

Booters win, bid's closer

By JEFF SCHULER
Daily Collegian Sports Writer
Yesterday's game with Lafayette was a crucial one for the men's soccer team. Not from the standpoint of winning the game, but from the standpoint of losing it.

The reason — the bids for the National Collegiate Athletic Association soccer tournament have not yet been announced, and the No. 11 Lions are playing it by ear to see if they will be in the chase for the title.

"This game could have had a bad effect on a bid — if we had lost," Penn State assistant coach Dave Bartels said after the Lions (15-4-1) stopped the Leopards (10-6-1) in Easton, 4-1.

"But there's no question that we should get one now. I'd be shocked if we didn't. Our play against the top teams (Long Island, Connecticut) should get us a bid."

But for 67 minutes, it looked like the game just might be a copy of last Tuesday's game with Lehigh, when the Lions went two overtimes before winning 1-0.

Freshman Gerry Moyer scored the first goal, turning a pass from Duncan MacEwan into his third goal of the year at 17:33. But five minutes later, Lafayette senior Bob Graney scored to tie the game at one.

And that's the way it stood for the next 50 minutes.

"We had some problems getting started," Bartels said. "They used the two-referee system, and some of the guys got confused. And we played on a bumpy football field (Fisher Field)."

"We played fairly conservative with a little too much dribbling; the temptation was to go one-on-one. And maybe there was a little bit of a lull after the UConn and Temple games."

But then, at 67:01, the Lions finally scored again. Pete Jobling did the honors, converting a pass from MacE-wan into what turned out to be the winning goal. Two and a half minutes later, Jeff Maerhofer scored Penn State's third goal off of a pass from Dan Canter, who got the final goal at 84:18 on a penalty shot.

"Once we started to click, their defense started to let down," Bartels said. "The farther away they got from the win, the looser they played."

Bartels said the Leopards gave MacEwan, who's been plagued by injuries all year, lots of room to operate at midfield. And in turn, MacEwan got more involved in the Lion offense than he has for a long time.

"He's still hobbling, and he got knocked a couple of times," Bartels said. "But he holds together the mid-field when he's in there. They gave him one or even if — the Bucknell game will be rescheduled."

Now the Lions sit tight until Sunday, when the bids are scheduled to be announced. And they're hoping they'll be journey-bound for the 1982 straight year. And as Penn State coach Walt Bahr said:

"I don't think that we're better than teams like Connecticut and Long Island — but I think we're as good as them."

CORNER KICKS: Lafayette statisticians had the Lions down for only seven (that's 7) shots on goal, and Bartels said the figure was "close. We didn't have too many strikes." Lion Doug Moyer lost his state record for goals in a season when Doug Ault of Washington Trinity High scored 63 in 21 games this year. Moyer scored 58 for Fleetwood in 1978. Still no word when — or even if — the Bucknell game will be rescheduled.

Now the Lions sit tight until Sunday, when the bids are scheduled to be announced. And they're hoping they'll be journey-bound for the 1982 straight year. And as Penn State coach Walt Bahr said:

"I don't think that we're better than teams like Connecticut and Long Island — but I think we're as good as them."

CORNER KICKS: Lafayette statisticians had the Lions down for only seven (that's 7) shots on goal, and Bartels said the figure was "close. We didn't have too many strikes." Lion Doug Moyer lost his state record for goals in a season when Doug Ault of Washington Trinity High scored 63 in 21 games this year. Moyer scored 58 for Fleetwood in 1978. Still no word when — or even if — the Bucknell game will be rescheduled.

Now the Lions sit tight until Sunday, when the bids are scheduled to be announced. And they're hoping they'll be journey-bound for the 1982 straight year. And as Penn State coach Walt Bahr said:

"I don't think that we're better than teams like Connecticut and Long Island — but I think we're as good as them."

CORNER KICKS: Lafayette statisticians had the Lions down for only seven (that's 7) shots on goal, and Bartels said the figure was "close. We didn't have too many strikes." Lion Doug Moyer lost his state record for goals in a season when Doug Ault of Washington Trinity High scored 63 in 21 games this year. Moyer scored 58 for Fleetwood in 1978. Still no word when — or even if — the Bucknell game will be rescheduled.

Now the Lions sit tight until Sunday, when the bids are scheduled to be announced. And they're hoping they'll be journey-bound for the 1982 straight year. And as Penn State coach Walt Bahr said:

"I don't think that we're better than teams like Connecticut and Long Island — but I think we're as good as them."

CORNER KICKS: Lafayette statisticians had the Lions down for only seven (that's 7) shots on goal, and Bartels said the figure was "close. We didn't have too many strikes." Lion Doug Moyer lost his state record for goals in a season when Doug Ault of Washington Trinity High scored 63 in 21 games this year. Moyer scored 58 for Fleetwood in 1978. Still no word when — or even if — the Bucknell game will be rescheduled.

Field hockey team happy for 2nd chance at AIAWs

By MARIA MARTINO
Daily Collegian Sports Writer
The field hockey team has been on an emotional rollercoaster this past week.

From the disappointment of being eliminated by Delaware in the first round of regionals to the relief of beating Princeton in double overtime in the consolation game, from anticipating receiving the at-large bid to go to nationals to being passed over in favor of Delaware, to winning an appeal and the bid after all — the Lady Lions have experienced it all.

So when they go to the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women national championships in Berkeley, Calif., next week, the defending national champions are determined to win.

"I think after all we've been through, there's not much that can stop us," freshman wing Lindsay Sheehan said. "We spent a lot of time thinking, waiting for the phone call (about the bid). We kept saying, 'Boy, if we get to go, we're gonna do it right.'"

"If we win three more games that'll be coach (Gilliam) Rattray's 100th victory. And we want to come home with the three victories and the national championship."

But to do so, Penn State will have to defeat Dartmouth in the first round at 11 a.m. on Thursday. Ironically, when the Lady Lions finally received the bid, they were seeded second, behind Eastern regional champion Temple. Penn State's 16-2-1 record is the best in the tournament.

"If you look at (Dartmouth's) record exclusively (9-6-1), you say 'Wow, this will be a walkover,'" Rattray said. "But you have to remember they're an Ivy League team and Ivies are tough. We barely beat Princeton in double overtime."

"On paper, we should beat them, but on paper we should have beaten Delaware. You can't discount any team that made it to the nationals."

Dartmouth impressively beat Harvard 2-0 and narrowly lost to Massachusetts, the No. 1 team in the nation, in the regular season.

"UMass belongs to the NCAA, unfortunately," assistant coach Susan McCoy said. "We'd love to play them. Temple will play Berkeley, also not a pushover, first. They played us in the finals last year."

"We'll play on AstroTurf and that's always an advantage for them because they've played on it all year. You have no excuses on turf. There's no grass for the ball to bounce off of. You have to concentrate a lot more and stay a lot closer to the ground."

AstroTurf will be one complication for the Lady Lions, but they've been practicing on it for two weeks to prepare for regionals and now for nationals. Rattray said they have been concentrating on support drills, such as throws, overtags and set pieces, because the players weren't providing the options for the ball carrier.

"We've been working on three and the give-and-gos because our 'turf game isn't as good as our grass game," co-captain Sue Rickards said. "But it's getting better every day."

"We're ready to work hard. We're going to prove that we belong there."

The loss to Delaware and their attempts to win the bid have intensified the Lady Lions' desire to regain their title.

"It's a real honor to go," goalie Vilma Cicchinelli said. "I'm really psyched. I make no excuses for Delaware. It was just a bad game. But when we got the bid, that really got our spirits up."

"The shots come at you a lot faster on 'turf and the passes are much sharper. I have to be a second quicker, just a little bit sharper. But I'll definitely take a team effort to win."

The Lady Lions are strong on teamwork and their tremendous depth has carried them this far. At nationals last year, substitutions figured heavily in their wins. This season, senior Jan Snyder spent most of the season recuperating from a second knee operation and split time with Sheehan at right wing. Snyder reentered her knee before regionals and will have to watch from the sidelines at nationals.

"That's really tough because she's a four-year starter," Rattray said. "She helped us when we needed her. She added that spark, that experience."

But Lindsay has played excellently and Barb Jordan played wing some against Princeton. We have such depth. No matter what 11 players are on the field, they all have confidence in the rest of the team. We just have a great team."

Penn State is even blessed with two excellent goalies in Cicchinelli and Lynn Matison, as well as the difficult task of choosing between them.

"Maybe if we could put them both in the nets, side by side, we'd really be unbeatable," Rattray joked.

But the Lady Lions don't seem to need that. As Sheehan said, "It really hasn't hit me yet, but after that ordeal last weekend, I can't think of anything that can stop us now."

This time the Lady Lions are climbing to the top and they have no intentions of coming down.

SIDELINES: Dick Schapp of ABC-TV is preparing a feature on captain and senior midfielder Candy Finn. A crew will also cover the Lady Lions' all-time top scorer at nationals. ABC expects to air the segment.

missed practice at the beginning of the week, but should be set for tomorrow. . . . Paterno isn't so sure about Kab. . . . ABC will televise the game regionally to the East and the South. . . . Bowl bids can be officially extended Nov. 21, although bowl officials may speak with the schools starting this weekend. . . . Farrell has been named as one of 19 nominees for the Lombardi Award, for the nation's top lineman or linebacker. . . . A "Beat Bama" pep rally will be held at 8 tonight at Frec Hall. The press box will be jammed tomorrow, with 185 writers and more than 400 total members of the media, including ABC.

Continued from Page 13.
The Tide has also been playing revolving quarterbacks of sorts. Alabama has three that have seen playing time and consultants a balanced triple threat, even though their passing statistics aren't that impressive. The starter has been Alan Gray (10-of-17 for 166 yards and two touchdowns), and he's backed up by Coley and Walter Lewis (21-of-46 for 412 yards).

"Each of them do something better than the other," Opat said. "One throws well, one runs well and the other one does a little bit of both, I guess."

"They can pass it. Really, they haven't had to. They've been so strong running, and they've been ahead (of their opponents) a lot. They haven't been forced to pass that much."

Paterno also said the three do everything well and it's hard to tell why Bryant substitutes one for another.

"Unless you're with a kid in practice every day," Paterno said, "it's tough to tell what one talent he has a little better than the other two have for a particular situation."

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

missed practice at the beginning of the week, but should be set for tomorrow. . . . Paterno isn't so sure about Kab. . . . ABC will televise the game regionally to the East and the South. . . . Bowl bids can be officially extended Nov. 21, although bowl officials may speak with the schools starting this weekend. . . . Farrell has been named as one of 19 nominees for the Lombardi Award, for the nation's top lineman or linebacker. . . . A "Beat Bama" pep rally will be held at 8 tonight at Frec Hall. The press box will be jammed tomorrow, with 185 writers and more than 400 total members of the media, including ABC.

Continued from Page 13.
The Tide has also been playing revolving quarterbacks of sorts. Alabama has three that have seen playing time and consultants a balanced triple threat, even though their passing statistics aren't that impressive. The starter has been Alan Gray (10-of-17 for 166 yards and two touchdowns), and he's backed up by Coley and Walter Lewis (21-of-46 for 412 yards).

"Each of them do something better than the other," Opat said. "One throws well, one runs well and the other one does a little bit of both, I guess."

"They can pass it. Really, they haven't had to. They've been so strong running, and they've been ahead (of their opponents) a lot. They haven't been forced to pass that much."

Paterno also said the three do everything well and it's hard to tell why Bryant substitutes one for another.

"Unless you're with a kid in practice every day," Paterno said, "it's tough to tell what one talent he has a little better than the other two have for a particular situation."

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

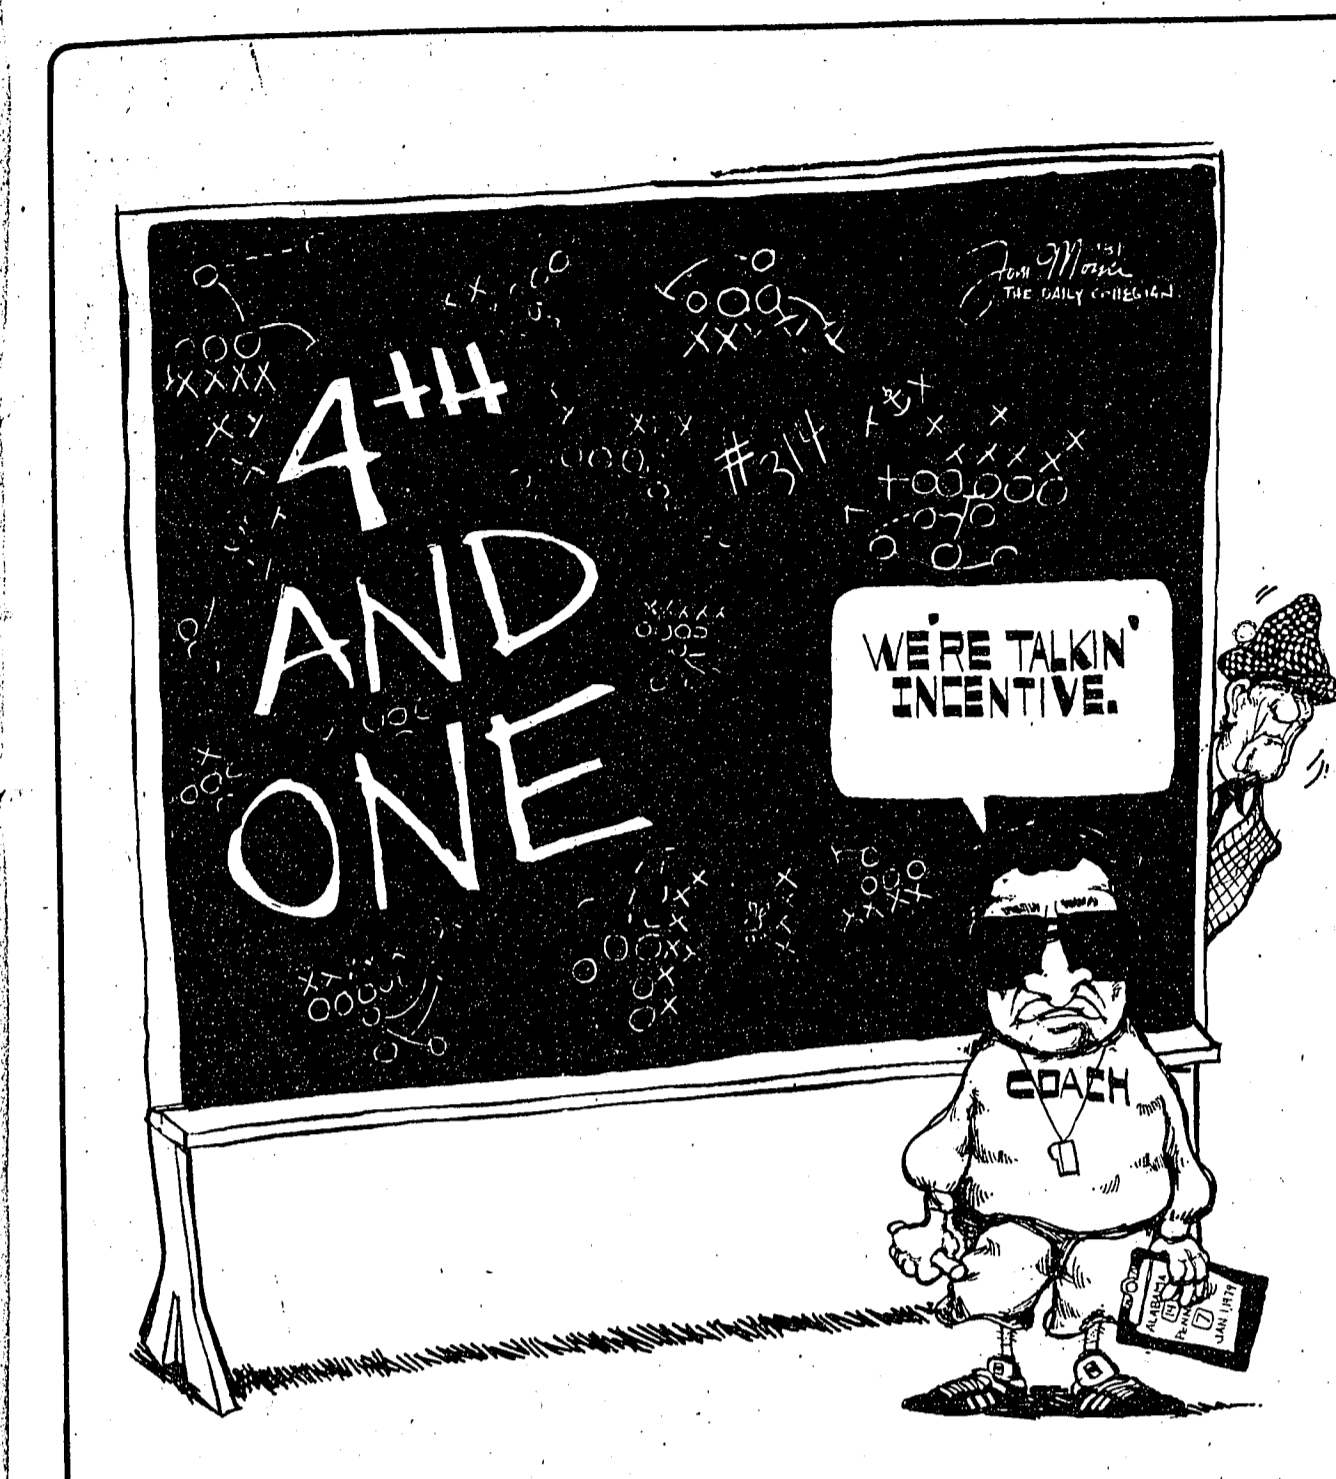

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

Tide overflows at quarterback

Continued from Page 13.
The Tide has also been playing revolving quarterbacks of sorts. Alabama has three that have seen playing time and consultants a balanced triple threat, even though their passing statistics aren't that impressive. The starter has been Alan Gray (10-of-17 for 166 yards and two touchdowns), and he's backed up by Coley and Walter Lewis (21-of-46 for 412 yards).

"Each of them do something better than the other," Opat said. "One throws well, one runs well and the other one does a little bit of both, I guess."

"They can pass it. Really, they haven't had to. They've been so strong running, and they've been ahead (of their opponents) a lot. They haven't been forced to pass that much."

Paterno also said the three do everything well and it's hard to tell why Bryant substitutes one for another.

"Unless you're with a kid in practice every day," Paterno said, "it's tough to tell what one talent he has a little better than the other two have for a particular situation."

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Little things are crucial

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

NOTES: Set Parlavacchio (bruised knee) and Sean Farrell (hip flexor) week after beating Mississippi State 31-10 the week before. And in the backs of the players' minds will be the fact that a win tomorrow will tie Bryant with Armos Alzomo Slagg for the most wins ever by a college football coach.

Maybe then Alabama will need a police escort away from Beaver Stadium.

Continued from Page 13.
In a game of this magnitude, any small edge could spell the difference, and there isn't any lack of intangibles — the colder Northern weather, reminders of the 1979 Sugar Bowl, Bryant's record chase — all of which mean basically nothing according to the players and coaches involved.

"We're just trying to keep things in perspective," defensive tackle Dave Opat said. "And as Joe always says, 'We'll take care of the little things, and the big things will take care of themselves.'"

They don't get much bigger than Alabama.

For YOU this weekend at The PHYRST. TODAY: RED ROSE COTILLION. HAPPY HOUR Double Feature 5 and 10 p.m. SATURDAY: The world's one and only PHYRST PHAMLY. "Ain't You Glad We Got A Saturday Night!!!"

Shop NOW at the HOUSE OF KASHMIR. Heavy Sweaters & Alpaca Ponchos $60 $39.99. We Also Have Quilted Jackets, Alpaca Skirts, Dresses, Gifts from all over the world! Now 25% off our already low prices! HOUSE OF KASHMIR 130 Calder Way (Pugh St. Parking Garage) 234-4403

Happily, not all beers are created equal. ERLANGER THE EXCEPTION. Erlanger Beer Co. Milwaukee, WI.

the daily Collegian. Wishes to Congratulate JIM ANICAS. For winning the Collegian Crossword Puzzle Contest. He wins dinner for two at a local restaurant. (Last one of the term)

LIONS PRIDE. SAVE 20% EVERLAST. Choice of Champions. skip ropes, speed bags, weightlifting belts, heavy workout bags, ankle/wrist weights, mouthpieces, handwraps, bag gloves, swivels. 114 EAST COLLEGE AVENUE DOWNTOWN, STATE COLLEGE 234-2153

COMMONSPACE COFFEEHOUSE. FRIDAY NOVEMBER 13 102 KERN 8:00 PM. It's Free Candlelight Atmosphere Live Musical Entertainment.

Live! On Stage. Gatsby's. SILENCERS. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13 Doors Open at 9 p.m.

GRAND OPENING! OF LAVIE'S GALLERY. The new gallery section of the yearbook. 9-16 pages of candid "PSU" photos taken by you. Top photos go into new section. Five top photos receive complimentary yearbooks. Stop by the HUB desk or 206 HUB, LaVie office for specification sheet!

Get Yours Now! Big 3" button $1 each 5 for $4. Bill's Buttons Box 122 Hershey, PA 17033 717-566-8991

Allegheny Women's Center. abortions, free pregnancy and related counseling. Mon-Fri 9-5 Sat 10-4 Call collect 412-362-2920

The Sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta are Proud to Announce our New Initiates. Maureen Henderson and Kerry Hoffman and our newest pledges Michelle Berilla and Elizabeth Tygard. Welcome To Our Circle of Friendship

Gatsby's. Saturday Night November 14. W.C. Billhick

Penn State BLUE BAND. BANDORAMA IV SATURDAY, NOV. 14, 8PM. Eisenhower Auditorium Admission $1.50

ST. PAUL'S UNITED METHODIST CHURCH. 250 E. College Ave., State College, PA 16801. Sunday Worship - 9:15 & 10:45 a.m. Students / Young Adults Class - 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Robert Fowler, Senior Minister preaching on "Relationships in the Church"

Golden Key National Honor Society members interested in giving campus tours Winter Term. Pick forms up in 201 Shields from Mrs. Wiles 865-5471. Deadline: Friday Nov. 13, 1981

RAPID TRANSIT SPORTSWEAR INC. BEAT BAMA BASH. Competitive Edge. FRIDAY & SATURDAY NOVEMBER 13th & 14th ONLY. 40% off all NIKE Sportswear. 20% off all NIKE Court Shoes. (Bruins, Blazers, Dynastys, Legends, Wimbledon, Racquettes, Lady Bruins, All Courts, etc. etc.) In Stock Only. Plus Preseason Specials on Tiger & Adidas Wrestling Shoes Plus Other Selected Special Sale Offers. OPEN Friday: 10:00am-8:00pm with Special Saturday Hours: 9:00am-8:00pm 115 S. Allen St. 238-3831

Need a ride home for break? Go USG all the way! Compare and save!

GREYHOUND				USG
ONE WAY	ROUND TRIP	ONE WAY	ROUND TRIP
PHILA 18.90	35.95	14.75	28.50
PITT 16.35	31.10	12.25	23.75
WASH 27.95	53.15	23.50	44.75
NYC 39.25	74.60	29.00	56.50

DEPARTURES				RETURNS
	18th	19th	20th	21st	30th	1st
PHILA	5:30	5:30	5:30	5:30	PHILA	7:00 pm
PITT	6:00	6:00	6:00	6:00	PITT	7:00 pm
WASH	—	—	—	5:30	WASH	7:00 pm
NYC	5:00	5:00	5:00	5:30	NYC	7:00 pm

STOPS
PHILA	PITT	WASH	NYC
King of Prussia Mall, Reading Terminal Downtown	David Weis in Monroeville, Heinz Hall Downtown	Hot Shop Cafeteria in Montgomery Mall, Springfield Mall	Rockaway Mall in New Jersey, Port Authority Bus Terminal in New York City

ALL BUSES LEAVE FROM THE HUB AND LOT 80 Tickets will go on sale November 12-20 from 9-3 at the HUB Desk. Make plans to get yours now!