Friday night in the 17-8 upset win over the Hurricanes. He completed 15 of 24 passes for 188 yards, hitting Kwalick nine times for 89 yards and a touchdown.
