University police yesterday assisted in recovering a 1975 Volkswagen that was reported stolen last Saturday by owner Henry P. Cowen, a College of Education finance Officer. Cowen earlier had spotted the vehicle parked in an area adjacent to the Electrical Engineering Building.

University police report unknown persons entered 211A Business Administration Building sometime between Friday and Monday and stole two color television sets valued at $950 each.

Brian D. Pass, of Norristown, Sunday night reported to University police that his car had been struck by an unknown vehicle while it was parked in a campus parking lot. Damages were estimated at $500.

University police apprehended a male juvenile Sunday after he allegedly entered a women's shower room in Rec Hall.

Tom Richard, of 106 Mifflin, reported Sunday that $30 worth of his clothes were stolen from a dryer in a second floor Mifflin laundry room.

FDA cracks down on estrogen labels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Estrogen drugs used by 5 million women going through menopause don't keep women feeling young or maintain their soft skin, the Food and Drug Administration said yesterday.

Nor have the drugs been shown effective in treating simple nervousness during menopause, the agency added. It ordered a crackdown on the way such drugs are labeled, citing scientific reports linking them to cancer of the uterus and birth defects.

The FDA: — Ordered estrogen manufacturers to print and distribute revised package labeling for physicians within 60 days. — Proposed a special brochure on the risks and benefits of estrogens for distribution to women when they have prescriptions filled.

"Estrogens are valuable drugs," said FDA Commissioner Alexander Schmidt, formally announcing labeling requirements he first disclosed at a Senate hearing last Thursday.

"They are needed when the symptoms of 'change of life' become severe. FDA's purpose is to keep these drugs on the market but to reduce overuse and misuse."

The labeling requirements would apply to all prescription drugs containing estrogen — except for "morning after" birth control pills which are already covered by a separate warning. In addition to treatment of menopausal symptoms estrogens are prescribed for women seeking to maintain a "feminine" appearance; for women who have undergone surgical removal of female organs; to counteract breast engorgement in mothers who decide not to nurse infants and for those suffering from prostate cancer. If women take estrogens they should use them in the lowest possible doses that will control "change of life" symptoms and for only as long as the drug is needed, FDA said.

If estrogens are used for more than a year to treat the symptoms of menopause, FDA said, there is an increased risk of cancer of the uterus in the user. The new labeling also says physicians should re-evaluate estrogen treatment every six months; pregnant women should never be given estrogens because they may damage the offspring; and estrogens generally should not be taken by women with breast or uterine cancer, undiagnosed vaginal bleeding or clotting in the legs or lungs, or by women who have had heart disease, angina or stroke.

Dole's wife called down for failure to resign FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Elizabeth Hanford Dole's decision to take a leave of absence, rather than resign, from the Federal Trade Commission while her husband runs for vice president is legal but questionable, a Library of Congress study said yesterday.

Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., said she should resign anyway because her "partisan political activities ... are absolutely inconsistent with the quasi-judicial nature of her responsibilities as a commissioner."

Mrs. Dole took a leave of absence from the FTC after Sen. Robert Dole became the Republican vice presidential nominee. She said her salary until after the election will be turned over to the federal treasury.

"THE BIG HEAT" is a tough, smoothly written cops-and-robbers melodrama directed by Fritz Lang with something of the flair for suspense and violent action that he exhibited in a half dozen other films — Newsweek
