

Don't be chicken, try fowl play

By JOHN CHILD
Collegian Staff Writer

Chicken is my favorite. Chicken is versatile; chicken is delicious; chicken is available, always appropriate and delightfully cheap—at 59 cents a pound, how can you go wrong?

Unless you have to miss work or a test, in which case food poisoning is always an authentic excuse, you should cook your chicken within three days of purchase. If wrapped in foil or freezer plastic (taking care to squeeze all the air between the wrap and the bird) it should keep for as long as two weeks.

Chicken skin won't dry out if you wrap or at least cover it with foil before it is baked. The chicken is done after about an hour of baking at 350 degrees or until the juice runs clear when the chicken is stabbed.

Grilled chicken
Charred on the outside, raw on the inside—the typical outdoor-cooked chicken. Do yourself a favor—cook it in your oven for 45 minutes and finish the job on your grill. Pre-cooked chicken stays moist and doesn't give the fire time to char it.

Chicken and grapes: The utopian sandwich
The first bite is gushy. After the fourth or fifth, chomps you can taste all the goodies that went into it. Then ... crisis! ... the sandwich is just one bite away from drying out when—gush—you've bitten into a grape. There must be a God. This is the perfect sandwich because it provides its own refreshment.

2 stalks CELERY, chopped
2 CARROTS, chopped
1 red onion, chopped
2 cups CHICKEN, cooked enough MAYO

DIRECTIONS: Mash it all together, adding the mayonnaise and grapes last. Salt to taste.

CAUTION: When cutting the chicken into pieces be sure to remove all the hunks of gristle from and skin from the meat. Chicken skin in a sandwich is grotesque.

Mom's fried chicken
The trick to fried chicken is keeping the flour crust on the chicken after it's cooked. The best way to accomplish this is to slow cook the chicks—after they have been dusted—at 350 degrees in an electric skillet or at a moderate heat for about one and a half hours.

The easiest and neatest way to dust the chicken is to shake it around in a plastic bag filled with the flour mixture. This way you can save the flour for another time and also contain the mess.

1 cup FLOUR
2 tsp. SALT
2 tsp. PEPPER
1 tsp. PAPRIKA (optional)

2 EGGS, lightly beaten
2 tsp. WATER

DIRECTIONS: Put the flour, pepper, salt and paprika (for color) in the bag. Shake the chicken around in the plastic until the pieces are covered with flour. Roll the pieces in the egg and water solution, then shake them in the bag again. Repeat the process for a thicker crust. Cook the chicken in a pre-heated, oil-covered pan for about one and a half hours, turning the pieces every half hour.

For some exotic and infinitely more complicated chicken recipes, you can send $1.50 to the National Broiler Council for the winning recipes in its annual National Chicken Cooking Contest, 614 Madison Blvd., 1155 15th St., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20005. Next week, pizza and creme cheese.

Wallace ignorant of phone tap, stations say

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George C. Wallace's personal and business telephone calls at the governor's mansion were tape-recorded without his knowledge but apparently with the knowledge of his wife, Cornelia, a television station and a radio station reported yesterday.

Wallace's press secretary, Billy Joe Camp, refused to comment on the reports. He referred inquiries to Col. E.C. Dothard, the public safety commissioner, who denied the reports.

Both WSFA-TV in Montgomery and radio station WSGN in Birmingham said security guards at the mansion uncovered an expensive taping system while Mrs. Wallace was on vacation and then found hundreds of tapes of Wallace's telephone calls.

The Montgomery station said the system recorded telephone calls from Wallace's bedroom phone, and said sources indicated Mrs. Wallace was involved in the installation of the system.

Numerous reports have circulated recently of a rift between Gov. and Mrs. Wallace, which were denied by all concerned. WSFA-TV reporter Norman Lumpkin stated that Wallace threatened to divorce his wife after the taping system was uncovered, but later relented.

Les Coleman, news director of WSGN, quoted sources as saying "the devices were used to record the governor's conversations with his top aides and political advisors."

The reports differed on some details. The Birmingham station said the taping equipment found cost $2,000 and that 900 tapes were found. The Montgomery station put the price at $4,000 and said 200 tapes were found.

George Wallace

Dothard said he had been questioned about rumors regarding the taping system for weeks.

"We checked into all these rumors and there's nothing to them," Dothard said.

He said he was confident state troopers who provide security at the governor's mansion would have reported any such findings to him and that they have not done so.

There were broadcast reports last month that Mrs. Wallace had left the mansion and was no longer living with the governor. She denied the reports, saying she was on vacation, and has since returned to the mansion.

Senate postpones Martin nomination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday postponed until next week action on the nomination of Graham Martin, controversial former ambassador to Vietnam, to a new post concerning the U.S. Trust Pacific Islands.

Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, said he was "opposed to taking up the hearings at this time" without further preparation.

He said that the committee would have to go into Martin's tenure as ambassador in Italy, Thailand and Vietnam and this may require a prior executive hearing or the calling of witnesses.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said he too was "deeply concerned" about the nomination and the committee agreed to a postponement until next Monday.

The foreign relations committee yesterday lacked a quorum to give judgment on Martin's nomination. Members will meet tomorrow in private to decide the scope of the new hearing scheduled for next Monday.

Martin was U.S. ambassador to Saigon from 1973 until 1975 when he was among the last to be evacuated from the U.S. Embassy as it was besieged by Vietnamese and foreigners trying to flee the country.

He was criticized by some on the grounds he failed to prepare adequately for the evacuation and therefore helped cause the last minute confusion.

Since then, Martin has been serving as a special assistant to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

The administration wants to appoint him as ambassador at large to serve "as the personal representative of the President to conduct negotiations on the future political status of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands with the Congress of Micronesia and other Micronesian leaders."

Martin also served as ambassador to Thailand from 1973 to 1975 but came under particular criticism for his activities as ambassador to Italy from 1969 to 1973.

During the Senate Intelligence Committee hearings which concluded earlier this year, evidence was submitted that Martin was directly involved in CIA activities in supporting covert anti-communist political actions.

Rubber workers accept pact

NEW YORK (UPI) — Uniroyal Inc. announced yesterday that the United Rubber Workers have apparently voted to approve a three-year contract that will raise their hourly average salaries by $1.35 over the length of the contract.

A spokesman for Uniroyal said that yesterday's voting on the proposed settlement was not complete but that the latest returns showed that nine of the firm's 15 plants have approved the contract with only 43 dissenting votes. Approximately 13,000 workers were affected by the Uniroyal strike.

Approximately 70,000 rubber workers struck four tire manufacturers — Goodyear, B.F. Goodrich, Uniroyal and Firestone — April 21.

A Uniroyal spokesman said that some workers would be back at work last night and all workers will be back by this morning.
