Digital.

Digital is unlike most companies its size (over a billion in computer sales). We're structured to encourage the unfettered and unconventional. That's the way we like our people. And that's the nature of opportunity here.

For the tough and talented.

Our professionals make their own beds. And they contribute from the day they start. We expect it. They expect it. No one's disappointed.

If you're a top CS, EE or ME major or interested in Sales - and you've got what it takes to make your way in our kind of company - let's talk. But if you like routine, the comfort of a crowd, and can't reach beyond your grasp, see the competition. For information about your kind of company, contact the placement office.
