Lawyers must appeal by Sept. 16

Ehrlichman free on court order

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John D. Ehrlichman, former No. 2 man in the White House under Richard Nixon, apparently will remain free until the Supreme Court can act on an appeal of his conviction for ordering the break-in at Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here handed down an order made public yesterday which effectively blocks a ruling by District Judge Gerhard Gesell revoking Ehrlichman's bond and requiring him to surrender to federal marshals Sept. 17.

Ehrlichman faces a 20-month to five-year sentence for violating the psychiatrist's civil rights.

The appeals court order came shortly after Gesell's was made public Tuesday, but reporters were not informed of the action until yesterday.

Formally, the appeals court stayed the surrender order only until Sept. 16. But under federal rules, if Ehrlichman's Supreme Court appeal is filed by that time the stay will remain in effect until the high court acts.

Ehrlichman's lawyers said the appeal would be filed by the 16th, and possibly by this weekend. The Supreme Court does not convene its new term until Oct. 4, and since the Special Prosecutor's office has at least 50 days to reply to the appeal, Ehrlichman is likely to remain free until Thanksgiving even if his appeal ultimately is rejected.

Ehrlichman was found guilty in July, 1974, of ordering White House "plumbers" to break into the office of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding in an attempt to obtain Ellsberg's psychiatric records. The break-in occurred the night of Sept. 3, 1971.

Ellsberg faced federal charges for disclosing the Pentagon Papers detailing U.S. involvement in Vietnam. When the break-in was disclosed, charges against Ellsberg were dismissed.

The appeals court affirmed Ehrlichman's conviction last May. It also upheld the conviction of co-defendant G. Gordon Liddy, who supervised the break-in, but reversed those of Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio Martinez, whom the court called mere "foot soldiers."

Ehrlichman's main ground of appeal is that he acted in direct response to presidential orders to plug national security leaks. He claims no warrant was needed for the break-in since it was done in the name of national security.

Former White House aide H.R. Haldeman, former Attorney General John N. Mitchell and former assistant attorney general Robert Mardian, still face prison sentences for their convictions in the Watergate coverup conspiracy.

The appeals court, after hearing arguments last January, still is considering whether to reverse the coverup convictions.

Discrimination bill passed by Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate yesterday passed a resolution against discrimination in hiring, pay and promotion practices involving any Senate employee.

The resolution, approved by voice vote, also urges members and officers to encourage the hiring of women and minorities "at all levels of employment" in the Senate.

The resolution is merely an expression of the "sense of the Senate" and does not carry the force of law.

Both the Senate and the House have come under criticism in recent years for not fully implementing federal anti-discrimination laws in their own internal hiring practices.

The measure was offered by Senate Democratic leader

Mike Mansfield and Republican counterpart Hugh Scott.

It notes that the Senate as an employer "is not compelled by law to provide to its employees the protections against discrimination" required under the Equal Pay Act of 1963 and the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The resolution urges members and employees of the Senate to refrain from discriminating "against any individual with respect to promotion, compensation, or terms, conditions, or privileges of employment on the basis of such individual's race color, religion, sex, national origin or state of handicap."

It further urges that every member and employer "shall encourage the hiring of women and members of minority groups at all levels of employment on the staffs of members, officers, and committees of the Senate."

Ford would not change Nixon pardon decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — On the second anniversary of his pardon of Richard M. Nixon, President Ford said yesterday that "if the same circumstances prevailed today, I would do the same."

Asked about the Nixon pardon at a White House news conference, Ford declined to estimate its impact in his campaign against Jimmy Carter.

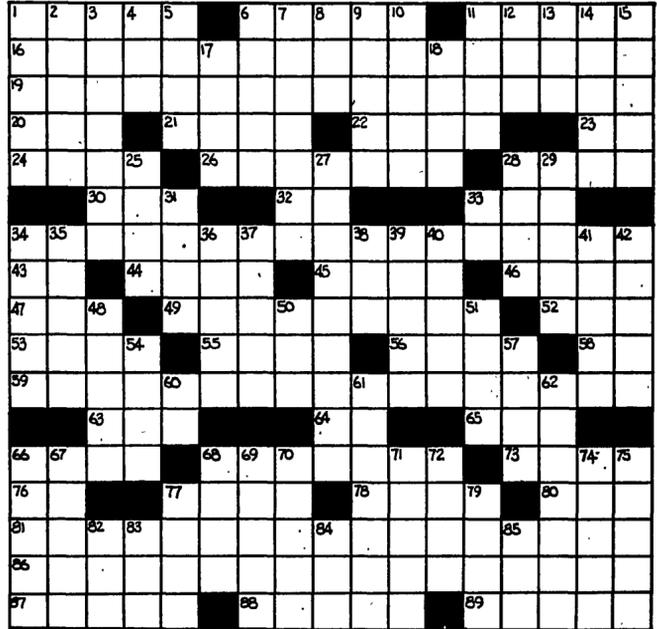

"If it is made a political issue, either subtly or directly, it is going to be very difficult to anticipate what the public reaction will be, but I made that judgment two years ago today on the basis of the circumstances at that time," he said.

"I thought it was in the national interest that I concentrate on the international problems which were serious and domestic problems which were critical. I felt at that time I should devote 100 per cent of my time to the problems both at home and abroad."
