Rape trial evokes black protest

CULLMAN, Ala. (UPI) — The first witness in a rape trial against Tommy Lee Hines, a retarded black man, said Tuesday he was the man wearing a green garbage bag mask who attacked her in a railroad office last February. Rosemary Harris, 21, told the all-white jury she could see her assailant's face despite the bag and pointed to Hines when District Attorney Mike Moebes asked her if the man was in the courtroom. The 26-year-old Hines has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the charges. He also faces two other rape charges and a robbery charge, all involving white women. Hines' trial has sparked demonstrations by the Ku Klux Klan and blacks. Officials of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference contend Hines could never have committed the crimes because of his mental condition. Miss Harris described the attack in detail and said the bag had an opening cut in it so she could see her assailant's face.
