Pencek: Bad Weekend

By STEVE SOLOMON

Collegian Sports Writer Dick scheek's vesting got off to a swinging start Thursday night. That was "ne seven hour bus trip to Colgate. After that, it was all downhill.

Friday morning, lacrosse coach Pencek found out that a major misunderstanding had wiped the afternoon's game off the schedule. Colgate wouldn't even scrimmage, So the Lions packed their bags and took the 60-minute excursion to Stracuse. The bus should have kept going. State was outblayed and outshoved in the last per of and lost, 13-9. Pencek patched up his men and they boarded their fourwheeled hotel again. It took the roads at 65 miles-per-hour, then blew an oil gasket in Trout Run, which is just a short jaunt from civilization. After a three-hour layover, the Lions made it home. Only to hear and read about their "19-9" loss, as the news media erroneously announced, Flicks Were Better Penceit's reaction? "We should have stayed home and gone to the movie."

Actually, it was the cancel-ling of the Colgate game that let the air out of the balloon. The Big Red informed the Lions last year by letter of their inability to play the game, but the mone hungry Hamilton, N.Y. moters must have intercented it. When State arrived, Colgate was in the process of leaving for Rutgers.
"It was a tremendous letdown not to play on Friday," Pencek said. "We spent the entire week preparing for the game. We knew Colgate inside fourth period. The Lions, leading at the time, 6-5, got sloopy and gave excitement. Penn State, win-up a handful of point blank less against Syracuse since betimes and was ahead to stay. That wasn't the end of the shots. Syracuse scored three fore the Second World War, rallied for its seventh and then then what appeared to be its eighth and tying goal before reverting to the Now York Mets' version of luck. Randy Voigt, a senior midfielder, threw in a goal with five minutes remaining in the game, but the referees discounted the score.

"The shot hit the metal lining around the bottom of the cage and bounced back out," Pencek said. "But the referee didn't see it that way."

The impetus went back to the Orangemen, and in a matter of minutes they had four more goals and the game.

The Lions took some good jolts. Practically the entire Syracuse defense attended spring football practice in the morning, and they seemed intent on carrying the mayhem into the afternoon. The result was rough stickwork and anxious moments when several players appeared ready to square off.

Rest in Peace Lions, though, their own eulogy. "It was the broken plays that killed us," Pencek said. "They took the ball away from us and used the fast break to get the close-in shots. Of their

The Lions, in dropping their second game in five starts, got four goals from Randy Voigt and a pair of goals and assists. Schoepflin, Dave Schock, and Mike Passano ripped the nets for one score apiece.

While they play host to Rut-gers Saturday, the Lions will have a hard time forgetting last weekend. Especially the stop in Trout Run.

"All the people came out to greet us," Pencek said. "I don't think they ever saw a bus stay there that long."

IT WAS a rough day for the quarterbacks at Beaver Stadium Saturday. In the first formal scrimmage after a week of spring drills, State's first-team offensive and defensive units excelled. Above, Terry Stump, a quarterback candidate playing for the Blue squad, got off a pass just before being smothered by the second-unit White players. Only a smattering of fans witnessed the scrimmage, but several hundred more are expected in two weeks, when the annual Blue-White game will be held at the stadium.

"Mario Obando turned in the best performance of the day," Cathrall said. "The rest of the boys were too keyed up. They wanted to win too badly and they tightened up, which is obvious from their play."

Cathrall said he sees the possibility of one lineup change for today's home met with Gettysburg at 3:30 p.m. Although he's not sure yet, he antici-pates using Matty Kohn against the visiting Bullets.

To go along with the misfortunes at Navy, Cathrall got some more distressing news yesterday when he learned that a starter, Joe Kaplan, sustained an injury to his left hand. The wound, suffered in a chemistry lab, required eight stitches. Kaplan, who cracked the lineup last week, still may be able to compete against Gettysburg, but it is doubtful.

The Bullets, who posted an 8-3 record last season, have five of six starters returning from last year's team, which bowed to the Lions, 7-2. In-

Collegian Sports Writer As the sun set at Annapolis last Saturday, the Navy and Penn State netmen were wrapping up a meet that spelled dis-aster for coach Holmes Cathrall's squad. The Lions bowed in a 9-0 whitewash.

Mario Obando, the Lion captain, turned in one of the best performances of the afternoon, but he lost in one of the four three-set matches Saturday. In a rematch from last year's 5-4 Navy win, Obando and Bob Cowin battled in a contest that dragged on to three sets.

Easy at First Obando took the first set with comparative ease, 6-1, and it looked like another banner day for the Costa Ricen net star. However, Cowin battled back to score a 6-4 win in the second set and outlasted Obando in the final set, 7-5, to reverse the outcome of last year's match which Obando took in three sets.

Neal Kramer, number two man for Cathrall's Lions, got off to a poor start, 6-4, but he pulled even in the second set by turning the tables on Bob Beard, scoring a 6-4 triumph. However, Beard completely dominated Kramer, 6-1 in the
