Dairy Expo

Judges Lee Yost and Obie Snyder are checking out the cows at the 1978 Dairy Expo. The show was held Saturday, at the University dairy barns. About 115 students competed in the event. Each student had to care for a University cow for six weeks and prepare it for the show. The students were judged on their showmanship and grooming of the animals. The overall champion was Dave Castrogiovanni (6th-dairy production). A crowd of 80-90 people attended the show, which was the final event of the Dairy Expo sponsored by the Penn State chapter of the Dairy Science Club.

Israel awaits next Egypt peace move

LONDON (UPI) — Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan said Sunday that Israel is still awaiting an Egyptian response about its willingness to renew Middle East peace negotiations.

"We are hoping to hear from the United States if the Egyptians are ready to renew negotiations with us and, if so, to talk on the merits of the issues," Dayan said at an airport news conference in Tel Aviv before flying to London.

Dayan arrived in London for a 36-hour stopover before leaving for an official visit to Norway and other Scandinavian countries.

Armed police provided a tight security cordon around Dayan's El-Al airliner when it flew into Heathrow airport.

On his recent visit to Washington, Dayan and his administration leaders agreed that the next steps in the peace negotiations should focus directly on issues such as the future of the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River and no longer on the thorny declaration of principles.

Syria rejects mediation efforts

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — The official press of Syria Sunday rejected an early reconciliation with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and revived attacks on Sadat's peace initiative with Israel.

Editorials in the state-controlled newspapers rejected a mediation mission by Sudanese President Jaafar Numeiry, who left early in the day following two days of talks.

Al-Baath, the official newspaper of the ruling Baath Socialist Party, called Numeiry's mission "an invitation to capitulation," and repeated on earlier call for Sadat's overthrow.

"Numeiry's mission is rejected in form and in substance," it said.

Numeiry returned to Alexandria, Egypt later Sunday to brief Sadat.
