Farr supporters plan weekend picketing

By MIKE SEVER Collegian Staff Writer Pickets from the Committee to Rehire Jo-Ann Farr will be present at University events this weekend to dramatize their concern over student input in educational policy-making. A "study-in" will start at 2 p.m. today in Old Main. Organizers hope to keep the lobby and surrounding grounds occupied during office hours through the finals period, according to committee member Michael S. Messina.

Pickets will also be outside Old Main during a Saturday reception for parents of students receiving awards for scholarship, from 4-6:30 p.m. Leaflets will be distributed will be aimed at informing parents of the lack of student input on educational quality and will outline the demands of the committee.

"No one's taking respon-sibility," Messina said. "The department says it's out of their hands and the administration tells us it's a department affair. "We're reasonable people.

We just want to talk to someone about it," Messina said.
