Assistant Sports Editor

Penn State's indoor trackmen won two gold medals and four gold watches as coach Harry Groves took his men to two different competitions over weekend All the gold was had by the Lion mile and two-mile relav teams, but Penn State also competed in some individual

Starting with the CYO Meet at Cole Fieldhouse on the campus of Maryland Friday night. Penn State took gold medals in the mile and twomile relays.

The mile relay team. Mike Sands (48.3), Russ Perlman (50.2) Karl Tewold (50.2) and Mike Shine (49.9), turned out a fast 3:18.8 and the two-mile relay, Jim Morrison (1:54.3), Ed Vresilovic (1:55.4), Bob Hillman (1:55.3) and Marty Keen (1:54.6), won thanks to a tight team effort and Keen's lean into the tape at the end of the extremely close race

Fred Singleton (75) was seconds unable to get out of his heat in Doug Finkel (6.4) had the pleasure of meeting up with a few stars in his 60-yard dash field. They included Steve Williams, Herb Washington and Dr. Lee Merriweather. To sprinters, the names sound like Bill Walton, Jack Nicklaus and Larry Csonka.

Singleton lost again Saturday night (75) at the Knights of Colombus meet at Nassau Coliseum in New York, even though he was only hurdling in a field that included perhaps the five top hurdlers in the United States including the US Olympic delegation Olympic gold medalist Rod Milburn won the hurdles to no one's particular amazement. The mile relay team. Sands (49.7), Shine (51.3), Groom (51.2) and Perlman (50.6). gold watch for each member The 3 22 8 clocking was partially attributed to the which slowed track. everybody down a few that race. The final two participants in the competition Saturday night were Gary Gittings and Charlie Maguire in the twomile invitational. Maguire, who expressed surprise that -the field went out so fast (2:03 first half mile, 4:10 at the mile), finished eighth in 8:59 6 and teammate Gittings came in ninth at 9:02 2

TRACKS-The mile relay team in New York Saturday might was surprised to receive watches for their first place finish. And it didn't find out what the stakes were until five minutes prior to the race

"I didn't believe it at first," Perlman said, "But I gave mine to my father who was at the meet. He really got a kick

Maguire, who like Singleton was really up against top competition, said he wasn't disappointed with his race Saturday night. Like most in the East, he's using his first series of races as conditioners with his eye on the ICAAAAs in six weeks

V-ballers take 2 of 3 in their own tournament

The Penn State Volleyball Club proved to be a most ungracious host at this weekend's Nittany Invitational Volleyball Tournament, placing first in two of the three divisions. The PSU Collegiate squad (5-0), paced by captain Gary Strawbridge and spiker Stew Cohen, captured the men's collegiate division, while the PSU International team (3-2). placed second.
