

Appointments Also Announced Library Display In Pattee

An exhibit depicting various aspects of the University library system has been placed on display in the main lobby of Pattee Library. The exhibit, which will remain until Monday, includes pictures and descriptions of current and proposed library facilities on the Commonwealth campuses. A special section of the exhibit shows how a new library is built, beginning with the planning and appropriations continuing through to the actual construction.

A three dimensional model of a floor plan shows how available floor space is planned for the most efficient use.

According to William S. Pierce, assistant director for Commonwealth Campuses and continuing education, there are now eight libraries under construction at the Commonwealth Campuses. Seven of the new libraries will have a capacity of 20,000 volumes each, while the new Ogontz library will have a capacity of 30,000 volumes. Most of the libraries will be completed in 1969.

Over twenty new libraries are now either in the planning stage or under construction both on the Commonwealth Campuses and at University Park. These new libraries represent an investment of over $30,000,000.

Park will be the Branch basic library resources close to each residence hall area.

Each branch library will contain a basic reference collection, a reserve book collection, or undergraduate major courses, and a bound collection of important periodicals covering a five year span.

The Pollock-South library, which will open early in February, will be the first of the branch libraries. In addition to the basic library facilities, Pollock-South will have a study hall, which will occupy the entire second floor. The study hall will be open 24 hours a day.

Two other branch libraries, modeled after Pollock-South, will replace the temporary facilities in East and North Halls.

Staff Changes
In other library news, three staff changes in Pattee's catalog department have been announced.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pease Bradt, appointed senior catalog librarian, comes to Penn State from her former position as senior librarian, Office of Planning Coordination for the State of New York.

Emil Rumisek has joined the staff as Slavic cataloguer. A recent graduate of the Library School of the University of Pittsburgh, Rumisek holds a master's degree in Russian Area Studies from Indiana University.

Mrs. Helen Maul Brown has been advanced to supervising cataloging, microform cataloging, and the reclassification section of the catalog department. Undergraduate Library System, Pierce said. This system, when completed, will place

Friends of India Show Hindi Film

The Friends of India Association at the University will present a Hindi movie with English subtitles today at 8 p.m. in 101 Chambers Building.

The movie is entitled "Ek Dil Sau Afsana" (One Soul and 100 Incidents). Tickets are available at the Information desk in Hetzel Union Building.

Wentz To Speak On 'Who Will Answer'

REV. RICHARD E. WENTZ
"Who Will Answer"

The Rev. Richard E. Wentz, associate professor in religious affairs at the University, will speak on "Who Will Answer?" Sunday at Chapel Service in Schwab Auditorium. The service will be at 11 a.m.

The University Chapel Choir, with Raymond Brown directing, will sing the Jean Sibelius anthem, "Magnify the Lord." June Miller, organist, will play works by Buxtehude and Gardner Read.

Wentz has been a member of the staff since 1962, and is responsible for much of the adult work in religious affairs at the University.

ERNEST C. POLLARD
Noontime Speech

Noontime Speech Set By Pollard

Ernest C. Pollard, head of the department of biophysics, will be the first speaker in a noontime series entitled "The Creative Edge." The first program will be held at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Eisenhower Chapel Lounge. Those interested may bring their lunch at 12 p.m.; coffee and tea will also be served.

The purpose of the series is to encourage cross-disciplinary information and conversation, and to raise questions of human value in relation to the directions of modern knowledge. Pollard will speak on the trends of research and discovery in biophysics.

Eugene Williams, professor of geology, will preside at this first session. The series is sponsored by the faculty committee of United Campus Ministry, and is open to the public.

Justice Department Seeks Draft Lawsuit Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department asked U.S. District Court yesterday to dismiss a lawsuit filed to prevent draft boards from hastening induction of individuals who interfere with the operation of the draft.

The action was brought by the National Student Association last December after Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, recommended that draft boards reclassify as 1A those who interfere with the draft.

The Justice Department attacked the NSA suit on two grounds. That the court does not have the jurisdiction to review reclassification of Selective Service registrants before they are actually inducted, and that the student association, because it is not directly affected by any actions of a draft board, has no standing to bring the case into court.

The department said that a 1967 amendment to the Selective Service Act specifically removes jurisdiction from the federal courts to review the classification and processing of any draft registrant before he receives an order to report for induction.

In addition to the National Student Association the suit also was joined in by Students for a Democratic Society and Campus Americans for Democratic Action. Joining the organization were 16 persons, all said to be students at various colleges. The suit is being pressed by the American Civil Liberties Union.

McCarthy Applauded
In other developments, most of an audience of 6,500 students rose and applauded Sen. Eugene McCarthy yesterday after a speech in which he said the Johnson administration is "afraid to negotiate" in the Vietnam war.

Wesley Plans Discussion

Considering that there are hundreds of solar systems similar to ours, and that there may be life on planets resembling our own, "How many civilizations have arisen, looked into their night skies, seen what we see, and asked 'the same questions?'"

This and other questions about the Biblical faith and a scientific world view will be discussed at the Wesley Fellowship at 7 p.m. Monday.

Beginning with a viewing of the film, "Universe," the group will engage in a conversation about the religious significance of life on Earth.

The Wesley Fellowship is an expression of the Methodist Student Movement, and meets each Monday evening at the Wesley Foundation to deal with contemporary issues in students' lives.

Admission to the showing of the film is free, and the discussion is open to any interested persons.
