

Drop Approved-Disapproved Housing List Idea

TIM, Landlords Compromise To 'Young Republican' Post

By MARYANN BUCKNUM
Collegian Staff Writer

Because of a strong wave of opposition from the borough landlords, the Town Independent Men's Council has compromised certain points in the fair agreement lease, according to Dave Vinikoor, chairman of the Legal Awareness Committee.

Vinikoor explained at a council meeting last night that he did make certain concessions to the landlords but the lease is acceptable to TIM.

In its present form, the lease calls for a contract of not more than ten months except when both parties agree on an extension of this period, in writing.

No Interest Clause

In addition, there is no 4 per cent interest clause concerning required damage deposits, if the landlord agrees to keep the money in a non-interest bearing account. The new lease also permits landlords to enter apartments, but only in special emergencies with the consent of the residents.

Vinikoor stated, "We have met most of the objections but tried to keep a workable, strong lease." He said that if TIM doesn't receive any response from the landlords in the near future, they will be forced to seek an alternate plan. This strategy rejects the approved-disapproved housing idea.

Regarding the recent borough enforcement program of the housing code, the council passed a formal resolution giving full approval of the borough's actions. The resolution, proposed jointly by Vinikoor and housing chairman Jeff Lobb, was unanimously approved.

Vinikoor also outlined the policy the council should adopt concerning the breakage of contracts by students under 21 years, who have signed 12 month leases. Their status as minors does not give them the right to break a lease, he said. The council advises students to sublet the apartment for the summer to fulfill their contract agreements.

Terry Klasky, town congressman announced that the "Town Talk" table will be set up all day Thursday and Friday on the ground floor of the Hetzel Union Building. The TIM members will be available at that time for any questions about downtown living.

PLCB Announces State Store

The Pennsylvania State Liquor Control Board has announced plans for the construction of a new State Liquor Store in the State College area.

The new store will be built at 1600 North Atherton St. in Patton Township, north of the University. The volume of business done in this area was given as the reason for construction of the second store. The store, which will be near Toffrees and the new Oakwood development, will be in State College's largest area of development.

Construction is scheduled to begin as soon as the lease is fully executed. The completion date is set tentatively for August or September.
