

'Dome Readies For Titan Duel

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—When UCLA and Houston meet Jan. 20 in the Astrodome, the two top-ranked basketball teams will operate from dugouts and make use of a court from California and backboards from Massachusetts.

Special dugouts for use by players, official scorers and timers, and news media representatives will extend the length of the court on both sidelines.

More than 44,000 tickets have been sold for the nationally televised game. The final batch of reserved seat tickets goes on sale Friday. Standing room only tickets to be sold later are expected to push the attendance total to a record 55,000.

Jack O'Connell, Astrodome vice president for conventions and expositions, said Thursday UCLA will not have a home court advantage even though the Uclans have played on the Los Angeles Arena court that is to be shipped here for the first basketball game to be played in the domed structure.

"UCLA plays only a few of its games on this court and, besides, we are obtaining the backboards from Massachusetts and the baskets from local sources," O'Connell said. The dugouts will be 18 inches deep and four feet wide.

"They will be necessary in that no spectators will be on the main floor and we want everyone in the stands to have a good view of the court," O'Connell said.

He estimated it will cost about $10,000 to convert the stadium for basketball after it is used Jan. 12-13 for an auto thrill show and destruction derby. The estimate includes renting and shipping the Los Angeles court.

"The court will not arrive in Houston until Jan. 17 and it will have to be returned to Los Angeles immediately after the UCLA game," O'Connell said.

"It is to be used in Los Angeles the week before and the week after our game."

Shortest Career?

Bob Benfield, former West Virginia center, may hold the record for the shortest professional basketball career. Bob played one day with the Houston Mavericks before back injuries forced him to give up the game.

Dissent Seen Among Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Negro members of the St. Louis football Cardinals confirmed yesterday newspaper reports that the Redbirds are not one big happy family, but said problems have not reached the boiling point.

The comments were prompted by reports in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and Post-Dispatch Wednesday of dissension that players were dissatisfied with Cardinals management and coaches and fellow players.

The Globe-Democrat reported that eight players deliberately missed bed check the night before the final game of the season against the New York Giants. The newspaper said the athletes were fined about $3,200.

The newspaper reports said players were dissatisfied with the unavailability of President Charles Bidwill, who lives in Chicago, and Negro players had demanded that an assistant coach be fired.

The reports per reports said Negro players handed a list of grievances and demands to head coach Charley Winner. Winner, contacted in Mobile, Ala., Wednesday where he was scouting Senior Bowl players, declined to comment.

"Anything that happens on our ball club is a close affair between the coaches and the players and there's nothing to say about it," Winner said.

Tackle Ernie McMillan, a Negro, said the newspaper accounts of the Negroes' meeting with Winner took things out of context.

"I don't care, remember what the grievances were," McMillan said, but added, "there was nothing so overbearing that we couldn't live with them."

Another Negro player who wished to remain unidentified said it appeared one member of the coaching staff seemed racially biased.
