52 injured in Belfast blast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland — Fifty-two persons, most of them women, were injured yesterday by a bomb that exploded behind a big movie theater and rocked central Belfast. Minutes later, another blast wrecked a Londonderry hotel. The Belfast explosion panicked a matinee audience at the Ritz Cinema. People ran out screaming. Ambulances took the injured to hospitals.

Only a few of the moviegoers were hurt when the bomb went off outside a hijacked truck. Most of the injured were shoppers and office girls bloodied by shattered windows and suffering from shock.

The blast smashed windows in the Europe Hotel, Belfast's newest and biggest, and other downtown buildings up to 300 yards away.

The terrorist attack came despite pleas for peace after two girls were killed and 136 persons injured Saturday in the bombing of a crowded Belfast restaurant.

Group calls for amnesty

PITTSBURGH — The leader of a national Roman Catholic lay group yesterday called on President Nixon to grant amnesty to all conscientious objectors.

In a letter made public Monday, Jack Yorks, president of the National Association of Layity and a former priest, said: "No country can afford to close its doors" to so many "with the ability to make a decision no matter how antagonizing, the strength to honor this decision no matter how grave the consequences; and the capacity for human compassion directed by a strong sense of morality."

The group has blasted a bill now before the Congress which would require war objectors to work in certain types of alternate government service, calling it "a pagan eye-for-an-eye approach to forgiveness."

Action steps up in Vietnam

SAIGON — South Vietnamese forces have opened new operations near the demilitarized zone and the old imperial capital of Hue, field sources said yesterday.

Fighting increased in neighboring Laos, where informants said government forces were in "full retreat" after a heavy North Vietnamese counter-attack on the Plain of Jars.

Cambodia's high command reported a sharp clash on an island in the Mekong River with heavy casualties on both sides.

The South Vietnamese field reports said about 1,500 men of the Saigon government's 1st Division began a sweeping operation Sunday west of Hue.

A second operation disclosed by the sources involved 1,500 soldiers from the South Vietnamese 3rd Division on a sweep just south and west of Quang Tri City. It began last Friday. Quang Tri is just below the demilitarized zone that divides the two Vietnams.

McGovern attacks Muskie

MANCHESTER, N.H. — While New Hampshire voters prepared to cast the first presidential primary ballots in 1972, Sen. George McGovern accused Sen. Edmund S. Muskie Monday of desperation tactics in a dispute over disclosure of campaign finances.

Muskie countered that it was he, not McGovern, who made the first financial disclosures and "I'm the one he has chosen to attack."

Muskie, the front-running favorite, and McGovern are the leading entries in a New Hampshire field of five on-the-ballot candidates and one write-in campaigner for today's Democratic primary. On the Republican side, President Nixon is expected to defeat easily his two challengers.

Court hears secrecy case

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court yesterday agreed to rule on the scope of the government's authority to put a secret tag on documents and keep them from Congress and the public.

The test case concerns nine reports and letters prepared for President Nixon in advance of an underground nuclear test in Alaska.

The federal appeals court here has ruled that an entire file cannot be classified and kept secret simply because some of the material in it is sensitive.

The Justice Department objected, saying this kind of judgment "belongs exclusively to the executive branch of government."

The file contained reports on potential consequences to the environment, national defense and foreign relations of the test known as Cannikin and conducted last November on Amchitka Island.

Lottery tickets go on sale

HARRISBURG — Tickets for the Pennsylvania lottery officially went on sale today at 5,963 outlets. Odds are about 1,000-to-1 against a 50-cent chance being a money winner.

The lure of legalized gambling is expected to generate demand for some million tickets before the initial drawing the following Tuesday. But the Lottery Commission has ordered nine million printed to be on the safe side.

Officials were optimistic about sales because of an incident in Wilkes-Barre last week. A vendor there reportedly put his allotment of 500 tickets up for sale ahead of time and sold them within an hour.

The weekly drawings will offer 1,270 cash prizes ranging from $40 to $50,000 for each million tickets sold. Ticket-holders who do not win one of those prizes will have a crack at the $1 million sweepstakes to be held after each 30 million tickets are sold.

Busing power investigated

HARRISBURG — Legislation stripping the state Human Relations Commission of power to order desegregation of schools, mainly by busing, will be thrashed out today by a legislative committee and groups opposing the measure.

Last week the House State Government Committee met with a busload of Pittsburgh area parents who supported the controversial bill.

Now the committee will meet with the Human Relations Commission and the Education Department joined by citizens opposing the bill.

The bill, introduced last November, removes schools from the list of "public accommodations" on which the Human Relations Commission is empowered to act.

"We want to stop the Human Relations Commission from forcing school boards to racially balance schools," said Robert A. Geisler, D-Allegheny, a cosponsor of the bill.
