Dick Pencek pensive over future

But it's only the middle of April...

Football already? True enough. Saturday afternoon Joe Paterno's gridders, minus some two dozen veterans, open spring drills which will culminate five weeks later in the intrasquad Blue-White game.

"We want to get a look at some of our younger players and we can do a better job of evaluating them if we have them by themselves for the first three days of practice," Paterno says. "We're pretty sure where the players we have excused are going to play."

Most of the veterans, then, will report the following week, after the initial three practices. Among those who will miss the entire training camp are tackle Randy Crowder, an All-America candidate who is recuperating from knee surgery, and receivers Jimmy Scott and Dave Bland. Scott has been excused for spring track and Bland is studying in England.

F&M outhustles State 10-5

Pencek calls for change

By MARK SIMENSON
Assistant Sports Editor
Dick Pencek promised some lineup changes for tomorrow night's match with Syracuse after the lacrossers dropped a 10-5 decision to Franklin and Marshall.

"We got nothing out of our attack so we're going to go with some other kids," the Lion coach revealed last night. Penn State combined a terrible first half with a second one where it held the Diplomats scoreless for 22 minutes. F&M, ranked 20th in the nation in one coaches poll, dominated the action and owned a 7-2 lead at intermission.

"They outhustled us and ran us off the field in the first half," said Pencek, "I would rather have a kid run until he falls than have him not hustle." The Lions inched back to a 7-4 deficit on tallies by Bob Cohen and Kevin Campbell. Pressing Diplomat goalie John Martino, the Lion shooters saved him the trouble of making some saves by hitting the goal post three times.

Martino had 17 saves in the match, but spent a lot of time watching his teammates maneuver in the State offensive zone.

Penn State outshot the Diplomats 41-35 and held a 41-32 edge in ground balls, but couldn't score when it held a man advantage. The Lions converted only two of 13 penalty situations.

Leading 7-4 in the fourth quarter, F&M iced the match when the ball rolled in after Rich Caravella appeared to make a great save.

Caravella turned away 16

F&M shots and shutout the Diplomats for the third period when the Lions were a man down, but couldn't count on aggressive team play to back him up.

"We didn't do things well as a team and let Franklin and Marshall take the upper hand," Pencek admitted.

The Lions were also lacking in the contact department, an area that Pencek stresses in his match strategy. The lacrosse boss said his players didn't hit yesterday as well as they did against Drexel when several Dragons were sent sprawling to the AstroTurf.

The match, the second Middle Atlantic Conference contest for the Lion detest, leaves Penn State at 2-2 with a 1-1 league mark. F&M stands 4-0 and is favored to win the Penn-Del. crown.

Syracuse, which has been up and down this year, enters the night match with a wealth of talent according to Pencek. "Syracuse is one team I'd like to beat," he said. "I know they'll have no trouble getting up for this one." Penn State upset Syracuse 12-9 in 1971 and the Orangemen edged the Lions by the same score last year. Pencek said he is expecting a tough game from his team. "I think they owe themselves something," he concluded.

Flyers soar into semifinals 4-1

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers supported Doug Favell's exceptional goaltending and a three-goal second period soared into the National Hockey League semifinals for the first time with a 4-1 victory over the Minnesota North Stars last night.

The Flyers, eliminating the North Stars in six games 4-2, will open the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal series Saturday night at Montreal. Favell, one of four original Flyers from the 1967-68 expansion team, played in all six games, coming up with another strong performance by repelling 37 or 38 Minnesota shots on goal.

Goals by Terry Crisp at 4:10, Ross Lonsberry at 16:42 and Dave Schultz at 18:01 of the second period rubbed out Minnesota's 1-0 first period lead.

Women's lacrosse, net teams open at Maryland

The Penn State women's lacrossers will improve on last season's 4-4 mark while the Lady Lion netters try to maintain last year's winning ways. The women's tennis team concluded the 1972 season at 7-1.

Be a special kind of Navy Flyer. Be a Naval Flight Officer.

Whenever a Navy plane is under electronic control, that plane is in the hands of a Naval Flight Officer. Naturally, as a candidate for Naval Flight Officer training you'll need some very special qualifications. First, you must really want to fly, even if you've never flown before. You'll also need a college degree and the kind of mind that works well with math and physics.

Waiting at the end of your training program is a Navy Commission and the Golden Wings of a Naval Flight Officer. By then you'll be an expert in areas like Jet Navigation and Airborne Control . . . equipped to do your job wherever you go.

But whatever your specialty, travel will be part of your life. And so will challenge, responsibility, achievement and reward.

The benefits aren't average either. A Naval Flight Officer can earn up to $10,000 upon completion of flight school. The pay after three years is up to $14,500. There is also a program for obtaining a masters degree at no cost. The Navy gives its Naval Flight Officers the best.

If that's the kind of career you're looking for, and if you think you've got what it takes to be a Naval Flight Officer, send in the coupon.

Gentlemen:
I like it. Please send more information on what it takes to be a Naval Flight Officer.
