Los Angeles blanks Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Los Angeles goalie Mario Lessard stopped 26 Pittsburgh shots last night as the Kings beat the Penguins 4-0 in a National Hockey League game.

Widens lead in Norris Division.

The shutout was the fourth this season for Lessard and gave the Kings a fourpoint edge over the Penguins in the battle for second place in the league's Norris Division. Montreal is far ahead in first place.

There is only one game left between the two teams this season. However, the Penguins have two more scheduled games than Los Angeles before play

After a scoreless first period, Marcel Dionne put the first Los Angeles point on the board at 3:59 of the second period. He Glenn Goldup scored next at 4:10 of the last period when he picked up a loose puck and skated in alone to beat Millen from 15 feet.

Just 59 seconds later, Syl Apps drove a rebound off the board behind the net past Millen for the game's third goal. A breakaway by Butch Goring with a little more than a minute remaining ended the Los Angeles failed to capitalize on two scoring opportunities in the first period. Dionne ended a partial breakaway with a shot wide of the goal and Apps later shot the puck wide of an empty net.

The Kings skated off four Pittsburgh power plays, including one at the start of the third period with Los Angeles. leading 1-0. Goldup was called for cross. checking at the 20-minute mark, giving Pittsburgh a man advantage at the start of the third period.

Lessard's shutout was jeopardized witht 2:50 left in the game. Pittsburgh's (9) Pete Mahovlich attempted to stuff the puck in the corner of the net, but Lesard, made a sprawling body save. Dionne, who had been held to just one assist in the first three games with Pittsburgh, had six goals and three. assists in the last four meetings between the two teams.

The loss ended a six-game home winning streak for Pittsburgh and extended Los Angeles' unbeaten streak to-

Hack Wilson, Giles named to Hall

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) - Hack Wilson, one of baseball's top sluggers in the era of Babe Ruth, and Warren Giles, who had an illustrious career as an adminstrator, were named posthumously yesterday to baseball's Hall of Fame.

They were chosen by the 18-member Veterans Committee, impaneled to review the careers of players bypassed by the Baseball Writers Association of America during their period of eligiblity and executives, umpires and Negro leaguers. Wilson, who played for the New York. Chicago, Brooklyn and Philadelphia National League clubs, was a heavy drinker who died broke on Nov. 23, 1948 at age 48.

Giles, who served as president of the National League for 18 years after successful operation of minor 'league franchises and the Cincinnati Reds, died Feb. 8 this year at age 82. He retired from the NL post in 1969.

Wilson and Giles were chosen from a list 20 players and officials who received votes. As in the regular Hall of Fame balloting conducted by the writers a 75 percent vote of the committee members was needed for election.

The two latest honorees will be inducted along with Willie Mays at the annual Hall of Fame ceremonies in Cooperstown, N.Y. Aug. 5. Mays was chosen earlier this year by the BBWAA.

Wilson was a standout hitter from the time he entered the major leagues with the New York Giants in 1923 until he closed his career with the Dodgers and Phillies in 1934.

In 1930, the hard-hitting outfielder slammed 56 home runs, had 190 runs batted — a major league record which still stands — and a .356 average. He had a lifetime batting mark of .307.

Burleigh Grimes, one of the legendary pitchers of the National League and a member of the Veterans Committee, recalled Wilson's batting prowess after the announcement.

"He was a short man, only 5 feet 6 inches and 190 pounds," Grimes said. "He was hard to pitch to and he had tremendous power. He was one of the most dangerous men I ever faced."

Giles, whose entire career was spent organizing and running baseball franchises until he became NL president, served as general manager of both the Syracuse and Rochester teams before moving to Cincinnati as president in 1936. Paul succedd him in 1951.

Giles is credited with helping develop such well-known managers as George Sisler, Burt Shotton, Billy Southworth, Eddie Dyer and Bill McKechnie.

The committee declined to reveal the. percentage of voting. Others who, received votes were Glen Wright. Cyclone Joe Williams, Charlie Grimm, Jimmy Dykes, Lefty O'Doul, Vic Willis, Jake Daubert, Chuck Klein, Johnny Mize, Wilbur Cooper, Biz Mackey, Ray, Dandridge, Fred Tenney, Freddy Fitz-: simmons, Urban Shocker, Babe Herman, Tom Yawkey and Walt Alston.
