Cal keeps AP award with Roth

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — All-American Steve Bartkowski left his best receivers behind when he moved from the University of California to pro football and, oh, how Joe Roth is taking advantage of them.

"He does some things better than Bartkowski could," Coach Mike White says of Roth, named yesterday as The Associated Press College Back of the Week for his 380-yard passing performance in a clutch 27-24 Pacific-8 Conference victory over Washington.

Roth, now in his first year at Cal, played two seasons of junior college football near his home in the San Diego area. He underwent surgery for cancer two years ago after a malignant cyst was discovered behind his left ear.

The 6-foot-4, 205-pound athlete didn't become the Bears' undisputed No. 1 quarterback until the sixth game of the season. On Saturday, he completed 24 of 36 passes against a Washington defense which ranked fourth nationally against passing and he smashed the Cal single-game total offense record of 309 yards held by Bartkowski, last year's top pick in the National Football League draft.

"He kept throwing and throwing well. I didn't think they'd be able to throw that well on us," said Washington Coach Don James.

Cal's offense has produced the Back of the Week twice in a row, a rarity, but the Bears have some rare talent on the unit that leads the nation with its average of 451 yards a game. Tailback Chuck Muncie won the national honor a week earlier.

"We have just a beautifully engineered offense. There's always a play to go to, depending on what the defense is doing," said Roth.

Harriers host Easterns

The Penn State cross country team will try to bounce back after last Friday's loss to Pitt when they host the seventh annual Eastern United States Track and Field Federation Championships Sunday at the Blue golf course.

The meet should help the Lion runners prepare for the NCAA meet November 24, as it will be run on the same six-mile course as the national meet and the field of around 20 teams will include many post-collegiate runners in it.

Among the 180 runners and possible favorites are Charlie McGuire and Greg Frederick, who won last year's individual crown, along with current Lion harriers George Malley and Paul Stemmer, both of whom have placed high in all of PSU's 1975 meets.

The Philadelphia Pioneer Track Club, last year's team winner, will be in the field Sunday, as will the Quantico Marines, which narrowly lost to Penn State earlier in the year but has since added two runners.

Preceding the main race will be a girls' event and a masters race. The girls' race, which begins at 10:30 a.m., will not include Penn State's team because they are committed to another meet. The masters event starts at 11:30 p.m. and includes three divisions — ages 30-39, ages 40-49, and unlimited over age 50. The girls will run a three-mile race while the masters will go six miles.

The open division race, which includes the college teams, track clubs, and any others who decided to enter will get underway at 12:30 p.m.

At the NCAA meet, the course will be the same but the numbers larger, as the Harry Groves-coached Penn Staters go against the likes of national powers Texas-El Paso and Washington, both of which rely heavily on Kenyan runners, and Michigan, a narrow winner over the Lions in the Central Collegiate race November 1.

Groves says he expects about 260 individuals in the NCAA meet, with around 70 colleges represented. Only 38 schools, however, will be involved in the team competition.
