Frank may get Texas bye-bye

Rangers' Lucchesi on the block

DALLAS (AP) — Frank Lucchesi, the 48-year-old manager of the Texas Rangers, will be fired this week probably in the next two days — an unimpeachable Rangers source told The Associated Press by telephone from Minneapolis yesterday.

The source was the same one who said Billy Martin wouldn't last out the week with the Rangers in July 1975. Martin didn't and Lucchesi replaced him on July 21, 1975.

Texas is in Minneapolis for a four-game series with the Twins.

The Rangers are close to the top in American League West but are some 100,000 behind in attendance from last season. Majority owner Brad Corbett, who had been a staunch backer of Lucchesi, now says "This road trip is crucial."

The Rangers have talked to Eddie Stanky, former Cardinals manager and now head baseball coach at the University of South Alabama. The job is apparently Stanky's if he wants it.

The Ranger source said Lucchesi would be offered a spot in the organization. Lucchesi has a year to go on his contract.

Fort Worth, Tex., radio station KRXX contacted Lucchesi in a Minneapolis hotel and he said: "I'm a little shocked and surprised but it sounds like to me there could be some panic in the upper levels of the Ranger organization."

Asked to be more specific, Lucchesi added: "I can't get into that right now. It's absolutely ridiculous to have all this talk going on while we are a contending team."

Reds batter Phils; Yanks keep sliding

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — George Foster slammed a three-run home run and singled home a fourth run as the Cincinnati Reds blasted the Philadelphia Phillies 10-5 last night.

The Reds battered four Philadelphia pitchers for 17 hits, including a two-run homer by Johnny Bench and a solo shot by rookie pitcher Paul Moskau.

Cincinnati broke a 4-4 tie with a three-run fifth off Phillies reliever Warren Brusstar, 1-1, and Foster wrapped it up in the sixth with his 19th homer.

Ken Griffey led off the sixth with his third hit, a single and Joe Morgan walked. On a 3-1 pitch, Foster ripped a Brusstar pitch off the scoreboard in right-center for three runs and 10-4 lead.

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Stanley and Tito Fuentes smashed two-run homers while Jim Crawford shackled New York with seven strong relief innings as the Detroit Tigers whipped the slumping Yankees 5-2 last night.

Detroit, trailing 1-0, scored three times in the fourth inning off Ron Guidry, 5-3. Rusty Staub opened with a single and scored on a triple by rookie Steve Kemp. After one out, Stanley hit his sixth homer of the season into the upper deck in left-center.

Fuentes hit his second homer of the year in the fifth inning, scoring behind Tom Verzyer, who had doubled.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Luis Tiant hurled Boston's second consecutive two-hit shutout and pitched the streaking Red Sox to a 7-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles last night as Jim Rice and George Scott hit home runs.

The Red Sox have won five in a row and 14 of their last 16 games.

Tiant, 5-5, hurled only his second complete game in 14 starts this season.

Rice cracked his 17th homer — his ninth hit in 12 times at bat.

Hockey owners to OK president

CHICAGO (AP) — The formal election of John Ziegler as president of the National Hockey League will be the primary matter facing the league's Board of Governors when it begins a three-day meeting here today.

Though the hockey world waits for news regarding the possible acceptance by the NHL of World Hockey Association franchises, the governors first will deal with the promotion of the Detroit Red Wings' vice president to the position held since 1946 by Clarence Campbell.

While Ziegler's ascendance was to have been settled during the NHL's recent meetings at Montreal, a delay was forced by the need for constitutional rewording which would permit his serving not only as president but as chairman of the board.

That matter was expected to be dispatched today, clearing the way for meetings between the owners and players tomorrow and Friday. These conclaves would decide whether prospective merger might take place.

"The aspect of accommodation — that's what we'll call it for lack of a better word — will arise in the course of the sessions with the players," said Campbell by telephone from his Montreal office.

"They (the players) have not defined their position on the matter."

And since the NHL Players Association has the power to tear up the current collective bargaining agreement with the owners should a merger take place, the players were expected to clarify their feelings on the subject.

Looking good can't hurt

Thanks to the enterprising clothing manufacturers, any one of us can look like an athlete while having the grace of a beached whale.

We are more beauty conscious than ever, and recreational athletics is no exception. Admittedly, people have been concerned about physical fitness for health reasons and just plain fun and enthusiasts are doing much more than dusting off the old gray sneakers and the vintage college T-shirts that hang down to the knees. They're going to great lengths, no pun intended, to find the pair of shorts that best show off a notable pair of legs. Whatever is printed on their T-shirts shows where they've been, which celebrity they're a fan of, what product they're endorsing, or simply who they are. When that precious athlete's foot trots by, the stars, stripes and bright colors that it wears tell as much as a ten-foot billboard. Of course, everything is color-coordinated all the way down to the wristbands.

Sports-oriented clothes aren't just for getting all hot and sweaty in either. An authentic rugby shirt and a pair of Levis makes almost any guy look a little better. No one has to be a physical education major to wear a warmup suit to class to feel comfortable and look sharp. Walk down College Avenue on a hot afternoon and see Penn State exercise shorts giving the traditional favorite, cut-off jeans, tough competition. Pick up any summer issue of a top women's fashion magazine and see

Time out, say the perfect specimens of physical fitness. We've been looking good at this game long before the rest of you got a firm grip on your racquets. The sports-oriented fashion craze won't last any longer than studded bell-bottom jeans or yarn hair ribbons did.

After a few strained muscles and attacks of uncoordination, all you newcomers will go back to lounging by the pool without getting your hair wet or being armchair quarterbacks with a beer in your hand. You guys are just following a fad; you don't take physical fitness seriously.

Perhaps this is true in a few instances. However, most of us know that it is not what we put on our bodies that makes us athletic, it's what we do with our bodies.

The sports-oriented fashion craze, fad or not, can't do any harm. Anything that has gotten a few of us off our backsides can't be that bad. If a dashing $50.00 warmup suit inspires you to jump over the net, then grab a racquet and start swinging.
