

Carter decision shakes talks

Vance holds SALT discussions

MOSCOW (UPI) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance met twice yesterday with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko for SALT talks that Soviet sources said had been shaken by President Carter's decision to build parts of the neutron bomb.

Vance and the full squad of U.S. Strategic Arms Limitations Pact negotiators met with Gromyko and his aides for 3½ hours in the morning and a smaller group met in the afternoon for two hours and 15 minutes.

Vance spokesman Hodding Carter III told reporters after the afternoon session the secretary of state considered the two rounds to have been "constructive," but declined to give a specific assessment of the progress achieved.

But the spokesman did state strongly that the Soviet side had not sought to make an issue of President Carter's recent decision to go ahead with production of parts of the neutron bomb.

The spokesman said Carter had ordered Vance to return to Washington directly after the talks and added Vance still plans to return Tuesday morning although "the secretary is willing to stay (in Moscow) as long as it takes."

The Vance spokesman earlier told reporters the morning session in the Kremlin focused on limits on the U.S. cruise missile, the Soviet Backfire bomber and new types of strategic missiles and the timing of arms reductions.

Gromyko, pressed by reporters to comment on the chances of concluding a new SALT agreement during the two-day round of talks, said, "It is impossible to say anything before the negotiations."

But the cautious optimism that Vance exuded when he arrived from Geneva Saturday did not appear to be matched by several Soviet sources with ties to high officials in the Soviet leadership.

The sources said the Soviet leaders are distressed by a number of recent developments in U.S.-Soviet relations that could cause some delay in reaching a final agreement.

One source said President Carter's decision to order production of components of the neutron bomb caused some Moscow military leaders to advise the Kremlin to go slow on completing the projected SALT treaty.

Another Soviet source said the Kremlin leadership was anguished by headline statements made by U.S. Ambassador Malcolm Toon during a recent trip to the United States.

The Kremlin is becoming increasingly disappointed with Toon and inclined to bypass him in U.S.-Soviet relations, the sources said.

Hodding Carter also told reporters he did not believe Vance and Gromyko had discussed the possibility of a summit between President Carter and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

A Soviet source said the summit is a delicate matter at this point for Soviet leaders because of the espionage trial in New Jersey of two Soviet diplomats assigned to the United Nations.

Both U.S. and Soviet sources have indicated Brezhnev is considering meeting with Vance this afternoon, before the secretary of state flies home, but so far no meeting has been scheduled.

Mid East economic plan being promoted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Leading members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee are promoting a "new Marshall Plan" for the economic development of Israel and its Arab neighbors, perhaps starting with projects in the Sinai.

Committee sources said Israel and Egypt are the focus of the plan so far, but it could be expanded to include "all those in the Middle East who are willing to live in peace."

The United States and other western industrial powers would be major participants, similar to the makeup of former Secretary of State George Marshall's post-World War II economic recovery program for Europe.

A committee resolution calls for "inviting Egypt and Israel to explore with our government and with the governments of other western industrial nations the opportunity for a new Marshall Plan for the Middle East."

The resolution, sent to the committee Oct. 12, said the program should lead "to a full economic partnership with the Israeli and Egyptian people and all those in the Middle East who are willing to live in peace."

The resolution, like other measures introduced in the closing days of the 95th Congress, was scrapped in the rush to bring the legislative session to an end.

But the committee's ranking Republicans and Democrats who sponsored the resolution were expected to bring the measure up again for early consideration when the 96th Congress convenes in January.

And one of the resolution's sponsors, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, will become chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee in January. Congressional sources said the State Department has already begun studying possible joint projects under the proposed program.

Bomb threats declared hoaxes

Two bomb threats were reported to University Police Services on Friday.

Police said they received an anonymous phone call at about 10 a.m. which said a bomb would go off in Beaver Stadium Saturday. Lois Loftes, a telephone operator, later told police there had been a call saying a bomb had been placed on the third floor of McKean Hall. Police investigated both incidents and found them to be hoaxes.

Ross Heckard, 920 Gratham Road, Gratham, was arrested by University police for threatening officer Wayne Weaver. The incident occurred Saturday under the south stands of Beaver Stadium. Heckard was arraigned before District Magistrate Clifford Yorks, and released on nominal bail.

A fire at the Dairy Breeding Research Center on Saturday caused $1,000 in damages, University police said. Police said the fire started in the basement near the oil furnace.

Emile Nemchiki, 606 McKean Hall, told University police his bicycle had been stolen Friday from McKean. The bike is valued at $90.
