

AP Picks UCLA By 3 Over Lions

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The fourth week of the college football season traditionally is Form Saturday. Forget Upset Gulch. Look for no surprises. Stay with the charts. So it's go with Notre Dame, Southern Cal., Houston and Alabama. If we're wrong don't write—we'll write you. Last week: 46-18 for .719. Season: 151-39 for .742.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Miami 28, Tulane 0: After two shellackings, the highly-rated Floridians find somebody they can beat.

SATURDAY

Notre Dame 33, Iowa 8: The golden dome at South Bend never shone so brightly.

Georgia Tech 20, Clemson 13: Don't worry, Clemson's Coach Frank Howard will have a quip for this one, too.

Alabama 24, Mississippi 10: Too bad that early shocks took all the lustre off what should have been a Dixie best.

Southern California 27, Stanford 8: O. J. Simpson and his backfield mates run like a stable of horses.

Houston 22, North Carolina State 8: Warren McVea threatens to top last year's 8.8-yard per carry rushing average.

Army 13, Duke 10: Desire and esprit de corps are invisible halfbacks on the Cadet team.

UCLA 20, Penn State 17: The bounce-back Penn Staters, after slugging Miami, give Gary Beban & Company an interesting afternoon.

Southern Methodist 19, Minnesota 14: Jerry Levias catches enough passes to swing the pendulum toward the Mustangs.

Michigan 14, Navy 7: Big Ten bulk and the coziness of a home field trip a fine team of Midshipmen.

Arkansas 20, Texas Christian 18: The Razorbacks begin their move toward a possible Southwest Conference Crown.

Syracuse 22, Maryland 8: The 250-pound Orange tackles should be able to smother the Terrapin offense.

Look, Up in the Sky!

IS IT A BIRD? Is it a plane? No, it's Super Sherman. Penn State quarterback Tom Sherman proved that there's more to Miami than just football. Against the background of palm trees and multi-million dollar hotels, Sherman and some of his teammates enjoyed a refreshing dip last Saturday following their Friday night win over the Hurricanes.

Beban Leads UCLA

Strong Bruin Squad Readies for State

By RON KOIB

Assistant Sports Editor

DEFENSIVE LEFT halfback Mark Gustafson, who will lead the UCLA secondary against Penn State Saturday, is a 5-10, 179-pound junior and one-year varsity letterman. Gustafson was named UCLA football Rookie of the Year after a strong 1966 season.

Two years ago, UCLA coach Tommy Prothro brought a strong Bruin squad into University Park and just edged the Nittany Lions, 24-22. In that one, Prothro received national attention for his use of electronic equipment to guide the plays of a sophomore quarterback.

Last year, using a much-experienced junior quarterback, Prothro found that he didn't need even one transistor to eliminate Penn State at the Coliseum in Los Angeles, 49-11.

On Saturday, the ingenious coach returns to Beaver Stadium with his golden boy, field general Gary Beban; his massive football squad that has already humiliated three opponents; and his high national rankings. The Bruins are third in the Associated Press and second in the United Press International football polls.

When speaking of the UCLA team, which Joe Paterno calls "a much improved team over the one we played last year," one has to start with their All-American everything, Gary Beban. Most sports writers have already named him a favorite for Heisman Trophy honors.

In the passing department, Beban is almost flawless. He is UCLA's number two all-time passer, having completed 165 passes for 2,857 yards in 22 games. He also ranks second in carrier scoring for the West Coast team and eighth on the list of the school's all-time ball carriers.

The 6-0, 191-pound senior can do almost anything, but what makes Prothro smile is the fact that Beban doesn't really have to do it by himself. He has plenty of support from his offensive mates.

First there's left halfback Greg Jones, a 6-1, 185-pound sophomore who seems to be taking over where All-American Mel Farr left off. Jones, after the first two games of the season, was averaging close to eight yards per carry. Also behind Beban is fullback Rick Purdy who, at 6-1 and 209, gives Lion coach Joe Paterno nightmares just thinking about him.

Flanker Harold Busby, Beban's prime target, doesn't have awesome physical statistics. At 5-11 and 162, he's no Ted Kwalick. However, Busby ranks among the fastest men in the world. He runs the 100 yards in 9.4 and the 220 in 20.5, considerably faster than any of State's defensive backs. Senior Rich Spindler at right end is a good short receiver and senior Dave Nuttall at left end has good hands and specializes in making deep patterns look good.

The front five protecting Beban on the offensive line are big and beefy. They average 6-2 and 220 pounds and are all seniors but one. From left to right State's defense will be trying to break through sophomore Gordon Bosserman and seniors Ken Bajema, John Erquiaga, Dennis Murphy and co-captain Larry Slagle.

Four of the other five men on defense walk around with two varsity letters on their jackets. Sophomore Mike Ballou at left linebacker is learning fast from veterans Don Manning, right linebacker; Mark Gustafson, left halfback; Andy Herrera, right halfback; and Sandy Green, safety.

The scribes seem to think there is little hope that the Lions can pull their second upset in as many games. UPI has tabbed the Bruins a 10½-point favorite, while Will Grimsley, who forecasts games for the AP, thinks it will be a bit closer, giving UCLA a three-point edge.

But Paterno hates predictions. He showed it by smashing a few last week.

Cards Squeeze By Boston, 2-1

BOSTON (AP)—Speedy Lou Brock hit four singles, tying a Series' record, and scored both runs on Roger Maris' infield outs yesterday in leading the favored St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-1 victory over Boston in the first game of the World Series.

Bob Gibson fanned 10 Red Sox and gave up six hits including Boston starter Jose Santiago's home run in the third inning. Santiago was rapped for all 10 St. Louis hits and walked three in seven innings but fine fielding saved him several times.

Scored Single Runs
The Cards, runaway winners of the National League pennant, scored single runs in the third and seventh innings.

In the third Brock led off with a single, went to third on Curt Flood's double to left and scored on Maris' grounder to first. Brock's fourth single started the seventh. He stole second and went to third on Flood's grounder to first. Maris scored him again on a grounder to second baseman Jerry Adair who made a diving stop but had no play at the plate.

Lonborg vs. Hughes
Jim Lonborg (22-9), the ace of the Boston pitching staff, will oppose rookie Dick Hughes (16-6) Thursday in the second game of the best-of-seven series.

"I had a good fastball and was mixing my pitches good," Bob Gibson said.

Manager Red Schoendienst agreed that Gibson was at his best form. "Gibson looked as good today as he did two weeks ago when we clinched the National League pennant in Philadelphia," Schoendienst said.

Gibson Tired
Gibson said he tired toward the end of the game.

"But I was strong enough to finish." When asked how much rest he needed before pitching again, the big right-hander said, "I need just as much rest as the manager gives me."

And Schoendienst wasn't saying how much rest he planned for Gibson, who bounced back from a broken right leg in mid-season. "I'll pitch Dick Hughes tomorrow and then probably Nelson Briles in the first game at St. Louis," the Redbird skipper explained. He said his pitching plans were not finalized beyond the third game.

Schoendienst, relaxing after his first World Series victory as a manager, said, "they all played good games . . . and did you see that catch Mike Shannon made at third?"

He referred to a stop Shannon made of a hard grounder down the line by Boston's Jerry Adair. Shannon grabbed the ball, turned and threw off balance from behind third and got Adair by a step.

Gibson said he made a bad pitch on the ball Boston's starting pitcher, Jose Sant-ago, slammed over the high left field wall.

"I hung a curve ball on Santiago," Gibson said. "It was a bad pitch—I've made 'em before and I'll make them again."

Tim McCarver, the Cardinal catcher, said Gibson's curve ball "was jumping more than usual. He pitched a great game and threw a lot of good fast balls."

"I think Gibson has been better since he broke his leg in mid-July," McCarver continued. "We try to make every pitch count, and he did it out there today."

Bosox Shun Loss; Williams Confident

Dick Williams, the rookie manager of the Boston Red Sox, managed a grin and looked ahead yesterday after dropping the World Series opener.

"We don't feel bad," Williams said. "We're just glad to have the chance to play them again tomorrow. This is only the first one."

Most of Boston's American League champions trooped silently into the clubhouse. The bleak atmosphere was broken by a shout from the end of the room: "Chins up everybody. We'll get 'em tomorrow."

Wasn't High-Scoring
"I thought it would be a high-scoring series," Williams said in his crowded office. "I was wrong today, but I still think it will turn out to be. Of course, it might have been a high-scoring game today if it hadn't been for the double plays we pulled off in the first two innings."

Williams, like his players, gave all the credit in the world to right-hander Bob Gibson, who pitched a six-hitter, and speedy Lou Brock, who tied a World Series record with four straight singles, stole two bases and scored both St. Louis runs.

"Gibson pitched one helluva ball game," the Boston field boss said.

"As for Brock, I guess we had the wrong book on him," he added. "The book worked on Orlando Cepeda and we got him four straight times. But nothing worked against Brock."

"Brock's speed paid off. We thought we might have had him on his stolen base in the seventh. Rico Petrocelli befeared a little, but I couldn't really tell from my position. It was awfully close."

Scored on Grounds
After stealing second, Brock moved to third on an infield grounder and scored as second baseman Jerry Adair had to dive to his left to grab Roger Maris' grounder.

"Jerry didn't have any play at the plate," Williams said. "If the ball had been hit straight at him, it would have been different. But give Brock credit. He's a great runner."

Williams recalled that he batted "quite a bit" against Gibson during a barnstorming trip a few years ago. Asked how he fared, Williams cracked: "We survived."

Yaz Tops in Field
Carl Yastrzemski, Boston's triple Crown winner, enjoyed a tremendous day afield, throwing out a runner at the plate, and making a spectacular leaping catch of a line drive by Curt Flood.

However, Yaz was hitless in four appearances against Gibson—and spent time in the batting cage after the game.

WRA Entries Due Monday

Entry sheets for Women's Recreation Association volleyball tournament are due tomorrow at the WRA office in White Hall. Tennis and table tennis entry sheets are due Monday.

All interested women should sign up with their floor or sorority representatives. According to WRA Intramural Adviser Maryann Domitrovitz, town women who want to participate in intramurals should sign up at the WRA office. Also, any woman who would like to serve as town representative should contact Miss Domitrovitz.

Schedules for the tournaments may be picked up at noon Oct. 12 in the WRA office.
