Oriole Billy Smith slides back to first as a wild throw gets by Pirate first baseman Willie Stargell in the first inning of the World Series last night in Baltimore. The Orioles took a five-run lead in the first, then held on to win, 5-4.

DeCinces homer sparks victory

BALTIMORE (AP) — Doug DeCinces tied two World Series records, one good and one bad, but the Baltimore Orioles third baseman felt he came out ahead.

After slamming a two-run homer in his first World Series at-bat to cap a five-run first-inning burst last night, DeCinces made two errors in one inning, enabling Pittsburgh to score two unearned runs in the sixth.

It was the 15th time in World Series history that a player has hit a home run on his first at-bat. And the two errors in one inning tied a record set by Harry Steinfeldt of the Chicago Cubs in 1910.

"Just say I had a big, important part in the game," DeCinces said. "I knocked in two runs and helped them score two. I was happy the ball hit over the game."

There were two out in the eighth, and Willie Stargell had hit a home run to pull the Pirates within 5-4 — what turned out to be the final score. DeCinces lost a high hopper by Phil Garner in the lights, and the Pittsburgh second baseman reached with his third hit of the game.

A pinch single by Rennie Stennett sent Garner to third before winner Mike Flanagan retired Omar Moreno on a called third strike. Moreno also had flied out with the bases loaded in the sixth.

"I made some good pitches to Moreno when I had to," Flanagan said. "I faced him in the minors and he was one of the few players I knew something about."

Flanagan threw 138 pitches and 100 of them were strikes. The number of pitches caused some concern for Manager Earl Weaver about the left-hander's ability to come back in Game Five.

"It will be tough for him to come back on three days rest now. I'll have Steve Stone ready," Weaver said.

Birds' 5-run first inning sets record, sinks Bucs

BALTIMORE (AP) — No team in the 76-year history of the World Series has scored more runs in the first inning of an opening game than the five scored by the Baltimore Orioles last night against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

But it almost was not enough.

That hardly surprised Doug DeCinces, whose two-run homer capped the big inning for the Birds.

"We didn't want to stop," he said. "We knew who we were playing. They can put runs on the board in a hurry."

Mike Flanagan noticed. The Orioles' left-handed pitcher survived a series of Pittsburgh comebacks that included a Series record-tying four hits by Dave Parker and a towering home run by Willie Stargell. The Orioles finally hung on for a 5-4 victory in the rain-delayed opener of the best-of-seven series.

Rick Dempsey, Flanagan's catcher, figured the early five-run bulge might cause some problems for his pitcher.

"He becomes erratic with a big lead," Dempsey said. "I tried to get him to throw the same as he would with a one-run lead — to keep it in and to keep it down."

Before he was through, a one-run lead was all Flanagan had left against the Pirates, and the right run was on third base with Stargell at bat.

How did the Orioles southpaw, the winningest pitcher in the major leagues with 23 victories during the regular season, face this crisis situation with the game hanging in the balance and Stargell having clubbed a huge home run in his previous swing?

"I didn't want to give him anything slow, anything he could get the bat head out on," he said. "I reached back for whatever I had left. I tried to put something on the ball."

He succeeded, getting Stargell on a pop up to end the game. The runner he left stranded was the 10th one in this game of missed opportunities for the Pirates.

Perhaps the most important misses came in that big Orioles first inning when the Pirates could have escaped damage on a couple of double-play balls that they failed to turn over. Eventually, they paid the price on this frigid, damp night.

The Orioles started fast with leadoff man Al Bumbry dumping a first-pitch single to left field against Pittsburgh starter Bruce Kison. Mark Belanger, who batted only .167 during the regular season, walked on four pitches. With Baltimore's power coming up, Kison was in trouble.

He almost escaped by getting Ken Singleton to hit a comebacker. But in his anxiety to turn the double play, Kison bobbled the ball and had to settle for getting the batter at first. Bumbry and Belanger advanced to second and third.

Pittsburgh played its infield back, except at third base, hoping to choke off the big inning. And after cleanup man Eddie Murray walked on a 3-1 pitch, the strategy very nearly worked.

John Lowenstein ripped a perfect double play ball to second baseman Phil Garner. But Garner had trouble getting the ball out of his glove, then threw it far over shortstop Tim Foli's head for an error.

Rattled by the error, Kison then unloaded a wild pitch, allowing Murray to score the third run of the inning. The wild pitch came on Kison's delivery to DeCinces. Two pitches later, the Orioles third baseman unloaded a long homer.

The Pirates started a rally of their own over the next eight innings that was capped by Stargell's home run — but the drive fell a run shy.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

FALL TERM 1979

Final examinations may be given only during the special final examination period at a time and place assigned by the Office of the University Registrar. For the Fall Term 1979, that special final examination period will begin at 8:00 a.m. on Tuesday, November 13, 1979 and will end at 11:00 p.m. on Friday, November 16, 1979.

Final examinations are 110 minutes in length. Final examinations will be set according to a predetermined schedule. No changes in the meeting periods of final examinations will be authorized.

No examinations except quizzes and very limited scope tests are to be given during the tenth week of the term. All Undergraduate (including 400-level, but excluding laboratory) courses are to give a final examination except where a viable alternate (e.g., term paper, final project report, studio project, take-home examination) is used. In the latter case the alternate cannot be required to be submitted earlier than the first day of the final examination period.

The final examination need not be comprehensive but must be given during the final examination period. Only "quizzes and narrowly limited tests" are allowed in the tenth week of the term and cannot be precisely defined although such examinations should cover less than two weeks work, should be shorter than a 75-minute period, and should count less than 20 per cent of the final course grade. A full discussion of the interpretation of this part of the policy was given in a letter from the Senate Officers to all faculty members on December 7, 1976.

FILING FOR CONFLICTS

Any student with two final examinations at the same meeting period or with three or more such examinations on the same day of the four-day final examination period should file a request for a conflict examination at the Office of the University Registrar, Room 110 Shields Building, between the date of publication of the final examination schedule and Friday, October 19, 1979. A conflict examination will be scheduled in either case. After 5:00 p.m. on Friday, October 19, 1979, the fee for filing a late conflict examination request is $10.00.

For purposes of final examination schedules, a day is defined as the period between 8:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m.

The conflict final examination schedule will be published on or about Thursday, November 1, 1979.

FINAL EXAMINATION PERIODS

The interpretation of the time designations used in the final examination schedule is as follows:

T — Tuesday, November 13, 1979
W — Wednesday, November 14, 1979
Th — Thursday, November 15, 1979
F — Friday, November 16, 1979

8:00 — 8:00 a.m. to 9:50 a.m.
10:10 — 10:10 a.m. to 12:00 noon
12:20 — 12:20 p.m. to 2:10 p.m.
2:30 — 2:30 p.m. to 4:20 p.m.
4:40 — 4:40 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.
6:50 — 6:50 p.m. to 8:40 p.m.
9:00 — 9:00 p.m. to 10:50 p.m.

The time and place of the final examination for courses listed "Appt" (by appointment) will be arranged by the instructor at a mutually convenient period, but in no case in conflict with any regularly scheduled final examination on a student's schedule.

Instructors will announce room assignments for courses designated "See List."
