

Lankford, Souza pace thinclads

By PETE WALDRON
Daily Collegian Sports Writer

Men's track coach Harry Groves doesn't own a delicatessen. But after Penn State sandwiched the Colonial Relays at Williamsburg, Va., this weekend, winning the first and last events, weekend might begin to wonder.

In the first event of the meet, the 400 intermediate hurdles, the lions' co-captain Paul Lankford took top honors in front of North Carolina State's Pete Belztor. Lankford's time of 5:10 seconds qualified him for the NCAA championships.

"I am pleased with the way I performed," Lankford said. "Things seemed to go real smooth. I went into the race mentally prepared."

"I am glad the qualifying time is out of the way. I can relax now and enjoy the season — without having the qualifying worry hanging in the back of my mind."

Penn State's Paul Souza's seven-foot mark and first place in the high jump, the last event of the meet, put the top layer on the relay team.

Groves said he was pleased with the squad's first efforts.

"It was a good showing," he said, "but inconsistency hurt us a little bit — especially in the relays. We had some men who gave us their best and others who were not doing what was expected of them."

Penn State, Villanova, N.C. State and

Richmond were the dominating teams.

In the freshman 1,500 meter race, the Lions' Dwight Stephens finished third behind Villanova's Ken Luckas and Mark O'Sullivan, in 3:51.9. Freshman Dan Draper took second in the 10,000 unclassified in 30:33 as teammate senior Mark Hayward finished fifth in 31:27.

Penn State finished third in the championship distance medley. Lead leg Paul McLaughlin, Vernon Lucas, Gary Black and anchor leg John Ziskos, who recorded a 4:02 mile split, were the Lion four who finished behind Villanova and Richmond.

In the unclassified sprint medley, Tom Waluchek, Steve Phelan, Steve Black and anchor McLaughlin finished in 3:31. The 1,600 relay team of Mike Cook, Gary Black, Stephens and Ziskos took fourth in 16:57. And in the 400 relay, Lucas, Bruce Evans, Phelan and Lankford finished second with a time of 3:14 relay.

Lankford also finished third in 10-meter high hurdles with a time of 14.02. Villanova's Rodney Wilson took top honors in 15.77.

The Lions also had some impressive performances in the field events.

Sophomore Todd Shenk threw his personal best in the discus. His heave of 150-3 garnered him a fifth place finish in the event.

Lion golfers fall to 15th at Marshall Invitational

By KATHY ANDREWS
Daily Collegian Sports Writer

The men's golf team did not fare too well in the Marshall Invitational season opener this weekend at Huntington, W.Va., finishing 15th out of 18 schools with a score of 598.

"The schools we faced were more competitive and have had more practice," Penn State coach Joe Boyle said. "Most of those schools were in their fourth tournament."

In addition to the difficult competition, Boyle also said the faster greens of the Guyan Country Club course gave the team trouble.

Freshman Tom Bean, who shot a 79, 77 and a 79 in the three rounds, also agreed that the playing conditions affected his shots.

"The greens were faster, which made it tougher and also affected my putts and my chip shots," Bean said. "I hit the ball well but my score wasn't too good."

Boyle said that although Bean did well for a freshman and was consistent in his shots, he had trouble with his putting.

In the first round of competition with the other teams, Penn State was in a fairly stable position with a

Cooper takes Road Classic title

James Cooper won the third annual Competitive Edge 10,000 Meter Road Classic yesterday in a time of 30:56 and Karen Hollich was the first woman finisher in 38:19.

The race was sponsored by the Competitive Edge, a local business shoe store, WMAJ-TV, Coca-Cola and Regan and will benefit the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Citizens.

Cooper finished only four seconds ahead of second-place runner Matt Hagen in a tense race.

"With a mile-and-a-quarter to go, there was still a decent pack," said Cooper, a graduate student in meteorology. "So I surged at the top of the hill, and got rid of everybody, but Matt (Hagen); he stayed behind me about 100 yards. He'd go on the uphill, and I'd pull away on the downhill. Since the last half mile was downhill, I won."

"If I had started off a few seconds, he wouldn't have had me."

Owls thwart Lady Lion thievery

By TOM SAKELL
Daily Collegian Sports Writer

The women's softball team shut out visiting Temple 2-0 in the first game of Saturday's double-header, but failed to "steal" the second game, where it lost 3-2 in 13 innings.

The Lady Lions only had two hits in the first game, both in the first inning, but they were enough to score two runs. Rayne Yori, Penn State's ace on the mound, allowed only one hit in what turned out to be a pitchers' duel.

"I pitched all right, a lot of my stuff wasn't working," said the junior. "They hit my fast ball right to my infielders."

Temple pitcher Kim Gray also had an exceptional game. After giving up those two first-inning hits, she settled down and allowed only one Lady Lion to reach base for the rest of the game, via a walk.

Temple's one hit came in the fourth inning with two outs. Lady Owl Jan Williams was on second when Gray lined a single to center field. Williams tried to score, but center fielder Mary Ann Cremo nailed her at the plate with a strong throw. It not only ended the inning and saved a run, it was also the best defensive play of the first game.

The second game started out in typical Lady Lion fashion with Penn State scoring one run in the first inning off of Michelle Turk's triple. The Lady Lions have scored in each of their regular season games.

"I was trying to be aggressive in the first, second and third innings," said Yori. "We didn't take chances on the bases, and then play more conservative in the later innings."

Penn State pitcher Brenda Frey and the Lady Lion defense were able to hold off scoring threats to the pitcher and it didn't seem as if anyone was ready to steal.

"I didn't expect it," Davis said, "but I saw her coming out of the corner of my eye."

Habel, the third base coach, said he did not order the steal, which he thought was a good idea.

"She's (Cremo) got speed, and I give some of my runners license to steal," he said. "If she sees a move on the catcher or pitcher's part, I give her that chance. I still think she slid under the leg, but..."

Cremo was caught at the plate to end the 11th inning. From there, the game went downhill for the Lady Lions. Habel brought in Yori, the winner in the first game, to relieve Frey, who had thrown over 100 pitches in 11 innings. But the Lady Owls tagged Yori for the winning run in the 13th inning with Schleiter's RBI triple.

"I felt fine. I did want to come back in," Yori said. "I should have expected I would slow down after sitting out and then coming back in."

Penn State's split in this double-header puts the Lady Lions' regular season record at 2-2, while Temple is now 9-2.

Davis, Temple's workhorse pitcher, turned in an outstanding performance. She pitched 13 innings — a regulation game only goes seven innings for pitchers — and allowed only three runs and had 10 strikeouts. Surprisingly, she seemed to get stronger as the game went on.

"I love the pressure, I just kind of built into it," Davis said. "I've had other games in a Florida tournament, so I've been through this before."

"She (Davis) looked like she wasn't paying

Penn State's Christy Phillips (11) is tagged out by Temple catcher Dawn Schwenke as she attempts to steal home in the 13th inning of the Lady Owls' 3-2 win Saturday at Lady Lion Field. The Lady Lions won the first game of the twinbill, 2-0.
