

Penn State roundup Harriers seek third win

By JEFF YOUNG
Collegian Sports Writer

CROSS COUNTRY—The Lion harriers will try to make it three in a row today at Kent, Ohio where they meet the Kent State Flashes at 4 p.m. Kent State (3-6) is coming off losses to Miami (O.) and Bowling Green in a quadrangular meet at Ohio University, which finished behind the Flashes.

Penn State (2-0) has defeated Villanova 15-41 and West Virginia 22-36. Last year the Lions snuffed out the Flashes 17-46.

The Kent State squad is in a rebuilding process. Its seven man squad has only one senior, Phil Miles, along with three sophomores and three juniors.

The top runner for Kent State is sophomore Mike Irmen, who represented the United States in this summer's USSR-USA junior meet and also in meets with Poland and Germany. John Dawson, another sophomore with varsity experience, is also a big gun for the Flashes.

Charlie Maguire, who has finished first in each of the harriers' matches this season, is the Lions' top runner.

Maguire overtook West Virginia's Alex Kasich in the last half-mile of last Saturday's race to win in a time of 24:41.4.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL—"They're a very well-coached team," Penn State coach Fran Ganter said, referring to the Delaware freshmen who visit Beaver Stadium at 3 p.m. today.

This is the second game of the season for the frosh, who walloped Milford Academy 34-13, via 330 yards rushing, two weeks ago. Delaware has also defeated Milford, 26-0.

"We'll stay on the ground if we're successful," Ganter said. "We'd like to stay on the ground. It's not that our quarterbacks aren't good, but we don't really have the time to work on things like the passing game."

Ganter, who is rotating seven quarterbacks, will have Tim Curley, John Andress and Steve Glunz calling signals today.

The frosh are also generally healthy. QB John Carroll, with a bruised shoulder is the only casualty.

The Mud Hens, whose varsity is the number one small college team in the nation, run a wing T offense and are, "primarily a running team," Ganter said.

RUGBY—The Barbarians, a team made up of ex-Penn State players, will host the rugby club Sunday afternoon, at Carlisle, Pa.

The Penn State club will take its A and B squads down to Carlisle for the game, while the C team meets Franklin and Marshall Saturday at home.

Penn State's last match resulted in a 33-4 victory over Rutgers last Saturday. The ruggers are now 2-2.

More from the makers of "Fritz The Cat"

"HEAVY TRAFFIC' IS A CRUEL, FUNNY, HEART-BREAKING LOVE NOTE TO A CITY KEPT ALIVE BY ITS FREAKS."

—Roger Greenspun, New York Times

"SCENES OF THE CITY PULSATE WITH BLACK HUMOR, AND PECULIAR RAW BEAUTY. Bakshi switches from live action to animation with dramatic effect. Bakshi's intelligence and technical mastery weave them into a fascinating nightmare, as full of impudence and coarse energy as New York itself."

—Maureen Orth, Newsweek Magazine

"THIS IS AN ARTIST'S USE OF ANIMATION TO THE Nth POWER, EXPRESSING SOCIAL VIEWPOINT. BAKSHI MOLDS ANIMATION TO NEW HEIGHTS OF SOCIAL COMMENT. More moments of brilliance, power, and depth than in 'Fritz The Cat'. Enormous artistic thrust... gallows-humor vision of life."

—William Wolf, Cue Magazine

"RALPH BAKSHI'S IDEA OF MERGING REAL CHARACTERS INTO CARTOONS AND VICE-VERSA IS DONE WITH BRILLIANCE! STUNNING POWER. Deals with sex, violence, gangsters, the Black world, New York's scene."

—Archer Winslow, New York Post

"SEE THE MOVIE! 'Heavy Traffic' is the most ingenious combination I've ever seen, an amalgam of animated cartoon and live film. A highly subjective view of New York low life as seen by brilliant young cartoonist Ralph Bakshi. IT'S FASCINATING AND HIGH SPIRITED."

—Kevin Sanders, WABC-TV
