

2 hurt in bombing near U.N.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An explosion rocked the area around the United Nations yesterday, injuring at least two people, shattering windows and sending debris flying through the streets.

The blast occurred in a car parked across the street from the U.N. complex at the corner of 46th Street and First Avenue. The blast flattened the car, half demolished a Chevrolet parked across the street and blew out windows in nearby apartment buildings and offices.

Police said the explosion apparently

Jews attack neo-Facist group

RAMBOUILLET, France (UPI) — Militant Jewish youths armed with knives and clubs surrounded and attacked members of a neo-Facist group yesterday, injuring the head of the organization and one of his followers.

It was the second violent outbreak aimed at neo-Facists following the Oct. 3 bombing outside a Paris synagogue that killed four people and sparked a national outcry over a recent wave of attacks against Jews.

Police said Marc Fredriksen, head of the neo-Facist European Nationalist Organization (FNE), was stabbed in the leg. He and another member of the group were taken to a hospital for treatment.

The attack occurred when a group of about 30 Jewish militants sur-

Iran knew of war, paper says

ROME (UPI) — Iranian President Abolmoussad Bani-Sadr had copies of Iraqi attack plans against Iran 15 days before the Persian Gulf war began and was given a free hand by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini to confront the situation, an Italian newspaper said yesterday.

The Turin newspaper La Stampa said when Bani-Sadr became aware of the impending attack he informed Khomeini, who gave him carte blanche to override the religious leaders in the defense ministry and release scores of military officials and pilots arrested after the revolution, the paper said.

The highly respected paper, Italy's

Junta to try Turkish leader

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — National Salvation Party leader Necmettin Erbakan will be tried on charges of trying to turn Turkey into an Islamic republic, state radio said yesterday.

The military junta at the same time imposed a 7 a.m.-to-5 p.m. curfew for the purpose of taking a census, but it appeared security forces were using the opportunity to round up suspected terrorists.

Erbakan, 54, was released from military custody Saturday night pending trial.

His release came hours after former prime ministers Süleyman Demirel and Bülent Ecevit, who were not charged with any crimes, also were freed. The men were arrested when the military toppled Demirel's civilian government Sept. 12.

Erbakan, an Islamic fundamentalist with ties to Iran's Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, and six other

Reagan leads Carter, polls say

By United Press International

Polls and political campaign aides said yesterday that with just over three weeks to go before the Nov. 4 election, Ronald Reagan is leading the presidential race. President Carter runs a fairly close second and independent John B. Anderson is far behind.

But Anderson said it is Carter who is "out of it" and will become the spoiler in this election, and that he, himself, has an excellent chance to win when the voters must actually mark their ballots.

Neither Carter nor Reagan is reading Anderson's script. Nor are the takers of a new batch of statewide polls and national surveys published over the weekend.

White House press secretary Jody Powell said he thinks Carter is "probably still a little bit behind in the popular vote," but, said, "This is

Divers may have found Pinta

KEY WEST, Fla. — Two divers searching for sunken treasure believe they may have discovered more valuable than they ever suspected — Christopher Columbus' ship, the Pinta.

The Miami Herald reported yesterday that a 500-year-old tax report recently found in Spain suggests the sunken wreck could be the Pinta, one of the three ships in the Italian explorer's expedition to the New World in 1492.

The ship, which lies 30 feet below the surface, was discovered in 1977 by Key West treasure hunters Olin Frick and John Gasque while searching the waters off the Caicos Bank for ships to salvage.

Evidence is thin, but an iron cannon removed from the wreck appears to be the right age, and a lead cannon ball is vintage 15th-century, the Herald said. Spanish archives even suggest that the Pinta may have been

Hundreds trapped in Algerian city New tremors hamper aid workers

AL ASNAM, Algeria (AP) — New earth tremors shook the ruined buildings of Al Asnam yesterday, raising fears for the safety of rescuers digging frantically through debris to reach hundreds of victims still showing signs of life 48 hours after an earthquake devastated the city.

The president of the Red Crescent relief organization, Mouloud Belouane, said the death toll from the Friday quake could well exceed his earlier estimate of 20,000.

A big international rescue and relief operation was in motion and in every city Algerians set up donation points for food and supplies. Thousands lined up at hospitals and first-aid centers to donate blood — so many that Al Algiers had to call a temporary halt to donations there because it could not handle them all.

The rescue continued by floodlight throughout the night in this city located on a fault line 150 miles east of Algiers. Thousands of survivors moved to the outskirts of the city and slept in improvised camps or in the open. Only the luckier ones had army tents.

Outlying villages, particularly in the Dahra mountain chain between Al Asnam and the sea, were isolated by landslides and broken bridges. There were fears of heavy casualties in the rural areas.

The government said 25 percent of the buildings in Al Asnam were destroyed and a further 50 percent "more or less seriously damaged."

Belouane told reporters that "tens of thousands" were injured by the quake and there was a severe shortage of hospital beds and emergency operating equipment to care for them.

All but the most seriously sick patients were discharged from hospitals in Algiers, Oran and other cities to make room for victims.

Most of victims remained buried under masses of concrete and twisted steel and there was still no official casualty estimate. Among the buildings destroyed were a residential complex housing 3,000 people, the leading hotel and the city's main mosque — the quake struck during midday prayers on the Muslim day of rest.

All were built after an earthquake in 1954 wrecked large areas of Al Asnam, and killed more than 1,600 inhabitants. The League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva said 4,000 bodies were recovered by Saturday night. The figure was not confirmed in Algeria.

The Algerian army, air force and police deployed every available helicopter, whose pilots took serious personal risks to evacuate the injured to hospitals in other Algerian cities, the army said.

Only the psychiatric and maternity wards of the four-story government hospital in Al Asnam were left standing after the quake and many patients and nurses were feared dead.

Hundreds of victims were trapped in a huge low-cost housing complex built for people displaced by the 1954 quake. Convoys of cranes and earthmoving machines were still heading for Al Asnam but were slowed down by cracks in the highways caused by the earthquake. All telephone communications with the city remained cut.

The 1981 LaVie Yearbook. We're Full Of It.

And full of you.

We've dedicated La Vie 1981 to you. The student body. You're special. And we know it. So we designed LaVie 1981 to be bigger and better than ever. With 472 pages to capture every aspect of your life. Every second, every moment. Every smile, every frown. Your year in pictures.

With thousands of photographs, LaVie is full of life. Bursting with 48 color pages. We're full of seniors. Full of orientation and freshmen, tailgates and sophomores, homecoming and juniors. With 90 pages of Penn State sports and 160 pages of Penn State clubs, LaVie is full of spirit.

The year will pass by quickly. And time is too precious to miss anything. We don't want you to forget 1981. So take a minute and remember a year. Stop by the LaVie office at 206 HUB and order a yearbook. It only takes a $7 deposit on the $17 dollar price to insure you will never forget 1981. Isn't a year of your life worth it?

The Inexpensive, Classic Cut

We offer the classic haircut with blow-dry for men, Monday through Wednesday, for only $10; haircut alone for $7. Get the look today.

Scissor Wizards

143 South Fraser St.
Call 234-6090
Mon-Sat.

ENGINEERS, YOUR SHIP IS COMING IN.

It might be a nuclear sub or a billion dollar aircraft carrier. At the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, you can provide engineering support for the maintenance and testing of the most sophisticated technology in the world, with hands-on experience that will challenge your personal creativity, stimulate and enhance your engineering knowledge, and accord you a good measure of responsibility on important projects.

Our shipyard recruiter will be on campus on October 23, 1980. A General Information Meeting will be held on October 22, 1980.

Located in the Tidewater, Virginia area, the shipyard is surrounded by a vast array of recreational and cultural activities. Just minutes away, the resort city of Virginia Beach hosts water activities of all types and descriptions. Also, the shipyard is just a short drive from the Blue Ridge Mountains with its spectacular fall foliage and numerous winter ski resorts.

M. L. B. Austin
Code 170.3
Norfolk Naval Shipyard
Portsmouth, Virginia 23709
Call Collect: (804) 393-7340

Female body builders give demonstration

By ELAINE WETMORE
Daily Collegian Staff Writer

Amid catcalls and jeers, three nationally acclaimed female body builders entertained a boisterous crowd at Gatsby's Friday night.

In an hour-long demonstration, Betsy Barber, 27, Challis Hogwood, 26, and Elise Argue, 27, flexed and imposed their well-toned, bikini-clad bodies before an appreciative audience.

The body building demonstration began at 11 p.m. with the women performing a mock calisthenics routine, complete with barbells. "Gonna Fly Now," the theme from "Rocky," accompanied their jumping jacks and toe touches.

The group next posed in bathing suits, bringing most of the crowd to its feet. Many who were straining to see the stage stood on tables and chairs to get a better view.

During the demonstration, each woman also performed her own posing routine.

Betsy Barber is ranked third in the nation in women's body building. She placed third in the Miss Virginia Beach Contest this year and was the first runner-up in the Miss European Contest held in Virginia Beach.

A 1976 Penn State graduate, she has been lifting for four months and represents the Nautilus Fitness Center. Recently, she placed fourth in the Miss Tidewater Contest in Virginia Beach.

Elise Argue, also a representative of the Scandinavian Health Club, is a real estate agent who has been lifting weights for two years. Argue, who is also from Virginia Beach, placed fifth in the Miss Tidewater Contest this year.

The women's routines were acknowledged with whistles and catcalls, which evoked a negative response from the performers.

Barber told the audience that she and the others had driven eight hours to get to State College.

"I think that you would welcome us a little better than you did," she said. "Women's body building is not burlesque and it is not striptease. It is a sport."

Addressing the catcallers specifically, Barber said, "I can probably bench and squat more than you."

To give the audience an idea of what body building is all about and its history, Barber, Hogwood and Argue also performed skits representing women body builders in the past few decades.

"Body builders are the healthiest people in the world," Barber said later in an interview. "We eat the right foods and we take the right supplements."

Barber also said famous actresses like Marilyn Monroe were women body builders. She said body building may actually delay the aging process 15 years.

"Women body building is like an atomic bomb, it's exploding," Barber said. She said more and more women are realizing that weight lifting can only enhance their bodies.

It's calzone week

at the Round Pie Shop on College Ave.

Mon. — Spinach, bacon & mushroom calzone and small soda.....$2.25

Tues. — Marinated vegetable calzone and small soda.....$2.50

Wed. — Sautéed vegetable calzone and small soda.....$2.50

Hi Way PIZZA serving Pepsi-Cola

WANTED FOR DONATING PLASMA

DESCRIPTION: At least 110 lbs., good health, and interested in being a plasma donor to help provide critically needed plasma for the treatment of Hemophiliacs and other blood disorders.

DISTINGUISHING MARKS: All Blood Types

LAST KNOWN ADDRESS: Penn State University

AGES: 18 through 65

REWARD OFFERED $80 - $120 per month

It only takes an average 1 1/2 hours to donate!

Call: 237-5761

SERA TEC BIOLOGICALS

Rear, 120 S. Allen St.
Hours: Mon. - Thurs. 8 - 6:30 p.m.
Fri. 8 - 3:30 p.m.

Games raise $300 for hunger relief programs

Thirteen soccer teams, composed of students and members of the State College community, raised an estimated $300 this weekend to aid world hunger relief programs.

The benefit was sponsored by the University chapter of Bread for the World, a student lobby working to reduce world hunger problems.

The money will be donated to Christian Relief on Overseas Policy, which distributes money to various hunger relief groups, said Tricia Gabany, president of Bread for the World.

"CROP will see to it that the money is used for developmental assistance for hunger relief, such as supplying seeds, tools and agricultural training to disaster relief and refugee support groups," Gabany said. "The main reason for giving the money to CROP is that it will make sure that most of the funds go directly to people needing aid."

Gabany said each team contributed at least $20 for entrance fees, which it raised either by being sponsored or by making a flat payment. Additional sponsors and donations were accepted throughout the benefit, she said.

Although attendance at the matches was low, Gabany said she thought the benefit was a success.

"I'm very pleased with the response and I feel very good about how things went," she said.

Edward Marcinkiewicz (71th year), a member of Bread for the World, said all members of the group helped out with the benefit.

—by Margie Marron

Bandolino

fresh fall '80

barefoot

325 E. Calder Way • 234-8080
every weeknite 'til 8:30

GOLD & SILVER

MON., TUES. & WEDS., OCT. 13, 14, & 15

WE NEED 1,000 CLASS RINGS, AND WE WILL BE PAYING TOP REFINERY PRICES. PLEASE COMPARE.

GOLD	SILVER
CLASS RINGS	U.S. COINS
COINS	1964 & BEFORE
SCRAP	CLAD HALF DOLLARS
WEDDING BANDS	1965-1970
CHAINS	STERLING
BRACELETS	JEWELRY SCRAP

AT T's (THE COMPLETE T-SHIRT SHOP)

ON PUGH ST. NEXT TO THE RATHSKELLER & ABOVE NEW WORLD

237-2726