Course to study Slavic culture

By STEVE OSTROSKY
Collegian Staff Writer

Students from Slavic backgrounds may be interested in a course on early Ukrainian culture to be offered by the College of the Liberal Arts Fall Term.

Liberal Arts 498A, Studies in the Ukraine to 1709, will be taught by Wasyli O. Luciw, associate librarian and head of the Slavic program.

"It is not a pure history course," Luciw said. "Background on Ukrainian literature, folklore and traditional customs will be presented also."

Luciw said Americans, especially the younger generation, should have some understanding of the Slavic culture. "The sooner people have some knowledge of the Slavic culture, the better it will be for this country," he said.

Luciw said "people in the United States have been ashamed of their Slavic background" because the public does not understand Slavic culture. This course will help people of Slavic backgrounds become proud of their ancestry, he said.

Luciw said three main ideas must be explained to students of Slavic backgrounds:

- that they are Slavic, whether their ancestors came from Russia, Poland or any other Slavic country, and must be united because of their common background;
- that customs make each Slavic culture slightly different and they should be proud of their particular ancestry; and
- they should believe in the United States and democracy and strive to better themselves.

He said he thought of the idea for this course when members of the Ukrainian Club asked him for background on the Ukraine.

Luciw was born in the Ukraine and lived in the region before coming to the United States.

Fire damages building

A blaze broke out in the Butler Building at 3:25 p.m. yesterday when welding equipment ignited some foam insulation.

The fire burned through the roof and two window sashes of the building, which houses physical plant equipment.

Three pumps, an emergency vehicle and

Alpha Fire Company were called to the scene. The fire soon was extinguished.

Alpha Fire Chief Ronald Ross estimated the damage at several hundred dollars.

The Butler Building is located next to the Air National Guard Building and near the mushroom complex.

"The Plan" - Osmonds - You will never believe that this is the Osmonds singing on certain cuts in this brilliant, new diversified album. You will have to agree after hearing this gem that they are currently one of the most talented all around groups in the business today as they portray the styles of such greats as the Led Zepplin, Beatles, Letterman and Vogues to perfection. Shocking!

Joe Loris, Power Play

"The new Osmonds album is exciting proof that the boys and their music are growing up. With "The Plan," they have developed the potential to reach a much greater audience."

Richard Robinson, Pop Wire Service

"Its another giant step forward for the Osmonds. Following "Crazy Horses" which appealed to an older market, "The Plan" will serve to bring them even wider appeal and greater awareness of their multiple talents to a yet untapped market. It will show that the Osmonds are where music is today."

John Connellan, "Rapping"
