

Russia defers SALT II talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia is refusing to discuss SALT II even though the pact requires Moscow to dismantle more than 250 missile launchers by next Jan. 1, U.S. sources disclosed yesterday.

Government sources said the Russians probably should have started the dismantling process already if they plan to meet the deadline as promised.

The treaty requires the Russians to limit their arsenal of intercontinental rockets and bombers to 2,500 by next January. Since they have 2,504 of these, they must eliminate 254 older systems.

The United States, having fewer missiles to begin with, already is in compliance with the provision.

Coliseum bans festival seating

CINCINNATI (UPI) — General admission seating will be banned when the rock group ZZ Top performs tomorrow night in the first concert at Riverfront Coliseum since 11 persons died in a human stampede at a concert by The Who last December.

"We're coming to play our music and I think everyone will have a good time," said band member Billy Gibbons.

Extra safety measures for the show include opening more coliseum doors and opening them less than 90 minutes before the 8 p.m. performance, a crack-down on smoking inside the arena and tight overall security. At least 28 doors and 16 turnstiles will be used, many more than at The Who concert.

Sartre suffering lung ailment

PARIS (UPI) — French existentialist philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre was hospitalized Thursday for emergency treatment of a lung ailment, French radio reported.

The radio said the 74-year-old writer became ill at home and was taken to Broussais Hospital for emergency oxygen treatment.

A hospital spokesman said orders from Sartre's family were that no medical bulletins on his condition should be issued. The friend added that Sartre's life did not seem in danger but he had trouble breathing and it was thought wise for him to receive hospital treatment.

The government radio said Sartre was stricken with pulmonary edema, which affects persons suffering from hypertension and cardiac insufficiency. Symptoms include filling of the lungs with fluid and continuous coughing.

Assistant 'trips' on drug bust

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Six Senate employees, including an aide to Sen. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., were arrested on Capitol Hill yesterday for possession and use of marijuana. A spokesman for Schweiker said his aide would be fired at once.

One of the six also was charged with possession of PCP, a chemical sometimes called "angel dust."

The Schweiker aide was identified by Capitol Police as Christopher J. Provost, 22, of Riverdale, Md., an $10,500-a-year mail clerk employed by the senator since December 1975.

Police said Provost was arrested in the senator's suite of offices on a warrant, and was in possession of marijuana at the time.

Rafters defy ominous Atlantic

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (UPI) — A former Dutch airline hostess and her boyfriend, claiming a record for a woman, completed a 67-day crossing of the Atlantic Ocean aboard a homemade raft yesterday, defying storms, shark scares and a fall into the sea.

"I thoroughly enjoyed the trip," said Margaretha Arens, 34, of Hilversum, Holland, Thursday. "But I don't plan to do it again."

Women have rafted across the Atlantic before as a group but record-keepers said this was the first known case of a single woman completing the crossing.

Margaretha and her Belgian boyfriend Fons Oerlemans, 41, of Antwerp, set sail aboard their 25-foot raft of wood and steel tubes from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Jan. 13 off the north coast of South America.

Strong winds and currents carried them to Barbados, a Caribbean tourist haven some 200 miles northwest of Trinidad. A Barbados coast guard vessel towed their raft Fons to Bridgetown Wednesday and the two decided they'd gone far enough.

Margaretha and her friend said 10 days into the journey they ran into stormy weather and high winds, then hit choppy currents that tossed Oerlemans off the raft.

He said Margaretha helped pull him back "with some effort."

Shares were a constant worry, the couple said earlier in a letter to UPI's New York headquarters.

Nursing permitted in fire hall

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (UPI) — Firefighter Linda Eaton, who gained national attention in her battle to breast-feed her infant son in an Iowa City firehouse, won her case yesterday before the Iowa Civil Rights Commission.

Eaton, an unmarried mother, was suspended in January, 1979, by fire officials who contended she flouted rules by breast-feeding her baby in the firehouse.

The commission unanimously ruled Iowa City officials discriminated against Eaton. The panel significantly increased the amounts of awards recommended for her by a hearing examiner.

"This is a beginning of dealing with this kind of situation," said Commissioner Alfredo Parrish. "When females begin working in positions that were traditionally assigned to males, problems like this automatically exist."

The five commissioners present increased Eaton's awards from $500 to $2,000 in compensatory damages, plus $165.12 in back pay. They also increased the amount of attorney's fees to be paid by Iowa City for Eaton from $16,764 to $26,442.

McOlson, Eaton's attorney, said Eaton's demonstration she could breast-feed her baby at the station without incident for more than a year is what won the case.

The commission agreed with hearing examiner William Stanberry's finding that Iowa City officials used an obscure rule against allowing visitors in the firehouse as a pretext to keep Ms. Eaton from breast-feeding her son.

Iowa City officials may appeal the commission's decision within 30 days to the state district court in Johnson County.

Kansas City courtroom a 'slaughterhouse'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A judge defense attorneys claimed was creating a "slaughterhouse-type atmosphere" in his courtroom yesterday jailed 62 more firefighters for violation of his Christmas Eve edict banning strikes against the city.

Circuit Court Judge Laurence Smith showed no more sympathy for the strikers than he did for 16 fellow firemen who appeared for judgment in his courtroom the day before.

Smith calmly convicted all 78 of criminal contempt of court for abandoning their jobs Monday in protest of the city's refusal to rehire firemen dismissed in a 1979 job action.

Each received 20 days in jail and was ordered to pay $620 — a $300 fine plus $16 a day for the duration of their incarceration.

Late yesterday, however, Smith overturned the convictions of six firefighters — including four sentenced Wednesday — and released them from jail.

Union attorneys claimed the six men had not been on duty when the strike began Monday and therefore were not guilty of abandoning their posts in an illegal strike.

When the verdicts were announced, numerous firefighters yelled obscenities. Some defendants raised their hands in a unity salute as they were led toward their cells.

"I'm concerned about this slaughterhouse-type atmosphere we're portraying not only to the city but to the nation at large," union attorney James Lyons said in court.

Across town, three veteran firefighters, two of them participating in the illegal strike, were charged with arson for allegedly starting at least four grass fires.

Edward Phillips, 40, and Frank Tierney, 33, were arrested late Wednesday as they fled in a van from three grass fires. Dalton W. McNoob, 48, who told officers he had recently retired from the force, was arrested earlier in the day near the scene of another large grass and woodland fire.

All three were charged with "committing a class D felony by damaging the property of another by burning" and released on bond.

Fire department officials said numerous city personnel had volunteered to operate as firefighters during the crisis, including a large number from the Public Works Department.

Former mental patient charged with stealing baby

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A baby girl stolen from her mother in a maternity ward was found unharmed yesterday in a Knoxville home and police took into custody a former mental patient who had longed for her own child.

Police identified the suspect as Hilda Jean Lawson, 26, a former patient at mental health centers in Knoxville.

Miss Lawson was charged with kidnapping. Detective George Hipshire said she would be held under $100,000 bond.

The infant, 5-day-old Erica Elaine Adams, was taken from her mother Wednesday afternoon by a woman posing as an employee at Knoxville's University Hospital.

Sheriff Joe Jenkins said Lawson's boyfriend, Freddy Bennett, 19, had also been taken into custody, but was released after officials learned he had no knowledge of the affair.

"She had been telling him she was pregnant and he believed her," said Hipshire, calling it the most "bizarre and interesting" case he has seen in his 20-year career.

"She told him she went to St. Mary's (Hospital) and had the baby. She said for eight or nine months she'd been gathering up baby clothes."

Hipshire said the woman told him "she didn't care what kind of baby she got, just so she had one."

The baby was reported in excellent condition following an examination by a team of physicians at the hospital, where she was reunited with her mother, Connie, and father, Steve. Authorities said the couple was delighted to have their infant back, but they refused to talk with newsmen.

The 22-year-old Mrs. Adams was nursing the infant Wednesday when a young woman entered the maternity ward of the hospital, offered to change the baby's diaper, left the ward with the baby and never returned.

Authorities said they had been tipped by Lawson's family that she might have the baby.

COLLEGE SURVIVAL

THERE'S GOT TO BE A BETTER WAY!

There is. One free Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics lesson will prove it to you. Today take the free Reading Dynamics lesson and you can dramatically increase your reading speed in that one free lesson.

Why let the responsibilities that college demands deprive you of enjoying the college life? With Reading Dynamics you can handle both—all the reading you're expected to do and know, plus still have time to do what you want to do.

Today you can increase your reading speed, dramatically at the free Reading Dynamics lesson. You've got nothing to lose but a lot of cramming and sleepless nights. Reading Dynamics. Now you know there is a better way. Take the free lesson and kiss your "No-Snooze" goodbye.

SCHEDULE OF FREE LESSONS

Nittany Lion Inn
University Park

Friday, March 21	4 p.m./7 p.m.
Saturday, March 22	12 noon/4 p.m./7 p.m.
Sunday, March 23	12 noon/4 p.m./7 p.m.
Monday, March 24	12 noon/4 p.m./7 p.m.
Tuesday, March 25	12 noon/4 p.m./7 p.m.

EVELYN WOOD READING DYNAMICS 1978 Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics, Inc.

College group selects Reagan

Republican Presidential candidate Ronald Reagan won a mock Republican convention held by the Mid-Atlantic Collegiate Republican Council last weekend in Harrisburg.

Reagan won the mock convention with 42 percent. George Bush had 37 percent and John Anderson had 21 percent, said Richard Santorum, 121th-political science, convention chairman.

Regional officers were also elected at the convention. John Brown of Franklin and Marshall College was elected to replace Santorum as chairman for 1980.

The officer selection session. Speakers representing each candidate answered questions from the floor.

"There were eight delegates from Penn State," Santorum said. "We had a draw vote here (at the University) in February where we apportioned delegates, so that there were six delegates for Bush, one for Reagan and one delegate for Anderson."

When asked if he thought the results of the mock convention were indicative of Republican sentiments at college campuses across the state, Santorum said Bush would win on most campuses because Anderson is not on the Pennsylvania ballot.

"There is absolutely no question that Anderson would win if he was on the ballot. He is extremely attractive to students," Santorum said.

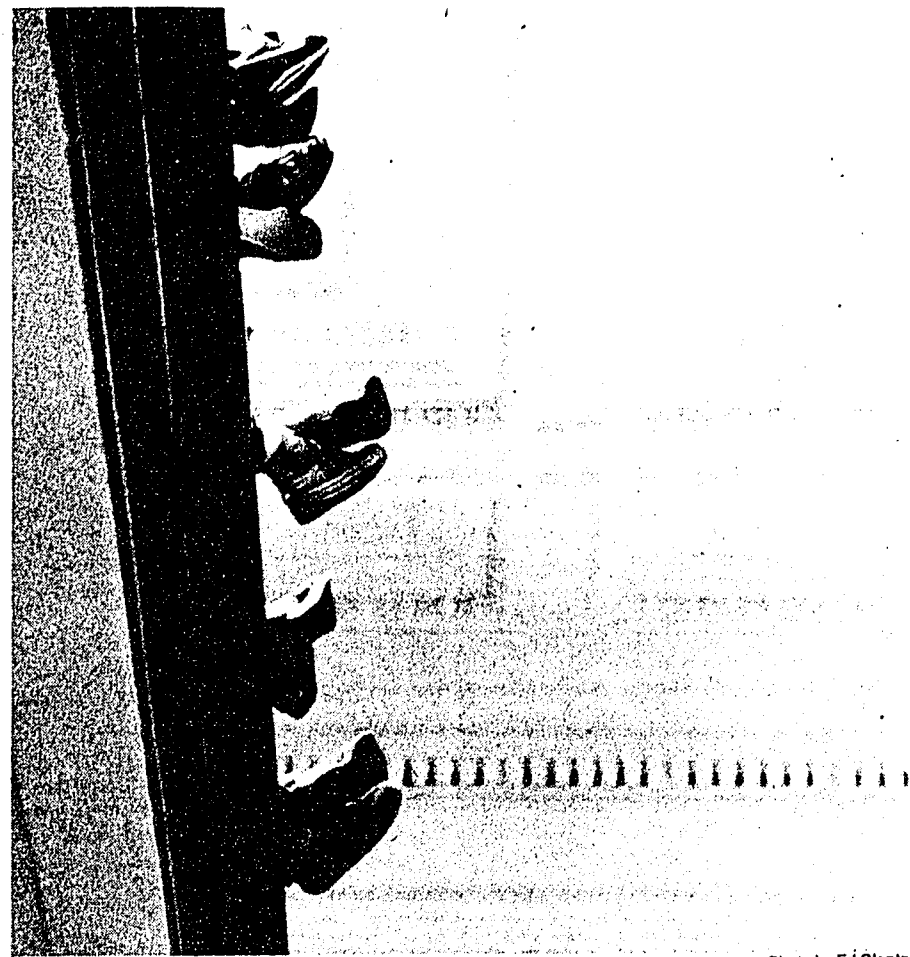

The Anderson for President Committee signed up about 100 people during Spring Term registration to help with Anderson's write-in campaign in the state. Because Anderson is not on the state ballot, Santorum said, he will have limited success with Pennsylvania electors.

"Reagan would do well with the people that he has done well with in the past," Santorum said. "He'll get a solid 20 to 25 percent of the vote. Thirty-five or 40 percent would go to either Bush or Anderson."

There are 34 College Republicans clubs in Pennsylvania. The clubs provide seminars to train students in campaigning, fund raising, and organizing campaign committees at the campus and local level.

"It (College Republicans) is one of the largest volunteer college organizations, with about 100,000 members," Santorum said.

—Stacey Fleckenstein

Foot Sore
Like birds on a telephone line, some students in mechanical engineering 22 use the balcony railing in Schwab Auditorium as a footrest during class.

Farr to speak today about gender identity

JoAnn Farr will speak on "The Problems of Gender Identity" today at 2:30 in the HUB Assembly Room. The program is sponsored by Homophiles of Penn State.

Phi Mu sorority will contribute pennies to its Alpha Memorial Fund at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Phi Mu suite, 2 Hiester Hall, as part of its Founders' Day observances.

The Alliance Francaise and the Department of French will present a concert of French chamber music tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the Music Building recital hall. General admission is $3 and student admission is $1.50. Tickets may be purchased at the School of Music office, 222 Music Building, or at the door.

The Penn State Fencing Club will sponsor a novice fencing meet Sunday at 1 p.m. in 32 White Building. Competitions will be in men's and women's foil. For information call Chris Murray, 238-7288.

Food from Latin America, Africa, India, Puerto Rico, and American soul food will be served at the International Banquet Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Paul Robeson Cultural Center. The dinner is sponsored by Black Caucus.

Allen Horvath and Marengo will perform at the Commonsplace Coffeehouse tonight at 8 in 102 Kern. The coffeehouse is free and open to the public.

The Penn State Astronomy Club will hold an open house tonight at 7:30 on the sixth floor of Davey Lab.

Today is the last day to submit logos for Movie 'On at the Association of Residence Hall Students office, 20-A HUB. The winning logo will receive a $25 prize.

The Penn State Frisbee Club will host an ultimate frisbee tournament tomorrow at 1 p.m. in gym three of the Intramural Building. Spectators are welcome.

Interlandia Folkdancing will meet tonight in the HUB Ballroom. Teaching will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m., and requests will be taken from 9 on.

The Badminton Club will meet Sunday from noon to 2 p.m. in the north gym of White Building. Dues will be collected.

THE STUDENT DIETETIC ASSOCIATION PRESENTS:

NATIONAL NUTRITION WEEK

The following organizations will have tables set up in the HUB Ballroom on Friday, March 21st, 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m.

- Nutrition Information and Resource Center
- Women, Infants and Children
- Extension Service
- American Heart Association
- Free-U-Vegetarians
- Weight Watchers
- Bread for the World
- Head Start
- American Home Economic Association
- Student Dietetic Association

THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED.

What happened while you were out?

the daily Collegian

TENNIS PLAYERS! Due to the recent bad weather...

SAS IS EXTENDING THEIR SALE!

Let SAS provide you with all the tennis equipment you'll need this Spring. You'll find fantastic savings on tenniswear and equipment. Hurry in today while supplies last. Remember, shopping on two levels.

- 30-50% OFF ALL TENNIS CLOTHING
- IM MULTIPURPOSE SHOES In Leather reg. 24.98 now $16.98
- ALL TENNIS SHOES IN STOCK 20% off
- SLAZENGER TENNIS RACQUETS Personal Orantes Signature reg. $35 now 12.98
- PENN TENNIS BALLS $2.50 a can
- ALL OTHER TENNIS RACQUETS IN STOCK 20% off

Tennis Stringing at the lowest prices! M-F 9:30-8:30 SAT. 'till 5

CASH AND CARRY SPECIAL

DAFFODILS 1.22 bunch

WOODRING'S FLORIST 145 S. ALLEN

Quintessence tonight at THE SALOON 101 HIESTER ST.

THE STUDENT HEARING COMMISSION

THE UNIVERSITY HEARING BOARD

&

THE UNIVERSITY APPEALS BOARD

NEW MEMBERS

APPLICATIONS: Area Coordinator's Office and HUB Desk
DEADLINE: March 25
QUESTIONS? Call Dave — 865-0097