Adele Sinclair to speak to YS

The struggles of the American working class from Nat Turner's slave rebellion to today is among the topics for a special Young Socialists meeting 6:30 p.m. today in 303

Speaking on this topic and others will be Adele Sinclair; editor of the national YS newspaper, The Young Socialist.
Sinclair, born and raised in Brooklyn, New York, has been active in political affairs for several years. The 22-year-old YS member has been an organizer for the group in Jamaica and Queens, New York. She also is a member of the national and executive committees of the Workers League and YS.

Sinclair, now a student at Brooklyn College, is the former editor of Third World Edition, a monthly publication of the Brooklyn League of Afro-American Collegians. Active in the black nationalist movement during 1968-1971, she was a member of BLAC for three and a half years and once served as the organization's secretary.

Sinclair will be the second key figure in the YS movement to speak at the University this term. Tim Wohlforth, national secretary of the Workers League of which YS is the youth group, spoke last month.
