

Lady spikers ease by Laurentian

By BOB COYNE
Daily Collegian Sports Writer

The women's volleyball team exhibited both good and bad manners during its match last night against Laurentian University.

Penn State junior Ellen Crandall delivers a spike during Penn State's victory over Laurentian University last night at Rec Hall as freshman Patty Skandland (10) looks on.

"It was like the football team playing Colgate," Penn State coach Russell Rose said. "They're a young team and it's very early in their season—we're just much stronger than they are right now."

"Yes, it's very early in the Vees' season—last night's loss to Penn State was their first game. But Laurentian coach Chris Dussault was pleased with her team's performance."

"They're coming along better than I had hoped," Dussault said. "I think we showed more or less what we could do in the last game."

"The competition was tough for our first game. It's nice that (Penn State) can recruit. I wish I could do some of that."

Vee Valerie Weir was impressed with Penn State's play.

"They're a good hitting team and they're quick," Weir said. "When we came here we expected it to be high-caliber ball."

The Lady Lions (9-4) completely dominated every aspect of the game in coasting to victory. And with the eight-team Lady Lion Invitational coming up today and tomorrow at Rec Hall, Rose is not certain such dominance was desirable.

"There's definitely an opportunity for us to be flat tomorrow," he said. "But we're a pretty good team—we can be flat and still beat some teams."

"But we need to play well. I think we can and would expect us to win this tournament."

The tournament will begin tonight at 5:30 when the Vees take on George Washington, Penn State's first match is scheduled for 7 p.m. against Fairleigh Dickinson. The Lady Lions will also face Rhode Island tonight at 8:30.

Penn State will play one game tomorrow—at noon against West Virginia—before tournament playoffs begin at 1:30 p.m.

Lady keglers meet Maryland in opener

Improving upon last year's third-place finish at nationals was the easy, but women's bowling coach Don Ferrell said he thinks his team can do it.

The Lady Lions get their first chance to prove Ferrell right when they face Maryland tomorrow afternoon at Rec Hall in their season opener. They remain at home to meet Gettysburg Sunday afternoon.

Last year, the team's record was 17-1, and the Lady Lions were ranked third in the nation. Five bowlers return from last year's squad, while the remaining five squad members are freshmen.

"I think we're as good as or better than the year we won the nationals (1979-79)," Ferrell said. "We have depth, we have experience, and we have ability. Above all, we have good leadership."

Ferrell said this year as a "growing and maturing year" for the Lady Lions.

"They have been to the top every year," Ferrell said. "Our main concern is putting the group together. With this group, we can compete on a national scale for the next four years."

Team captain Liz Baude expressed optimism about the season, and said she believes the Lady Lions have a solid team.

"I think it's a better team and a younger team," said Baude. "I'm looking forward to starting the year off big."

Sophomore Audrey Hicher expressed similar views, but also pointed out that consistency will be a key factor this year.

"We have to be consistent as a team," Hicher said. "If we're consistent, I'm sure we'll do well. Overall, our team is going to be stronger than last year's team."

Other Lady Lions expected to compete include juniors April Long and Michele Citro, sophomores Jill Cowdrig, and freshmen Jeri Edwards, Karen Ellingsworth, Diane Novinger, Michele Organist, and Adriane Warwick.

Veteran men's bowling team hosts pair

The men's bowling team opens its season against Maryland tomorrow afternoon at Rec Hall. Team captain Jay Jacobson and Terry Sanson are looking forward to both matches.

Five bowlers return from last year's squad, which went 19-4 and was ranked 11th in the country. Three freshmen and two additional newcomers are expected to give depth to the squad.

In the five years I've been coaching here, this team has as much or more potential as the team that took third in the Nationals two years ago," said Ferrell.

JAMIE AND PHIL AGREE ON ONLY 1 THING

"STATE'S CHOICE"

"STATE'S CHOICE"

Jamie is the little guy on the right, and Phil... well, he's the other. They're both Penn Staters, and being students, they understand student needs.

For one thing, they know that campus fashions are a big issue this winter. And dressing right means running into large clothing bills.

So Jamie and Phil pooled their talents together, formed a partnership, and on October 13 they will celebrate their contribution to State College. "State's Choice" will offer all top-of-the-line clothing for men and women at prices you would expect to pay for seconds or irregulars.
