Explosion kills sailors

SAIGON (AP) — The Newport News, largest cruiser afloat, steamed out of the Vietnamese war zone yesterday and headed for the Philippines with the bodies of 19 sailors killed in the worst U.S. naval disaster this year. Ten other men in her crew were wounded by the explosion in an eight-inch gun turret which rocked the 21,000-ton warship off the northern sector of South Vietnam shortly after midnight. Many of her 1,300 crewmen were shaken from their sleep by the blast. The U.S. Navy, which termed the explosion accidental, announced it had started an investigation to determine the cause. The Navy in Saigon said the exact damage had not been determined. But if just one of the big shells exploded damage could have been extensive. Apparently the explosion was confined to the gun turret, one of three main batteries each housing three rapid-fire, eight-inch, 55-caliber guns. Repair crews will assess the damage at the naval base in Subic Bay, the Philippines. The bodies of the dead will be sent from there to their families. The 7th Fleet in Saigon did not identify the victims, saying this would be done by the Pentagon after their relatives had been notified. The cruiser is commanded by Capt. Walter F. Zartman. In other Indochina developments: — Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Haig, a special envoy of President Nixon, arrived in Saigon for a three-day series of meetings with top American and South Vietnamese officials, including President Nguyen Van Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. Sources said Haig would give Thieu a full report on the secret peace negotiations in Paris between presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese diplomats and also make a general assessment of both the political and military situation for a first hand report to Nixon. He is due back in Washington on Wednesday.

Treatments studied

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A University of Pittsburgh physician says he will seek permission to experiment with acupuncture, despite his own unsuccessful acupuncture treatment during a recent visit to the Orient.

Reuben Tenicela says the ancient Chinese method of killing pain by inserting needles into the body does not work on 25 percent of the Chinese people, a fact he said the Chinese themselves acknowledge.

He said his hopes were also dampened after an unsuccessful attempt to have parts of his face anesthetized at an acupuncture center in Japan.

"I am kind of pessimistic, Tenicela said. "But I think we should explore it. We shouldn't close our eyes to it — if we do, we may be passing up a good bet."

Tenicela said he went to the Far East in August with hopes of finding out enough about the procedure to set up an acupuncture clinic at Presbyterian-University Hospital here, where he runs a pain treatment center.

Now he says he will seek to experiment with the procedure with about 20 doctors who have volunteered to stick themselves with the long needles.

He said American doctors are interested in the pain-killing possibilities of acupuncture, rather than the Chinese claim that it can be used to treat almost any disorder, including mental problems.

Tenicela said he doubts its value in treating conditions other than pain.

Explaining his statement, Tenicela said the points where acupuncture needles are inserted are usually far from the site of the disorder.

To relieve a headache, for example, he said, a needle is thrust between the third and fourth toe.

"Somebody is wrong — either the Chinese are wrong or we are wrong," he said. "I know acupuncture is a kind of heresy here, but if you deal with the pain-ridden patients I do, even magic would be all right."

Tenicela said he will ask hospital officials here for permission not only to experiment with the procedure but to travel to mainland China to observe it there.

Motorcycle hits car

Student injured

A student was injured Thursday night in an accident on Burrows Road.

Oren Bachman, of Sunrise Terrace, State College, was admitted to the Mountainview Unit of the Centre Community Hospital with injuries received when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Robert Galante (5th-arts and architecture).

Logbook

Security patrolmen who investigated the accident said Bachman, traveling north on Burrows, collided with the Galante vehicle when Galante, traveling south, attempted to make a left turn into the parking lot north of Mechanical Engineering.

Bachman was thrown to the street. He was taken to Ritenour and later transferred to the Mountain View Unit of Centre Community Hospital where his condition was listed as serious.

Bachman said yesterday his condition is improving.

A graduate student reported she was the victim of an assault at 1:54 a.m.

yesterday.

The student reported that she was grabbed as she and her boyfriend walked past Hannaman's Brewery on Beaver Avenue. She said the attacker followed them to the rear of Campus Casino where he tried to pick a fight with her boyfriend.

A student, Darryl Brandon, reported to borough police at 2:33 a.m. yesterday the theft or loss of an antarctic ski jacket. The jacket was taken or misplaced between 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. yesterday from Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

The jacket is navy blue nylon with an orange liner and a gray fur collar. It is valued at $60.

A student was fined for shoplifting in a hearing before District Magistrate Clifford H. Yorks Wednesday.

Bruce Buffington, 110 Hartranft, was charged with taking a pencil valued at $.15 from the Student Bookstore.

He was fined $75 plus cost and restitution after pleading guilty to the charge.

Council to discuss location for center

A location for State College's controversial Transportation Center will be among topics discussed at tonight's borough council meeting at 7:30 in the Municipal Building, 118 S. Fraser Street.

Anyone is welcome to attend.

Several borough officials hope to locate the center in the Pugh Street parking garage to help offset its losses; but other officials are concerned about possible traffic congestion in Calder Alley.

The council will receive a feasibility report for study.

The environmental impact of a proposed "Attention Home" in State College for area teenagers will be the subject of a public hearing.

The Centre County Youth Service Bureau plans to open the home at 229 E. Nittany Avenue for young people removed from their own homes but for whom a foster home is either inappropriate or unavailable.

Source of funds for the project is the Governor's Justice Commission. Money will be provided through the Law Enforcement Assistance Agency. A requirement for funds from this source, however, is that the project not disrupt several environmental factors.

The council will receive a report from the Public Safety Committee for a 1973 regional police communications system. An oral report on the system, estimated costs and possible benefits will be presented at tonight's meeting.

Put a smile on that pumpkin

It's the perfect autumn day: sunny, but crisp and cool, with the smell of burning leaves and the colors of changing foliage. A great afternoon for getting into the mood of the season and carving out that pumpkin. And even though it's "that time" of the month, you're feeling really happy, with a smile as broad as the pumpkin's. Because you have the comfortable feeling of Tampax tampons' internal sanitary protection. And the confident feeling you get because Tampax tampons free you from irritation, odor and worries. Comfort, freedom and confidence are important to you and to women all over the world, so it's no wonder more women trust Tampax tampons to help keep them smiling.

Our only interest is protecting you.
