

Chiang's policy fulfillment urged

TAIPEI (UPI)—Nationalist China yesterday sent balloons over the mainland calling on all Chinese to carry out President Chiang Kai-shek's political testament, overthrow the Communist regime in Peking and unite in a new, free China.

In another development, the Taiwan government said it would accept 10 men released recently in Peking after serving lengthy sentences for war crimes committed during World War II.

Peking released 293 so-called war criminals March 19 under a special amnesty decreed by Premier Chow En-lai and offered them free transportation to Taiwan. The New China News Agency said 10 accepted and left Peking for Taiwan via Hong Kong yesterday.

yesterday, the Kuomintang central committee officially informed mainland Chinese of Chiang's death of a heart attack and called on them to unite under Chiang's blessing and overthrow the Communists.

"We will never compromise. We will not stop our fight against Communism until the mainland is recovered and the enslaved compatriots are freed," the letter said.

The letter, together with Chiang's will, was broadcast to mainland China and sent in through balloons from the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Taiwan officials yesterday welcomed with relief the designation of Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller to head the U.S. delegation to Chiang's state funeral Wednesday.

Rockefeller will be the first high level American official to visit Taiwan since U.S. rapprochement with China began in 1972.

Government sources said Rockefeller was expected to discuss mutual security matters with Prime Minister Chiang King-kuo, the elder Chiang's son and successor, during his visit.

Japanese conservatives elected

TOKYO (UPI)—Conservative candidates for governor swept to victory in 14 of 17 Japanese provinces yesterday, providing a strong mandate for Prime Minister Takeo Miki's four-month-old administration.

Election officials said of the 14 candidates whose elections had been confirmed two were official candidates of the ruling Liberal Democratic party, 10 were independent conservatives and two were backed jointly by the LDP and opposition parties.

Miki vowed to rid the conservative LDP of its "money-powered politics" image when he took over from Kakuei Tanaka last December.

One of the most significant victories was in Chiba province east of Tokyo where Kiichi Kawakami, the LDP-backed former vice governor, won over a candidate jointly supported by the four opposition parties. Metropolitan provinces are traditionally progressive strongholds.

Vote-counting in Tokyo, Osaka and Kanagawa, the three most heavily industrialized provinces, began early today and results were not expected until at least noon. Gov. Ryokichi Minobe of Tokyo, backed by the Communist and Socialist parties, was expected to win easily over Shintaro Ishihara, the right wing candidate of the LDP.

Election officials said voter turnout had been especially high by the time polls closed at 6 p.m. yesterday, with turnout rates exceeding 80 per cent in 15 provinces.

In addition to the 17 governorships, mayoral elections in Sapporo, Yokohama and Kawasaki and local assembly elections in 44 of Japan's 47 provinces were contested.
