Gold Medal Day will be 'educational, recreational'

The first annual Gold Medal Day, an event filled with activities geared for the needs of the mentally retarded, will take place from noon until 5 p.m. Saturday on the HUB lawn.

There will be volunteers participating with the handicapped in all the activities, which are educational as well as recreational, said Tim Fitzgerald, Volunteer Service Center director.

The event is sponsored by the Volunteer Service Center, in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Citizens and the Penn State. The motto for this year's event is: "Moscow eat your heart out."

Volunteers are needed and the event is open to anyone who wishes to take part, Fitzgerald said.

He said some of the activities scheduled for the day-long affair are: a tug-of-war, a sing-a-long, a parachute game, an obstacle course, a nerf-football game, races and dance instruction and competition.

The event is sponsored by the Volunteer Service Center, in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Citizens and the Penn State. The motto for this year's event is: "Moscow eat your heart out."

Police investigating forgeries

Two checks with forged signatures were passed to local merchants on August 5, State College police said.

A motor bill at the South Ridge Motor Inn, 1830 S. Atherton St., was paid with a $100 check bearing a forged signature, police said.

The same day, a customer at The Deli, 118 Heister St., paid a food bill with a $100 check, also bearing a forged signature, police said.

Police said the forgeries are under investigation.
