K. C. firemen return to work
 KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Firefighters trooped back to their stations yesterday after voting almost unanimously to end a six-day strike in exchange for the rehiring of 42 colleagues who had been fired for an earlier job action.

"We're staffed at about 90 percent strength," said Deputy Fire Chief Roger Corwell at midnight yesterday. "We're shuffling some displaced equipment around right now, trying to get all the equipment back into the proper engine houses."
 Meanwhile, 71 firefighters jailed last week for defying a court order barring a walkout waited for completion of paper work to set them free.

Hebron settlement approved

JERUSALEM (AP) — In a decision likely to complicate already-stalled Palestinian autonomy negotiations, the Israeli Cabinet voted yesterday for the first time to let Jews settle in an occupied Arab city.
 The cabinet approved by an 86 vote, with three abstentions, a proposal to establish two schools in which Jewish students would live full time in the Arab city of Hebron on the West Bank of the Jordan River. The settlement would be approved by the Israeli Knesset in the next few days. Opponents of the settlement plan said they would appeal the vote to the Foreign Affairs and Security Committee in the Israeli Parliament. Prime Minister Menachem Begin agreed to delay action until the committee meets.

Bruno investigation continues

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police continued to search for the murderers of reputed organized crime boss Angelo Bruno, while his grieving family made funeral arrangements for the victim of the gangland-style shooting Friday night.
 The investigation into the shotgun slaying has been hampered by the lack of cooperation from his family and associates, police said.
 Organized crime experts from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and New Jersey's State Commission of Investigation met with Philadelphia police Saturday to coordinate the murder investigation, according to a report in The Philadelphia Bulletin. A spokesman for the FBI said yesterday that the organization is involved in the case, but declined to say more.

Afghan rebels seek assistance

By United Press International
 Afghan rebels fighting the Soviet-backed government in Kabul appealed yesterday for urgent assistance to prevent a possible resistance to Soviet occupation forces from total collapse.
 The appeal by the Hiba Islami group was backed by other rebel sources, who said that massive Soviet reinforcements to back a spring offensive against the rebels threatened to end all resistance to the Kabul government.
 The rebels did not elaborate on how much aid they needed, but they estimate the total number of Soviet troops in Afghanistan has increased by about 20,000 to more than 100,000. The appeal was also the first in

Shah is transported to Egypt

By the Associated Press
 Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi left Panama for Egypt yesterday, a move that Iran's revolutionary regime has said will delay the release of the American hostages in Iran.
 Iranian officials were not available yesterday to comment on how the development would affect the approximately 50 Americans who have begun their 21st week as hostages.
 But Iranian Foreign Minister Saideh Ghotbzadeh said Saturday that moving the shah from Panama would delay any possible release of the hostages. He attributed the plan to move the shah to former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and New York banker David Rockefeller.
 A Panamanian air force officer said the shah left at mid-afternoon aboard a chartered U.S. DC-8 bound for Cairo, Egypt. The report was confirmed in Washington by Zbigniew Brzezinski, security adviser to President Carter.
 Doctors have said the shah requires surgery to remove an inflamed and possibly cancerous spleen. Pahlavi also faced extradition proceedings in Panama.
 Attorneys representing Iran in its efforts to extradite the shah from Panama arrived in Panama City on Friday and said they planned to meet today's deadline to file evidence to support their case.
 White House adviser Hamilton Jordan arrived in Panama on Friday apparently to arrange the shah's departure.

Two nuclear plants shut down

By United Press International
 Equipment malfunctions were blamed for the shutdowns of two East Coast nuclear power plants yesterday, including a Connecticut plant that has gone off the line five times in the past five weeks.
 The Millstone II nuclear power plant in Waterford, Conn., shut down after a heater in its steam generating system malfunctioned, officials said.
 The other shutdown occurred at unit No. 1 of the Carolina Power & Light Co. Brunswick nuclear power plant in Southport, N.C.
 Officials said neither shutdown resulted in the release of any radiation outside the plant.
 Nuclear Regulatory Commission officer Warren Lyon said a tiny amount of radioactive steam did get out of the containment portion at the Brunswick plant and into the reactor building, but it was so insignificant that monitors on the air exhaust system did not detect it.
 Richard C. Lewis, the NRC's reactor operations branch chief in Atlanta, said the problem at the Brunswick plant began when CP&L workers were doing some work near the reactor that caused the recorder on the water level meter to become stuck at 35 inches.
 CP&L spokesman Mac Harris said the utility does not yet know when the problem would be corrected and the unit restarted.
 Tony Nericio, a spokesman for the Millstone II plant, said the problem there developed less than 12 hours after the plant had returned to full power after it was accidentally shut down on Friday.
 He said operators hoped to again return to full power sometime today.
 "The plant is stable. The operators are in the process of bringing it on line again. We expect to be at 50 percent power by 6 a.m. Monday."

Cluck to give report on marijuana

By LISA DOHNER
 Daily Collegian Staff Writer
 Marijuana may interfere with a child's learning and developmental processes, according to a recent report which Bill Cluck of Pennsylvania NORML plans to present to members of State College Informed Parents this month.
 Cluck, in accordance with the Penn State chapter of the National Organization For the Reform of Marijuana Laws, hopes to present recent marijuana statements compiled by the National Institute of Drug Abuse at the meeting of Informed Parents at Westley Parkway Junior High School on Sunday.
 The NIDA report, a "consensus on pot," says children and adolescents should not use marijuana since, "this is a crucial growth period and marijuana may interfere with learning and development."
 Cluck has formalized the report into an "open letter," and hopes that Informed Parents will relay the findings to high school students in State College.
 Cluck said Penn State NORML has been lobbying for the decriminalization of marijuana for persons 18 years or older since 1973.
 "This is a look at the other side of the issue, and it's not very pretty," he said.

Engineering dean to step down from position

By DIANA SIMS
 Daily Collegian Staff Writer
 Dr. J. Palladino has announced that he will step down from his position as dean of the College of Engineering as soon as his successor has been chosen.
 "Palladino said he is giving up the post he has held since 1965 in order to finish a book he is writing on nuclear reactor engineering, and to teach the methods his book describes in nuclear engineering courses.
 "The 62-year-old dean said he wants to give the University enough time to select another dean before he retires in 1982. The selection process could take almost a year, Palladino said.
 In a recent statement, University President John W. Oswald said Palladino should be commended for his role in expanding the programs offered by the College of Engineering and for helping the college to be one of the finest in the country. After a new dean has been chosen, Palladino will be named professor of nuclear engineering, Oswald said.
 Provost Edward D. Eddy will appoint a search committee for the new dean within the next month.
 Palladino received a bachelor of science degree and a master of science degree from Lehigh University in 1938 and 1939, respectively. He did graduate work in engineering at the University of Tennessee and in business and management at the University of Pittsburgh. In 1964, he received an honorary Doctor of Engineering degree from Lehigh University.
 Palladino came to the University in 1959 as a professor and head of the nuclear engineering department after 20 years with Westinghouse Electric Corp. While at Westinghouse, Palladino was in charge of reactor core design for the Nautilus Reactor, the Shippingport Atomic Power Station, and the Submarine Prototype Reactor, Mark I.
 As head of the nuclear engineering department at the University, Palladino was responsible for development and implementation of course work and graduate programs, and for research in nuclear engineering.
 Palladino is a former member of the Governor's Energy Council. While a member and chairman of the Pennsylvania Advisory Committee on Atomic Energy Development and Radiation Control, and the U.S. Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards.

Skaters raise $5,700 for local youth bureau

Rolling to the sounds of disco and more than 1,000 moving wheels, skaters in this weekend's first Sigma Nu Skate-A-Thon raised more than $5,700 for the Centre County Youth Service Bureau's Outdoor Experience Program.
 Seventy couples representing both Greek and independent divisions entered the 20-hour marathon, with 20 couples completing the event.
 "We're grateful to all who were involved, and we had a good time," said John Werley, chairman of the event.
 Winners in the greek division were Carl Vough and Joan Keenan, representing Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity. Independent winners were Patty and Ron Gvent representing Ray's Auto Repair in State College.
 Independents Greg and Lisa Campbell won the disco skate contest, and independent Alan Schut won the freestyle competition.
 "The fraternity did a good job and kept everything under control," said Corren Glover (6th-computer science).
 Many skaters complained that blinking lights and disco music made the marathon much more difficult. In addition, many suggested that the public should not be allowed to skate with the contestants next year.
 The Outdoor Experience Program offers various recreational opportunities to area youth, all in a fun and friendly atmosphere. It is entirely funded by private contributions, fund raising events and trip fees.
