Residents vote to reject canvassing in 19 dorms

Residents of 19 dormitories and 14 Nittany dormitory units have voted to prohibit canvassing in their buildings this year, according to Phil Grosnick, assistant to Director of Residential Life M. Lee Upcraft.

Final results of a vote taken earlier this term closed to canvassers: all East Halls dormitories; Hamilton, Jordan, Watts and Irvin dormitories in West Halls; Schulze and Wolf dormitories in Pollock Halls and Nittany buildings 21, 22, 25, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 34, 36, 38, 39 and 42.

All other buildings have voted for open canvassing policies, except Ritner, Simmons and Mifflin halls and Nittany buildings 23, 24 and 33, where revotes will be taken some time this week.

According to the Residential Life canvassing policy, canvassers are permitted in the main lobby of a residence hall whether the canvassing policy in that hall is opened or closed and in area dining hall buildings, but not in the dining room itself.

In addition, all residence halls voted for a 24-hour visitation policy except for areas previously designated as non-visitation areas.
